....MERRY CHRISTMAS....

Say it to everyone in your household when you awake in the morning. Merry Christmas! Call up your friend and let it ring cheerily over the telephone! After you open your own gifts, dress up in your most festive clothes, and go out ringing the doorbells of your friends and neighbors, while you sing out "Merry Christmas!" Add to the joy of receiving the joy of giving — and don't forget those less fortunate than you to whom a basket filled with every-day foods, or a few playthings for their fun-starved children, will brighten the winter's gloom, and help them to say—and know there's a meaning to—Merry Christmas! When twilight brings the illumination of electric lights playing on the snow and when cold and dusk lead to the lighting of the fireplace: There's the time to fill the punch bowl, gather 'round you those nearest and dearest while you harmonize in singing the grand old Christmas carols. Then when evening's done and you've closed the door after the last departing guests, and happily tired, you're ready for sleep, in your own heart will echo like a lullaby's refrain—"Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas! Merry Christmas!"

"BUSINESS" is rather a cold word meaning. But the business people in this community, taken one by one, are really your friends, your neighbors; and it is in a thoroughly personal sense that they extend to you, in these pages, the greetings of the Season. You'll have fun reading how many ways they are able to say to you and yours — "A Merry Christmas" — so read these little greetings, every one.

THIS is a good time to remind you —that if you haven't as yet completed your Christmas shopping you still have time to do it, in your neighborhood stores. These merchants have hundreds . . . thousands . . . of delightful gift suggestions for everyone you know; and they have the things that will fill your home with the true Christmas Spirit. On these pages they extend their greetings in print — visit them today.
