Mr. Harris' Lecture.

THE following communication was intended by the author to appear in last week's issue, but failed to reach us in time. Its interest, however, is not materially lessened by the delay:

[COMMUNICATED.]

Messrs. Editors Kent News:

If it will not be too much tax upon you and crowd out other matter of more value to your numerous readers, allow a countryman but an attentive listener to the lecture of the Hon. J. Morrison Harris, to say what he thinks of it, at least what impressions it made upon him.

There was power—thrilling, convincing power—in the very first sentence: "The earnest man is the world's master." Well understanding the effect of such a thought such a sentence would convey, what a stirring of the human heart would be the result of such language, the lecturer immediately coupled with the above the declaration, "Paul was an earnest man. He achieved no empire—wielded no sceptre—led no armies; but the world rings with his name, and his record is immortal."

Here ended the argumentative, and sufficient as laconic. Next was the description of Damascus, which, without particulars, was one grand panorama of scenes still vivid to the mind's eye; "word painting" is too trite, too feeble for this; to rightly appreciate one must have heard it.

"If," said he, "'see Naples and die,' could be appropriately said by the dwellers in that fair city of the Mediterranean, with how much more force and exultation could the Oriental, whose vision drank in the wonderful loveliness of that Queen City of the East, say; 'See Damascus and then die.'"

Here let me pass over to the conversion of St. Paul, from which time he represented him as the great Apostle to the Gentiles—the ardent, zealous preacher of Christ at Antioch, at Lystra, at Athens, Rome and Jerusalem. The description of Paul before Agrippa must be admitted to be the master piece; there was a moral sublimity in it that still delights us. None other than Paul could have stood up in the presence of such a dignitary—before such authority—so vivid was the picture, that the very attitude, the earnestness and controlling spirit of Paul will ever ring out in that pearless yet respectful interrogatory—"King Agrippa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest."

The lecture was in every way a success. I have not seen so select, so large an audience as turned out to hear Mr. Harris in your town before. I must congratulate your citizens for their appreciation of such a literary treat, and I trust that this "inauguration" may be but the beginning of the good fruits of the labors of your Christian Association. As stated by the President the Association is based upon the authority: "We be brethren, sons of one Father,"—a sufficiently broad basis to embrace all the different religious elements. Your Association wins to it thro' its liberal views, the best talent of outsiders—to instance, your lecturer—you can never induce him to preach unless it be in behalf of the "human side," of religion, yet his service is invaluable. May your Association, your people continue in this truly Catholic and liberal enterprise until you shall have not only a suitable Library Room, but a spacious Hall where you may be ever ready to accommodate lecturers on scientific as well as moral subjects. I promise (tho' not of you) to be one on whom you may rely when such a lecture as you had last is expected.

RUSTIC.

Rural Retreat, March 19th.

THE PRESENT SCENE IN VIRGINIA.—The Richmond papers publish long lists of the appointments made by General Stoneman to fill vacancies occasioned by removals for political disabilities which have occurred in consequence of the resolution of the last Congress prohibiting any officeholder who could not take the test oath from exercising the duties of his office after the expiration of thirty days from the passage of the resolution, which would have been on the 18th instant, but was postponed by order of General Stoneman till the 21st instant. In the meantime, a resolution had passed the Senate of the present Congress postponing for thirty days longer the operation of the resolution, and had been reported upon in the House, but encumbered with amendments indicating a disposition to do nothing.—Accordingly, nothing was done, so that at the expiration of the time fixed by General Stoneman, on the 21st instant, civil business was almost or entirely suspended in many cities and counties of Virginia. On Monday last, several counties were without magistrates, constables or clerks. There could be no marriages for want of officials to authorize them; there were no officials to arrest and punish criminals, or collect State and county revenues, &c.—So that after four years of reconstruction, which have been endured with a degree of patience and order that has extorted the admiration of her enemies, Virginia has been remitted temporarily to a state of nature, and it may be possible that, if she were left there, she might be better off than under the continual tinkering of reconstruction. General Stoneman, however, has begun promptly to fill vacancies as far as he is able, and his judicial appointments, considering the scanty material at his disposal, are said to be respectable. With nine-tenths of the offices of the State vacant, and not a sufficient number of politically competent men within its limits to fill them, he has no easy task before him. Unless Congress shall come to the relief of Virginia with wiser legislation, immigration and capital will be excluded from her borders.

THE WILMINGTON M. E. CONFERENCE.—This body has selected Port Deposit, Md., as its next place of meeting. The following communication was received from the Philadelphia Conference, viz:—"The Philadelphia Conference this morning unanimously ordered a commission of six—three ministers and three laymen—to confer with a like commission of the Wilmington Conference during the interval of the Conferences concerning the incorporated interests of the two Conferences." The Conference concurred and appointed the following, viz: Rev. L. C. Matlack, T. J. Thompson, T. L. Tomkinson, Henry F. Pickels, Jesse K. Hines and Stephen Postles.

The Committee on Lay Delegation reported, referring to the importance of the subject, the position it now assumes, and submitted the following which was adopted:

To the Ministers and Members of the Methodist Episcopal Church, within the bounds of the Wilmington Annual Conference: Dear Brethren—The last General Conference provided that "There shall be held a general election in several places of worship of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at which all members in full connection, and not less than twenty-one years of age, shall be invited to vote, by ballot, for Lay Delegation, or against Lay Delegation."

"This election shall be held under the direction of the preacher in charge and two laymen appointed by the Quarterly Conference for that purpose, who shall see that due notice is given thereof for at least twenty days before the election."

The election must be held "during the month of June, 1869," (on any day except the Sabbath,) the time to be appointed by the pastor and laymen above named, "who shall superintend all the details of the election and report the result within ten days after the election to the presiding elder of the district."

A WHITE GIRL STOLEN BY A NEGRO MAN.—Mr. Alexander Carson a respectable farmer living in Talbot county, near Hillsborough, came to Easton on Friday night, in search of his daughter, who had mysteriously disappeared from her father's house on Thursday night. We learn the following facts in connection with the matter. A mulatto man named John Hall sometime ago was lodged in jail by officer Dillen for gambling. Mr. Carson bailed him out, and took him to work on his farm. Since then his daughter, who is nearly grown, has been teaching him how to read and write, in consideration for which service he has been practicing his arts on his innocent and unsuspecting preceptress, to induce her to leave her home and follow him to the city. On Friday, at noon, they both took passage at Miles River Ferry for Baltimore on the steamer Isaac P. Smith. Whether he persuaded her off for the purpose of seducing or marrying her is not known. It is said that the negro's mother lives in Baltimore. It is needless to say, the young girl's family are in great distress about her. It is seriously to be hoped that she may be rescued from the clutches of the black wretch who has persuaded her off. She is a bright intelligent girl, and it is a great pity that she should be ruined in this disgraceful manner.—Easton Star.

Pere Cotton, Ann Eliza Cotton, John A. Cotton, Isaac Sampson, Ann Elizabeth Jones, James Crossley, and Eliza Jane Crossley, versus

Amanda Jones and Isaac Jones.

In the Circuit Court for Kent County, sitting in Equity, March 4th, 1869.

THE object of this suit is to procure a Decree for the sale of certain real estate in Kent county, State of Maryland, of which a certain Joseph Cotton died seized and possessed.

The Bill states that the said Joseph Cotton did, by his last Will and Testament, devise all his real estate to his wife, Rachel Cotton, for and during her natural life, and authorized and directed his Executor, Hugh Wallis, after the death of the said Rachel Cotton, to divide and distribute one-fourth part of said land to Rebecca Gattis, then the wife of Edward Gattis, for and during her natural life, and after her death the testator devised the said one-fourth part to be distributed and divided as follows: one-half thereof to Daniel Cotton, his heirs and assigns, and one-half thereof to Eliza Ann Cotton, who intermarried with Pere Cotton; Elizabeth Jones, wife of Thomas Jones, and Hannah Cotton, who intermarried with Thomas Sampson, share and share alike as tenants in common. The Bill further states that Rachel Cotton has departed this life, and that the said Hugh Wallis, executor of said Joseph Cotton, did divide the land of the said Joseph Cotton, and allotted one-fourth part thereof, containing thirty-seven acres, two roods and twenty perches, more or less, to Rebecca Gattis for and during her natural life, and to the parties entitled after her death; that the said Rebecca Gattis has departed this life; that Elizabeth Jones departed this life prior to the death of the said Rebecca Gattis, leaving four children: Ann Elizabeth Jones, Eliza Jane Jones (who intermarried with James Crossley, of the city of Baltimore,) and Amanda Jones and Isaac Jones, the last named two being infants under the age of twenty-one years, and non-residents; that Hannah Sampson also departed this life prior to the death of the said Rebecca Gattis and before she was seized of said land, leaving an only child, Isaac Sampson; and that the said Daniel Cotton has also departed this life, leaving the said John A. Cotton his only child and heir at law. That the said land is incapable of dividing, and that it would be for the interest and advantage of all the parties interested in said land to sell the same and divide the proceeds thereof among the parties in the proportions in which they are entitled.

It is thereupon adjudged and ordered that the complainants, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in one newspaper published in Kent County, State of Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the fifth day of April next, give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this Bill, and warn them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the Fifth day of July next, to answer the premises, and show cause, if any they have, why a Decree ought not to pass as prayed.

TO ALL

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1868.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS

Aids old and young, rich and poor, children. They are entirely different from the strong intoxicating bitters now called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern drops, no fancy drinks, but good, honest, reliable medicines, for sick people.

The greatest known remedies for

Liver Complaint,
DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters with pure Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some easy alcoholic stimulant is required. You will have to mind full that these remedies are entirely different from any other advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in simple form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most agreeable and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all known tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, assist in the digestion of food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate feminine or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

Blood Purifiers

we are known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you may rely on these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1868.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" a tonic useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of good repute in debility and want of nervous action of the system.

Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1868.

I consider Hoofland's German Bitters a valuable medicine in cases of attacks of indigestion or dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of them.

Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—Dear Sir:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with testimonials of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I should not, if I were to choose a tonic, give the preference to those who suffer by any deviation from the above causes. Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates street.
