More and better Wheat

For forty years farmers have proven that Royster Fertilizer grows more bushels of wheat per acre, makes plumper kernels, and more straw. Ask your County Agent, or the Royster Farm Service Department, what analysis to use on your land, and then insist upon Royster's to guarantee yourself the highest quality materials and manufacture. The name "Royster" on a bag is like "sterling" on silver.

Experiments by the Delaware Experiment Station showed an increase in yield of wheat from 11.5 bu. per acre without fertilizer, to yield of 28.9 bushels per acre with complete fertilizer. Fertilizer differs like seed potatoes. Insist upon Royster's to get the utmost satisfaction. F. S. Royster Guano Company, Baltimore, Md.
