Minister Tells Conferees It's Our War, Too

"We must be as interested in winning this war as any white American," the Rev. Kelly Jackson, editor, told Methodist ministers at their weekly meeting Wednesday in Sharp Street Community House.

"It behooves every Christian to co-operate in seeking to achieve the American ideal. While at times colored people don't seem to be getting all the benefits they deserve, still the democratic ideal is one which helps us most," he declared.

Calls Christ a Fighter

In answer to a contention of some of the ministers present that Christ did not preach a warlike doctrine, the speaker quoted Christ as saying "I came not to bring peace but a sword," which he interpreted as meaning that when our status quo is threatened we should seek to defend it.

Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, local NAACP president, asked the body to appoint a representative to appear with a group of citizens before Governor Herbert O'Conor and Police Commissioner Robert F. Stanton to protest the arrest of W. A. C. Hughes, Jr., and Robert P. McGuinn, lawyers, early Sunday morning by Northwestern District police.

The request was turned over to the civic committee, headed by the Rev. E. L. Lofton, superintendent of the North Baltimore District.

BYF Pledged to Aid War Effort

The Baltimore Youth Federation meeting, Tuesday evening at the NYA Center, 2003 Druid Hill Avenue, adopted a resolution pledging its support to the government in the present war crisis.

The resolution, copies of which have been forward to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Governor Herbert R. O'Conor and Mayor Howard W. Jackson, read:

Text of Resolution

"The Baltimore Youth Federation resolves to give unstintingly all aid and co-operation for the defense of the United States of America in order to effect a hasty annihilation of the Axis Powers and their supporters at home and abroad, and to co-operate fully in all branches of civilian defense."

The organization, headed by Miss Maude Smith, will meet again at the center Tuesday to plan for entertaining soldiers in nearby camps during the holidays.

Tavern Owner to Get Hearing Today in Slaying

Louvon Millard, 50, 577 Laurens Street, proprietor of the Wagon Wheel Tavern at 1031 Pennsylvania Avenue, is scheduled to be given a hearing in Northwestern police court this (Friday) afternoon for fatally shooting Sam Lyons, 33, while in the tavern on December 11.

Joseph Rosenthal, attorney for Millard, said his client would enter a not guilty plea. According to testimony given police, the shooting followed a disturbance in the club after Lyons allegedly attempted to smash a chewing gum machine with a stool when his nickle jammed in the slot of the machine.

Beaten to the Draw

Witnesses said that when the proprietor remonstrated with Lyons, the latter drew a revolver, but was himself shot through the forehead before he could use it. Following a habeas corpus hearing before Judge Eugene O'Dunne in Criminal Court, Millard was released under $2,000 bail pending today's hearing.

The body of Lyons, a garage worker who lived at 605 N. Paca Street, was shipped to Augusta, Ga., for burial on Monday. Arrangements were made by his wife, Mrs. Clara Golden Lyons.

St. James to Present 'The Prince of Peace'

The cantata will include two carols arranged by Miss Jessie Fitzgerald and will mark the first time they have been heard anywhere.
