BALTIMORE CITY'S EXPANSION.

The Baltimore City Non-Partisan Greater Baltimore Extension League Committee, composed of Hon. Henry D. Harlan, former Chief Judge of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore city, chairman, and Messrs. W. L. Marbury, Geo. R. Gaither, Jr., former Attorney-General, and S. S. Field, of Baltimore city; Messrs. W. Calvin Chesnut, of Roland Park, and John H. Richardson, of Highlandtown, Baltimore county; J. P. McGovern, Esq., representing the portion of Anne Arundel county proposed to be added to Baltimore city; Hon. W. Laird Henry, former judge of Court of Appeals, of Cambridge; Senator John F. Mudd, of Charles county; Benjamin A. Richmond, Esq., of Cumberland, and Alex. R. Hagner, Esq., of Hagerstown, have unanimously endorsed a bill to be presented to the next session of the Maryland Legislature to extend the limits of Baltimore city. By the provisions of this bill the population of Baltimore city will be increased about 75,000.

By this increase Baltimore city will be prevented from dropping to the tenth or twelfth place in the census of 1920. This 75,000 increase of population for Baltimore city will, of course, take just that amount of population from Anne Arundel and Baltimore counties, both of which are making a hard fight against the bill. It looks to us as though the city should be allowed to expand and if its expansion can only be accomplished by taking a portion of Anne Arundel and Baltimore counties, then the citizens of these counties should be broad minded enough to allow our metropolis a reasonable amount of their territory. Expansion is necessary to progress. The claim made by some that it will give Baltimore city more power in the State and more representation in the Legislature, can be easily answered by reference to Section 2, of Article III, of the Constitution, which defines Baltimore city's representation. To give Baltimore city more representation in the Legislature an Amendment to the Constitution will have to be passed by the voters of the State, and should Baltimore city attempt to put such an amendment over on the people of the State the counties would and should promptly defeat it.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT-Town.

DEAR SIRS:

It is very interesting to know how frequently that great Senator, Oscar Underwood, lets his name be seen in his votes right along side of Gronna, LaFollette, Stone, &c. A number of times during the war discussions in Congress this Oscar Underwood has stood right along side of Senators of this class.

Wait and see in the next Presidential Primary how many men will remember Oscar Underwood for his present action in antagonizing as far as he dare the votes of his party who are earnestly and honestly supporting the administration. It should also be noticed how Senator Smith has generally been backing the measures of the administration. For this he deserves credit. Though he will receive and deserve much censure for delaying the testing of our great guns and possibily in the loss of life of thousands of our soldiers! But let us watch and see what the State Machine thinks of Underwood.

Then in 1920 let every man in Kent county remember to look for Underwood's name, if it appears in the Presidential primaries, as many anticipate it will.

Yours very respectfully,
HOPE H. BARROLL.

Information Wanted.

MESSRS. EDITORS OF THE TRANSCRIPT:

Is it right or legal for the Republican Board of County Commissioners to take the county money to pay for the bond of a Republican Treasurer? This is an act that there is no precedent for in Kent county or any other to our knowledge. We all know that most of the county taxes are paid by the Democrats as the Republican party is composed chiefly of negroes who pay a very small amount of taxes.

This act of the Republican Board of County Commissioners looks very much like a misappropriation of county funds and bears a close resemblance to their actions about twenty years ago when the Republicans were in power for a short time. The county money disappeared and so did the records and have not been heard from since.

Now if these acts are samples of what the Republicans are going to do if their ticket is elected this fall, Kent county certainly does not want Republican rule. We would be pleased to hear from the Republican President of the Republican Board of County Commissioners if he has any excuse to offer.

DEMOCRAT.

"MY LORD'S GIFT" TOURNAMENT.

An Annual Social Gathering of Queen Annes and Adjoining County Folks.

TWO KENT COUNTY KNIGHTS WIN HONORS.

One of the most successful and enjoyable of all the numerous tournaments held on historic old "My Lord's Gift" farm near Queenstown, was that of Thursday of last week, when fully three thousand persons from Queen Annes and adjoining counties gathered to pay annual tribute to the memory of that occasion when Lord Baltimore, in a gracious mood, bequeathed the then vast estate, comprising Queenstown and miles of adjacent territory, to the Roman Catholic Church. For years and years the tournament held under the auspices of St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church, has been an honored institution, and Thursday proved an ideal day in every respect, including the weather.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the knights were summoned to the judge's stand, and Justice C. S. Jump, of Centreville, who was visiting the tournament for the forty-third consecutive year, delivered the charge.

RESULT OF THE RIDING.

Following the trial rides the tilting began in earnest with the following result:

Benjamin Willis, Knight of Uncle Sam..1 0 1

Music for the occasion was splendidly rendered by Spence's band, Easton.

After a short recess the successful knights returned to the judges' stand, where the coronation address was delivered by Senator J. H. C. Legg, of Centreville.

THOSE WHO WERE CROWNED.

Thomas Messick, Knight of Clover Hill, crowned Miss Elizabeth Dulin, of Cordova, Queen of Love and Beauty.

Edward Fowler, Knight of Chestertown, crowned Mrs. Edward Fowler, of Chestertown, First Maid of Honor.

Harry Slaughter, Knight of Old St. Joseph's, Jr., crowned Miss Catherine Callahan, of Queenstown, Second Maid of Honor.

James Cosden, Knight of Easton crowned Miss Louise Link, of Baltimore, Third Maid of Honor.

James Slaughter, Knight of Long Wood, crowned Miss Eva Slaughter, of Long Wood, Fourth Maid of Honor.

In the amateur class Harry Cosden, Knight of Woodside, crowned Miss Henrietta Brady, of Baltimore, Queen of Love and Beauty.

The prizes were awarded by Rev. C. P. McGoldrick, of Centreville, pastor of St. Peter's Church.

ENJOYABLE DANCE AT NIGHT.

After the tournament supper was served on the beautiful lawn and during the evening the young folk enjoyed a delightful dance at Per y's Hall. Several hundred dancers were present and a thoroughly enjoyable evening was spent.

The officials of the tournament were: Judges, W. T. Callahan, Cordova; Geo. Favinger, Cordova; Jas. DeLacy, Centreville. Timer—Chas. E. Morris, Easton. Marshall—Kennard Rhodes, Queenstown.

Thirty Years Bishop.

Rt. Rev. William Forbes Adams has recently completed thirty years service as Bishop of the Diocese of Easton, comprising the nine counties of the Eastern Shore.

Bishop Adams was called to Easton from Vicksburg, whither he had retired in a convalescent state following an illness of yellow fever. His association with this diocese began twenty years after its creation, and he has been bishop during the last three fifths of its history.

In the church Bishop Adams is held in the highest esteem for his many extraordinary talents, and as a pulpit orator he is recognized everywhere as of high standing. In this community and throughout his diocese generally he is known for his broad understanding, tender heartedness, sympathy and unremitting kindness. He has been highly successful in every phase of his work, and congratutations at the completion of his third decade are particularly fitting.

We wish for Bishop Adams many more years as fruitful and good as have been those gone before.

His Costly Mistake.

Young Man, Read.

Learn this lesson, my son; then learn it over and over again. The world does not owe you a living. It dosen't owe any man a living. True there are those who have gotten a notion in their heads that they have a right to be taken care of by others regardless of any exertion themselves. They will find out in time, however, that while they are waiting for the procession to come along with a feather bed to carry them to fame and fortune, the hustler has gotten a long way to the front; while he who waited for others to "bost" him along, waited for what never came.

TYPHOID FEVER

How to Prevent Its Spread

ISSUED BY THE

State Board of Health of Maryland.

When TYPHOID FEVER appears in a family the source of the infection must be looked for in drinking water or food taken within the preceeding twenty days. The patient may not have been infected at home, but if a second case occurs this second infection will in all probability be traceable to the first patient. In a majority of instances the drinking water has become infected. Your first business, therefore, is to find out the quality of your drinking water.

You can do this by asking your local health officer for instructions about shipping us samples of your drinking water. The daily supply of drinking water should be boiled.

The infectious material of typhoid fever is produced in but one way. It grows always in the bowels and sometimes in the bladder. It therefore, escapes from the sick person in the stools and urine. If we kill the germs in the stools and urine as soon as they are passed, there can be no spread of typhoid fever These discharges should, therefore, be disinfected as soon as possible. You will need a large quantity of a good disinfecting solution.

RECEIPT FOR A GOOD DISINFECTANT.

To four gallons of water add enough salt to make a strong brine. Put this in a five gallon demijohn or jug and add a quart of crude carbolic acid. Shake it up well and you have a good disinfectant for stools and urine.

The crude carbolic acid, known as U. S. P. 90 per cent, is very good, and a quart will cost about 50 cents. There is a cheaper grade, known as a 36 per cent. acid, which is nearly as effective.

About a pint of this solution should be put in the chamber or bed pan before it is used, so that the discharges will begin to be disinfected as soon as they leave the body. There must always be at least as much of the disinfecting solution as there is of the discharge so that more of the disinfecting solution may need to be added after the discharges are passed. If the stools are thin and watery their disinfection will be accomplished in half an hour or so, but if the stools are thick or formed very much more time will be required. On that account it is best to have a covered jar or bucket into which the bed pan can be emptied, and to empty this jar only once in 24 hours. If the discharges cannot be finally thrown into a sewer they should be buried in the soil at a convenient spot where there is no chance of their fouling a water supply. The discharge should never be thrown on the surface of the ground, for you will hardly be successful in killing all the typhoid bacilli, and you must not place them where those not killed by the acid may be blown about in the dust or carried away by flies to infect other people.

In spite of every precaution, those who wait on the sick person will get their hands infected, and it is therefore, necessary to wash the hands every time one does any service about the patient's bed or body. Whoever waits on the patient must not prepare food or drink for other persons in the house, or if it is impossible to mind this rule one must most carefully and thoroughly cleanse the hands before performing any house-hold duty outside the sick room. Good scrubbing with soap, water and a brush, and then rinsing well in fresh water will suffice for cleansing the hands.

If anyone else in the house falls sick within two weeks after the first patient, the probability is that the infection was lodged before the precautions were taken in regard to drinking water and the disposal of the discharges. But if the second case occurs more than 20 days after the first case that will signify that we have made a mistake somewhere in our precautions.
