Every crook is a straight man bent by sin.

When a man is set in his ways he is not likely to hatch out any new ideas.

Let the other fellow talk occasionally; you can't learn much by listening to yourself all the time.

Some people don't like anything, they simply dislike some things more than others.

Hard times are made harder by soft tastes. Trying to make life easier is often what makes it difficult. The brook of kindness is apt to flow into a river of success.

The measure of ability is the measure of responsibility. Life's heaviest burden is having nothing to carry.

It is a sad religion that is never strong except when its owner is sick.

Eastern Shore Happenings

Corporal James and privates Voshell, Purnell and Holt made a record run from their station, located on the Seaford bridge, to the railroad station at Bridgeville, Saturday afternoon, and headed off Mrs. Mary Burke and Miss Margaret Dumphy both of 813 Girard avenue, Philadelphia, who it was alleged, had kidnapped Marie Dumphy, 16, from her adopted parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Russell, of Galestown, 12 miles west of Seaford, who were at the station at Bridgeville, waiting to take an express train to Philadelphia. When the highway officers got word of the alleged kidnapping, the express train had left Seaford. Jumping on their motorcycles they made the run to Bridgeville, eight mile, in five minutes, beating the train, and placing Mrs. Burke and Miss Dumphy under arrest. Marie Dumphy, who is a sister to Miss Margaret Dumphy, was with the women when the officers took them into custody.

According to the testimony brought out before Magistrate Todd, of Bridgeville, Mr. and Mrs. Russell had adopted Marie Dumphey two years ago, and had taken out papers and signed a bond for her before the Orphans' Court of Dorchester couty, at Cambridge.

Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Burke are sisters, and two years ago while on a visit to her sister at Galestown, Mrs. Burke left the child there, who was then 14 years of age. Mrs. Burke claimed she had taken the child out of an orphan's home in Philadelphia, when she was two years old, but could produce no papers to prove her assertion.

Salisbury, Md., June 25—The semi-annual meeting of the Peninsula Fertilizer Association, comprising manufacturers of fertilizer from lower Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland and Virginia, will open tomorrow with a visit to the demonstration farm near Snow Hill. The day will be devoted to discussion of results of experiments with various brands of fertilizer compositions and the effects of production.

Saturday the association will reconvene in Ocean City for a business session from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., including a luncheon at the Shoreham Hotel.

Officers of the association are: President, E. Beenson Dennis, Crisfield; vice president, W. E. Valiant, Laurel, Del.; secretary, W. P. Ward, Salisbury; treasurer, C. E. Culvert, Seaford, Del.

The office of State Prohibition Director for Delaware will be abolished on August 1, under the radical reorganization of prohibition enforcement as announced by the treasury department on Tuesday. The office and title of all state directors are to be abolished on August 1.

This means that Director William J. Swain will go out of office unless he is retained in some capacity under the new plan. Delaware will be included in the seventh district which is to include Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia, with headquarters in Baltimore.

Extensive improvements are being made to the fair grounds at Harrington in preparation for the sixth annual Kent-Sussex fair which opens Tuesday, July 28 and continues through to Saturday evening, August 1. The Kent-Sussex exposition will be the only one held in Delaware this year.

More than a thousand awards have been listed in the various sections, the prize money running close to $10,000. Special consideration has been given the work of the boys' and girls' clubs. Seventy-nine classes of exhibits have been opened to them and for the first time their handiwork will be displayed in a separate building.

Among the improvements being installed is a huge canopy, 20 feet wide, which is being erected on both sides and in front of the grand stand. Back rests have been placed on all seats in the stands, while the seating capacity is to be enhanced by the placing of boxes along the front of the grand stand.

Jimmy Foxx, the 17 year idol of all Eastern Shore baseball fans, who was purchased last year from the Easton Farmers by Connie Mack, has just recently been loaned to the Providence, R. I. team of the International League.

An offer to buy Foxx rom the Athletics was made by the management of the Providence team, but this Mack would not listen to. Foxx was loaned to the Providence team only because he was too valuable a player to be kept in the dug out all the time. He has played some fine ball since his stay with the Mackmen. He will no doubt be with Mack next year and will get a chance to play more ball. He has been a wonderful pinch hitter.

Salisbury, Md., June 26—Missing since Wednesday morning, the mystery of the disappearance of Kingsbury Pusey, 28, of this city, was solved this afternoon when his body was recovered from the Wicomico river.

The passage of the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic passenger steamer up the river washed the body ashore near the Leatherbury cannery after city authorities and relatives had dragged the river in that vicinity throughout the morning.

Leaving his home to cross the river and resume duties at the cannery, Pusey, who had been ill for several weeks, is believed to have been seized with a spasm and fell overboard. The affliction had been a result of the illness, according to the family.

Mrs. Pusey accompanied her husband to his private boat landing and saw him in his boat go two-thirds of the distance to the cannery, on the opposite side of the river, before she returned home. When he did not return Wednesday evening she believed he had decided to visit a brother-in-law in a nearby town.

Berlin, Md., June 25—Firemen of Berlin opened a carnival for the purpose of clearing a small indebtedness on the new fire truck and proposed purchase of a chemical outfit. Last year over $5,000 was realized, and the community has entered this second carnival with the same view.

John N. Mackall, State Roads Commission chairman, and a few members of his staff were guests of Berlin at an Eastern Shore dinner on the carnival grounds. About 50 business men and professional men were also present. Addresses were made by Senator Harrison, the Rev. E. C. Hallman, County Commissioners Burbage, Franklin, Upshu and Mumford, Mr. Mackall and Dr. Charles R. Law.

At intervals music was furnished by the Berlin Concert Band.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of Indian River, Dagsboro and Baltimore Hundreds, who are interested in the digging of a new inlet to connect Indian River Bay with the Atlantic Ocean, met in Millsboro last Saturday evening for the purpose of raising $2500 to defray the expense of the survey of the new inlet. Sums ranging from $5.00 to $100 were contributed until a sufficient amount was subscribed to assure the survey.

We are informed by a gentleman who visited the inlet this week that its mouth is entirely closed and thousands of female crabs ready to spawn are either dead or dying.

It is hoped the survey will be made at once and work on the inlet started as soon as the money is appropriated.

Business men from each of the nine counties on the Eastern Shore have organized the Easton Title and Mortgage Corporation, with offices in Easton. The corporation will do a general commercial insurance business, buy and sell real estate mortgages and guarantee titles on real estate. The capital is $100,000.

The officers of the company are: President, William T. Williams, of Easton; first vice president, William Reddie, Easton; second vice president, A. Fletcher Sisk, Preston; secretary and treasurer, Dr. Thomas Claggett, Easton. These officers, with the following, comprise the directors: Madison B. Bardley, Centreville, vice president of the Centreville National Bank; William P. Ward, Salisbury, secretary and treasurer Farmers and Planters' Company; D. Frank Fooks, director Deposit and Savings Bank, Snow Hill; S. Frank Dashiells, director Bank of Somerset, Princess Anne; Albert D. Mackey, general counsel Elkton Banking and Trust Company, Elkton; Thomas D. Bowers, vice president Third National Bankk, Chestertown. Legal department, T. Hughlett Henry, Easton, general counsel; Col. Henry Hollyday, Easton, attorney title department.

The company will begin business about July 1.

ICED DRINKS IN THE SUMMER

On a warm and sultry summer day, there is nothing more refreshing to the mind and to the body than an iced drink. Of course, when such drinks are being used, moderation should be practiced, because if taken in excess or too rapidly, they are liable to be injurious to the stomach. However, when taken in a sensible manner, they are refreshing and beneficial to the fatigued. In the manufacture of these drinks, care should be taken to avoid any combination that may be indigestible or hard to assimilate. The drink should be consumed in a slow and leisurely manner.

The greatest danger present in the use of iced drinks is the one that involves the use of ingredients that are possibly impure or contaminated in any way. This is very liable to happen if the juices that are used are allowed to stand until they become soured and unfit for use, or if the milk or other ingredient used is not strictly fresh. The predisposition of milk to spoil quickly at summer temperatures makes it ofttimes necessary to use evaporated milk, which after all is just pure fresh milk with more than half the water taken away. It is sterile and, therefore, always safe. For use in iced drinks, it is ideal.

Following are several formulas used in the manufacture of iced beverages. If these formulas are followed religiously, the results will be found to be very satisfactory.

Chocolate Malted Milk.

1 cup evaporated milk	3 teaspoonfuls cocoa
1 cup water	2 teaspoonfuls malted milk

Mix cocoa with water until syrup is obtained. Put all ingredients in Mason jar and shake thoroughly and serve with chipped ice.

Milk Punch.

1 cup evaporated milk	2 tbsp. orange juice
Sugar to suit taste	½ cup water
1 cup tea	Small stick cinnamon
2 tbsp. lemon juice	½ cup fruit juice (currant or berry preferred)

Boil slowly the cinnamon, a lemon rind and orange rind in water for ten minutes. Strain and when cool add the other ingredients. Place in a Mason fruit jar and shake well. Serve in tall glasses with chopped ice.

Egg Nog.

1 egg	1½ tbsp. powdered sugar
Pinch salt	2 tbsp. fruit juice
½ cup cold evaporated milk	Nutmeg gratings
½ cup ice water

Add salt to egg white and beat to a stiff froth. Add the sugar, the well beaten yolk of the egg and the fruit juice and nutmeg. Fill glass with milk and cold water. Sprinkle top with chopped nuts.

SOY-BEAN SEED BUYERS VICTIMS OF "CHEAP" SEED

Because he thought that farmers "don't know beans," a certain exploiter of soy-bean seed is now revising his opinion while serving a term in the penitentiary for violation of the postal fraud law. Some farmers "do know beans," and when some of these better posted soy-bean growers recently received shipments of Tarheel Black instead of Otootan which they had ordered, the matter was called to the attention of the Jost Office Departmen and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Investigators by the Post Office officials disclosed the fact that this lone operator was advertising the higher-priced variety, Otootan, for sale at about one-half the regular market value and doing a tremendous business. His plan called for no shipment of beans of any variety until the customer became insistent, and then he substituted the cheaper Tarheel Black. He was brought to trial and convicted of fraudulent use of the mails. Because of the high prices of the Otootan and Laredo varieties there has been considerable substitution of the cheaper black varieties, such as Wilson, Ebony or Black Beauty, Peking, and Tarheel Black.

The moral of this little story, says the United States Department of Agriculture, is not only to know soy-bean varieties, but to buy soy-bean seed from reliable and established seedsmen or growers, and beware of "cheap seed." There are others still at large ready to exploit the farmer's inability to identify the numerous varieties of soy-beans. The prospective purchaser of seed should obtain samples before buying, and if not sure of the identity of the seed should consult the county agent or the State Agriculture College. Be sure you are getting the variety desired and not some cheap substitute.

FOR UNIFIED NATIONAL LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

The Maryland Farm Bureau Federation is co-operating in a movement started by the American Farm Bureau Federation to take a referendum which it is hoped will crystallize the thought and wishes of its million or more members of its member-state federations. This specific information, which will be along lines of needed national legislation, will be put in shape and presented before Congress at its next session in December.

Just what legislation American farmers want and need, has been a problem for a number of years, and the entire matter has exercised not only Congress but the administration as well, and not yet has the desire of agriculture so crystalized as to bring about any outstanding action on the part of Congress.

The decision on the part of the American Farm Bureau Federation to conduct a referendum through the medium of a questionnaire which has been transmitted to the presidents and secretaries of the 46 state Farm Bureau Federations, was arrived at by a recent meeting of the directors held in Chicago when one of their number proposed a resolution which was later adopted, instructing the national legislative sub-committee to immediately develop plans to secure information of a unified, national legislative program.

Co-operative marketing comes in for much attention in the questionnaire and through it will be determined whether Farm Bureau members desire further legislation to assist in the development of co-operative marketing. Other questions are asked upon which to base the policy of the Farm Bureau regarding parcel post rates, wool and fabric, branch bank proposals, seed legislation and the standardization of fruit and vegetable containers.
