The carpenters have completed their work almost and from now on Chestertown will be the scene of many activities for over a week. The square has been attractively arranged, and will be convenient for the public to visit the various booths.

The line of march for the mammoth parade to be held on Firemen's night, Tuesday, September 29th, is as follows: forming on High street extended, marching down High to Water St., east on Water Street to Maple Ave., up Maple Ave., to Queen from Queen to High, to Spring Ave., out Washington Ave., to Kent Circle then Kent Circle to High, down to the Carnival grounds.

SCHOONER SUNK

Vessel Loaded With Tomatoes From Kent Goes Down Near Cambridge

A schooner load of tomatoes, purchased by Mr. Samuel G. Caldwell, one of Kent's well-known tomato buyers, went down near Cambridge, Maryland, last Friday. There were 2500 baskets of tomatoes on the schooner.

These tomatoes were intended for the Phillips Packing Company, of Cambridge, and were not insured.

This load of tomatoes was put aboard the schooner, W. M. Quinn at Crumpton, of which Capt. W. M. Quinn, is the master and almost reached their destination before the accident occurred which sent the boat to the bottom of the Choptank.

It seems that the vessel was along well, when some nets were sighted right ahead. A quick turn of the tiller to avoid the nets caused the heavily-loaded boat to list fearfully sideways, and taking in water as it did so, finnally listed heavily and capsized. In a short time the boat filled with water and went to the bottom of the river.

The crew, consisting of Captain Quinn and two men, had a hard fight to save their lives, but finally reached short with accident.

Do not hestitate a day
Ask your doctor right away
