GREAT WORK

Three Teams Downed

Play at Mt Airy Tomorrow—Sykesville Here Wednesday Next and Mt Airy July 3—Two Games Here July 5th.

REITZ SIGNED.

Westminster is getting what it wanted, a first class ball team, and now it is up to our people to give enthusiastic support. Every lover of the sport and all who want the team to win should make it a point to be at every game possible. When you cannot go yourself, buy a ticket and send some one to represent you.

WESTMINSTER 6; WINCHESTER 3.

Ashmore's boys have been strictly in it during the past week—three games won and one lost—good record. They broke Winchester's heart last Saturday when they gave Sandy Baker's great aggregation the first trouncing of the season to the tune of 6—3.

Johnson, who pitched for Winchester, was pounded all over the field, a total of 11 hits being made off him, while Wege was effective with men on bases, most of the locals runs being due to errors. In a desperate attempt to win, Manager Baker used his entire team with the exception of Pitcher Gray. The features were sensational running catches by Foard, of Winchester, and Oursler, of Westmintser. The score:

WESTMINSTER 5; REISTERSTOWN 0.

Tuesday's game with Reisterstown was chiefly noted for the picturesque kicking of the visiting rooters and several members of the Baltimore county team. Reitz pitched a fine game and was well supported. The story of the innings is interesting.

FIRST INNING—

Reisterstown—Ducker to Reitz to Ashmore. Truman Smith got Barnhard's fly. Danner struck out.

Westminster—When Ashmore was hit by pitched ball and umpire Crouse gave him first, the kickers began to kick, and while they were scrapping Ashmore stole second; Haley struck out. Ashmore reached third on Browns wild pitch and another wild pitch scored him. McGarvey struck out. Spencer connected but McGlone got it down to Brown covering first.

SECOND INNING—

Reisterstown—Power to Reitz to Ashmore. Uhler struck out. McGarvey got Wisner's fly.

Westminster—Gibson was hit by pitcher; attempted to steal second, overran and was thrown out by Cockey. Truman Smith struck out. Oursler walked and stole 2nd, but Tom Smith fanned.

THIRD INNING—

Reisterstown—McGlone made first hit. Truman Smith took in Cockey's fly. Spencer fielded Brown to McGarvey at second, but McGlone advanced on McGarvey's error. Spencer held him down by gathering in Ducker's fly and fielding Barnhard out to Ashmore. Good work.

Westminster—Reitz gave Uhler a long fly; Brown got it from Ashmore's bat, and Haley punched.

FOURTH INNING—

Reistertown—Danner walked. Spencer by fine fielding to Ashmore defrauded Power of a hit. With Uhler at bat, Danner tried to steal, but Gibson and Haley got him. Uhler was hit by pitched ball. Mosner's hit advanced him, but Reitz saved the situation by striking out McGlone.

Westminster—McGarvey went down by way of Danner and McGlone. Spencer made a fine hit to center. Gibson hit to left. Spencer stole third. Truman Smith fanned. Oursler found the ball; Mosner fielded it home to head off Spencer who made a great slide under-Cockey's hands, but failed to touch the plate, and although Cockey did not put the ball on him was properly called out.

FIFTH INNING—

Reisterstown—Cockey and Brown led off with hits. Ducker sacrificed to Reitz and Ashmore and it looked like something doing for the ostriches, but Barnhard's and Danner's flys were gathered in by Spencer and McGarvey, and the day saved.

Westminster—Tom Smith struck out. Reitz made a hit and asked for some one to run for him. This raised another howl, and to the call for the captain their third baseman cried, "You'll find him on the bench." Reitz had to do his own running and when Ashmore drove the ball to Brown was forced out at second. Ashmore stole 2nd. Haley walked. McGarvey was thrown out by Danner to McGlone.

SIXTH INNING—

Reisterstown—Reitz and Ashmore got Power and Uhler and Mosner struck out.

Westminster—Spencer walked. Brown got Gibson's fly and with McGlone's help made it a double. Truman Smith was fielded out by Brown to McGlone.

THE LUCKY SEVENTH.

Resiterstown—Now it is the lucky seventh. Keep it at that! McGlone tried hard, and after two fouls over left field fence, struck out. Cockey made a great drive to left, but the boys are giving Reitz fine support and Oursler took in the fly. Brown made a fine hit to left center, but Tom Smith's great fielding held him at first. Ducker drove the ball over left field fence for a two-bagger and Brown raced home, and the kickers made the astounding contention that the ground rule did not apply to the runner because he was playing off first when the ball was hit, ready to steal second. But of course that didn't go, and it was kick, kick, kick. Barnhard went down from Reitz to Ashmore, and the boys realized that the fatal seventh had been changed to the lucky seventh.

Westminster—Oursler led off with a hit. Tom Smith sent the ball to Danner, who juggled it, but luck was with him and the ball was deflected right into Mosner's hands and Oursler caught on second. With Reitz at the bat, Tom Smith played off first, tempting Cockey, who put the ball to McGlone. McGlone hurled it to second and Smith over running was caught. With two down and no one on base it did not look promising, but Reitz started the ball with a fine hit to right center. Ashmore followed with a clean hit. Haley was hit by pitched ball, filling the bases. Mc Garvey made a hit to left bringing in Reitz; Power fielded the ball home, but while the Reisterstown aggregation played sock-about and pussy-wants-a-corner, Ashmore and Haley scored. McGarvey reached third on a wild throw. On Mosner's error Spencer reached first and McGarvey scored. Gibson added another hit, Spencer stole, but Mosner got Truman Smith out to McGlone.

EIGHTH INNING—

Danner to McGarvey, to Ashmore. Ashmore backed far from first and got Power's fly. Uhler reached first on Spencer's error. Mosner's two-bagger put Uhler on Third. McGlone walked. With bases full, Cockey sent a hot one just over second, almost a liner, into Tom Smith's hands and once more the rooters from Kickersville were disappointed.

Westminster—Oursler flied to Brown. Tom Smith walked. Reitz punched. Danner and McGlone got Ashmore.

NINTH INNING—

Brown flew out to Truman Smith. Ducker walked. Barnhard did the same for Smith, and Danner for Haley.

WESTMINSTER 5; COLUMBIA 4.

Wednesday's game kept up the tension to the last down. Again it was the lucky seventh that did it, and Wege's clean two-bagger scored the winning run. Wege pitched a great game and the boys stood nobly at his back. A feature of the game was the acceptance of nine chances by Haley, who made good every time.

FIRST INNING—

Columbia—Haley and Ashmore were in it. Starr went down by that route. Bubb followed his example. Lantz sent a high fly to left. Both Barnhart and McGarvey ran for it but neither attempted it, and Lantz safe, but Haley and Ashmore got Books.

Westminster—Ashmore walked. Haley's hit to left center advanced him. McGarvey's hit scored Ashmore and put Haley on 3rd. Spencer's fly to Books was a real sacrifice for it brought Haley home. Tom Smith bunted and moved McGarvey to 3rd, but went out from Kane to Peters. Gibson to Kane to Peters.

SECOND INNING—

Columbia—Billet to McGarvey to Ashmore. Peters to Wege to Ashmore. Nebinger fanned.

Westminster—Tom Smith to Starr to Peters. Barnhart flew out to Books. Wege struck out.

THIRD INNING—

Columbia—Kane struck out. Smith drove the ball over left field fence and gave the boys a rest while he walked to second. Tom Smith, in his anxiety to make a double, did for him the very unusual thing of muffing Starr's fly. Bubb batted to Ashmore, who ran up the line, met him and held Smith and Starr on bases, but the fence did the work again when Lantz's drive passed over it and Smith and Starr scored. Books went down from Spencer to Ashmore.

Westminster—Ashmore to Lantz to Peters. Haley struck out. McGarvey drove a hot one through Kane to Starr, but the pitcher eased it up so that Starr fielded it to Peters.

FOURTH INNING

Columbia—Billet's bunt was slow and Haley was slower. Peters' hit advanced Billet to 3rd. Nebinger's three-bagger brought the two runners home. Kane struck to McGarvey, who put it home to Gibby and Nebinger was caught between third and home, Kane working around to 3rd. Smith sent it to Haley and Haley and Gibson got Kane at the plate. McGarvey and Spencer got Starr.

Westminster—Spencer reached first on Starr's error. Truman Smith sent the ball to Starr, Starr put it to Nebinger on 2nd and he to Peters for a double, clearing the bases. Gibson struck out.

FIFTH INNING—

Columbia—Bubb batted to Haley and tried to slide, but Ashmore got him. Gibson took in Lantz's foul fly. Books made fine drive to left and tried to make second, but Barnhart got it to Spencer and Lantz, who overran, was caught.

Westminster—Tom Smith led off with a pretty hit. Barnhart sent ball to Lantz, who put it to second, but bad error brought Smith home and Barnhart to 3rd. Wege's fine fly was gathered in by Billet, and "Barney" raced home, again tieing the score. Ashmore went out on foul fly to catcher Smith. Billet got Haley's high fly.

SIXTH INNING—

Columbia—Billet sent two-bagger over fence. Gibby got Peters' foul fly. Tom Smith Nebinger's; and Truman Smith, Kane's.

Westminster—McGarvey struck out. Billet got Spencer's fly, and Peters Truman Smith got Books' fly.

LUCKY SEVENTH—

Columbia—Smith struck out. Starr to McGarvey to Ashmore. Bubb made hit. Lantz followed suit but Tom Smith's fine fielding held Bubb on 3rd. Truman Smith got Books' fly.

Westminster—Gibson led off with a hit. Tom Smith bunted, Kane put to Nebinger and caught Gibson at 2nd. Barnhart's sacrifice bunt to Smith to Peters advanced Tom Smith. Wege's great two-bagger scored Smith. Tom Smith running for Wege, tried to steal 3rd, but was caught by Kane and Lantz.

EIGHTH INNING—

Columbia—Billet to Haley to Ashmore. Peters walked. Nebinger struck out. Kane to Haley to Ashmore.

Westminster—Ashmore safe on Nebinger's error. Haley flew to Starr. With McGarvey at bat, Kane's left hand work caught Ashmore playing off first. McGarvey and Spencer walked, but Truman Smith gave Books a fly.

NINTH INNING—

Columbia—Smith to McGarvey to Ashmore. Starr struck out. Spencer got Bubb's fly.

Seven Won—One Lost.

Sykesville's splendid record of victories was broken on Saturday when it was defeated by the Maryland Outing Club by the score of 7—5. In the previous seven games, only six runs all told were scored by visiting clubs. On Decoration day Sykesville won a double header from the Mt. Clare Athletic club, this failed to score in 18 innings the score of one game being 4—0, and of the other 5—0. Sykesville will have a big picnic and a double header with the Magnolias, of Baltimore, July 5. The following is the score of Saturday's game:—

Prohibition Picnic.

The Prohibitionists of Woolery's district will hold their annual picnic in Oursler's grove on July 10th, afternoon and night. Prof. G. W. Moore, who is especially well known in Southern Maryland will be the principal speaker. Hon. J. W. Frizell will also deliver an address. The Carrollton Band will furnish the music. An invitation is extended by the committee of arrangements, of which Mr. Emory C. Ebaugh, is chairman, to all temperance workers to unite in making the day a success.

Will Be Missed.

J. Maurice Eckenrode, Esq., who has been the stenographer and private secretary of Messrs. Bond & Parke for several years, has been appointed Assistant Claim Agent of the B. & O. R. R., and will enter upon the duties of his office July 1st. Mr. Eckenrode will be greatly missed in this city, where he has always taken an active part in everything making for the community's upbuilding. He is one of our most enthusiastic fans, and as secretary of the Westminster Base Ball Association has been untiring in advancing its interests. The best wishes of everybody go with him to his new position, in which all who know him prophecy that he will make good.

Will Welcome Return.

One of the shows that our citizens will be glad to see return to Westminster is John H. Sparks' circus, which exhibited here on Tuesday. It is one of the shows that travel without side-grafters, and leaves behind it no adverse criticism. As an exhibition it is one of the best that has ever visited this section. Its people, management and actors, are refined and courteous, and employees orderly and well-behaved. Every event under the big top was a success, and each actor a specialist in his line. The performing elephants were fine and did some stunts never seen in this city. The four tumblers, the balancer, the flying woman of theiron jaw, the trapeze performers, and in fact all who appeared in the ring are worthy of especial commendation.

St John's School.

Closing exercises of St. John's Parochial School took place Moaday, June 20th, in the school building. Premiums were awarded the following for the highest standing in the different classes:

Misses Mary McCaffrey, Cora Adams, Agnes Eckenrode, Clara Adams, Gertrude Little, Mary Grafton Steele, Masters Raymond Yingling, Gilbert Hann.

Awards were also given to about forty children for regular attendance during the year. Mr. Mills, of Rochester, whose penmanship is used throughout the school, deemed the following worthy of certificate for the vast improvement made in this branch: Masters Eugene Walsh, Joseph Case, James Shriver, Henry Eckenrode, Laurence Fink, Misses Phyllis Gruber, Helen Lynch, Evaline Lynch.

At the conclusion of the program the pastor, Rev. Joseph H. Cassidy, made a short address in which he thanked the teachers for their untiring zeal and labor for those under their charge, and praised the pupils for the earnestness in which they toiled during the year.

DEATHS' DOINGS.

Mrs. Dorcas E. Bosley.

Mr. Henry Baker, of Medford, four miles from this city, on the Western Maryland Railroad, died at the home of his son, Frank Baker, at that place last Friday night from injuries received at Wakefield Station a week previously. When it passed Medford without stopping Mr. Baker informed the conductor of his mistake, and was told the train would be stopped for him at Wakefield, a station a mile beyond Medford. The signal to stop was given, and the train was slowing up, when Mr. Baker, apprehensive that it would not stop entirely, jumped to the station platform and was thrown against the milkstand. His nose was broken and the concussion produced was so severe that he did not rally from the shock. The train came to a standstill within 15 feet from the place where he fell.

Miller of Mechanicsburg, Pa., and the wedding was set for Wednesday, June 16. She had been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Lyman B. Arnold, Baltimore, for about a week, and on Friday, June 11, with her aunt, visited the shopping district to finish her wedding purchases. On Saturday morning, June 12th, when her aunt called her, she found her in a stupor. Later in the day she seemed better and came down stairs and no serious consequences were apprehended. On Sunday morning, she was again found in the same condition. Dr. Jos T. Hering was summoned and a specialist was called in consultation, but the nature of the disease, acute tubercular meningitis, rendered the best medical skill unavailing. Her father and mother and fiance were with her during her illness and though on her wedding-day-to-be she was unconscious, the wedding ring was placed upon her finger. Her death occurred on
