UNITED STATES BANK.

Let impartial and close attention be given to the following official document. It refutes volumes of party-declamation, and will serve to dissipate party-prejudice. The country may be surprised, after all that we have heard of the ruinous curtailments of the Bank, to learn how small, comparatively, has been the reduction—how enormous the exaggerations of malice!—Nat. Gazette.

Bank of the United States, March 5th, 1834.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. Eyre, from the Committee on the Offices, presented the following Report, which was read:

REPORT.

The Committee on the Offices having now ascertained by an experience of several months, the progress of the reductions in the business of the Bank, ordered by the Board on the 8th of October last, avail themselves of the monthly returns of the Bank and all its offices, made up for the month of March, to present a statement of those reductions.

The design of the Board in directing them was to protect the institution, and to provide the means of paying the deposites of the Government, so as to press with as little injury as possible on the community. How far that purpose has been accomplished, will be seen from the following detailed statement of the amount of the loans, deposites, specie, and circulation of the Bank, from the 1st of October, 1833, to the 1st of March, 1834:—

1833.	Discounts.	Domestic Bills.	Total.
October 1,	$42,226,275 42	$17,867,927 51	$60,094,202 93
November 1,	41,062,813 94	16,147,790 44	57,210,604 38

1834.
January 1,	38,609,069 46	16,302,392 24	54,911,461 70
February 1,	37,544,252 82	17,298,720 82	54,824,973 64
March 1,	37,381,131 86	18,786,698 00	56,167,829 86
1833.	Public Deposites.	Private Deposites.	Total.
October 1,	9,868,435 58	8,008,862 78	17,877,298 36
November 1,	8,232,311 18	7,285,041 88	155,173,53 06
December 1,	5,162,260 63	6,827,173 10	11,989,433 73
1834.
January 1,	4,230,509 63	6,734,866 06	10,965,375 69
February 1,	3,066,561 72	6,715,312 60	9,781,874 32
March 1,	2,604,233 62	7,343,129 92	9,947,363 54

1833.	Specie.	Circulation.
October 1,	10,663,141 51	19,128,189 57
November 1,	10,342,160 46	18,518,000 57
December 1,	9,818,529 25	18,650,912 90
1834.
January 1,	10,031,237 72	19,208,379 90
February 1,	10,523,385 69	19,260,472 90
March 1,	10,385,439 15	18,523,189 00

From this statement it will be perceived, that, from the 1st of October to the 1st of March, the total reduction in the line of local discounts was $4,845,143 56
While there has been an increase in the domestic bills of 918,770 49

Making the total reduction of loans 3,926,373 07
During the same period the reduction of the public deposites was 7,264,201 96
And of the private deposites, 665,732 86

Making a total reduction of deposites of 7,929,934 82
During the same time, the specie of the Bank has diminished 278,002 36
And the circulation of the Bank 605,000 57

The comparison of the two periods will be more obvious from the following tabular statements:—

	Loans.	Deposites.
October 1, 1833,	60,094,202 93	17,877,298 36
March 1, 1834,	56,157,829 86	9,947,363 54
	2,926,373 07	7,929,934 82

	Circulation.	Specie.
October 1, 1833,	19,128,189 57	10,663,441 51
March 1, 1834,	18,523,189 00	10,385,439 15
	605,000 57	278,002 36

The general result of the operations of the Bank during the last five months has been—

1st. That the reduction of the loans has not been, by upwards of four millions of dollars, as great as the reduction of deposites;—and

2d. That the withdrawal of nearly eight millions of dollars, of those funds on which the Bank has based its accommodations to the community, has not yet been followed by a reduction of accommodation equal to one half the amount of funds thus withdrawn.

3d. That from the 1st of January to the 1st of March, the increase in the line of domestic bills amounted to nearly two millions and a half of dollars.

4th. That during the same period there has been an actual increase in the total loans of the Bank of 1,256,368 dollars 16 cents.

The Committee cannot regret the smallness of this reduction during the last five months, nor even the actual increase of its loans since the 1st of January, because both have arisen from the strong desire of the Bank to give every relief to the community consistent with its own safety. But they cannot forbear to express their deliberate conviction that these reductions are much less than are required for its security during the present unsettled state of the currency: and that it has now become the duty of the Bank, gently but steadily to diminish the amount of the claims upon it by continuing to lessen its business.

Whereupon, on motion of Mr. Newkirk, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That as much misapprehension appears to exist throughout the country in regard to the reduction of the loans of the Bank since the removal of the Government Deposites, the foregoing Report be published for the general information.

Extract from the minutes. S. JAUDON, Cashier.

FIGURE HEAD.

We learn that by order of the Navy Department, the cut-water of the U. S. Frigate Constitution, (a ship dear to every American,) now repairing at the Navy Yard in Charlestown, is to be surmounted with a colossal figure of Andrew Jackson. The work is to be executed by Laban S. Beecher, of this city, and is already in a state of forwardness. It will represent the General dressed in his ordinary riding cloak, holding his hat and cane in one hand, in the other a scroll of the Constitution.—Mercantile Jour.

We copy the above for the purpose of correcting an error, and to append a statement relative to the repair of the Constitution. Some time since, during Mr. Secretary Branch's administration of the Navy Department, he reported to the President that the Constitution could not be repaired, and must be broken up. Gen. Jackson, knowing the patriotic recollections associated with the name and fame of old 'Ironsides,' promptly said, as he did of the Federal Union, on another occasion, 'THE CONSTITUTION MUST BE PRESERVED;' and directed that she should be thoroughly repaired, and restored as nearly as possible to her original model.

The repairs now making are in obedience to those orders. The ornaments put upon the ship, are not by the order of the Navy Department, but by the order of the Commandant of the Navy Yard. The old figure head was originally a colossal wooden figure of a man—after that, a common billet head was substituted. In ornamenting her anew, the Commandant of the Yard, that brave and excellent officer, the gallant Commodore Elliot, has ordered her stern to be decorated with the likenesses of her former brave commanders, HULL, BAINBRIDGE, and STEWART, and the bow, with the figure of General JACKSON, the Commander of the Army and Navy of the United States, in the act of giving his positive order for her preservation. Nothing could be more appropriate, and none more popular throughout the Union, we are sure.

The inflammatory placard, relative to this matter, posted up in this city on Saturday, and copied into the Boston Transcript and Evening Gazette, is the offspring of some poor driveller, who dare not own his name, or avow the authorship, and condemned by all the decent part of the opposition.—Boston Post.

The mining business in North Carolina is represented in the journals published in the Gold Districts, to be in a most prosperous condition. North Carolina furnishes to the mint more than half of the gold received from all the States, and it is said that the Mint does not receive more than half of the gold found in that State. A large quantity, equal to that coined, is sold to manufacturers, or exported as bullion.

BALTIMORE MARKET.

Office of the American, March 11, Evening.

FLOUR.—The wagon price has fallen to $4 25 per bbl. Single loads have been bought at that price, although in some instances a fraction higher has been paid. Most of the receipts are going into store on account of the country owners. We hear of no sales from stores, and cannot quote a price.

Sales of several hundred bbls. City Mills $4 50, interest added, and at $4 62½, on 90 days' credit without interest.

GRAIN.—We know of no sales of Wheat. Prime white Corn has been offered to-day at 50 cents, and prime yellow at 48, but there are no purchasers. A parcel of white was sold to-day, for town consumption, at 48 cts. The wagon price of Cloverseed is $4 a 4.25, and the store price $4 25 a 4 50. Small lots of very prime have brought $4 62½.

THE BEAUTIFUL SPOTTED HORSE

YOUNG DIOMEAD,

Will travel in Dorchester county this spring, at the following rates, viz: Five Dollars the Spring's Chance, (to be discharged by four dollars, if paid the last time round)—Two Dollars the Single Leap—and Eight Dollars to insure. No insurance except by special contract; and no money to be paid to the groom without an order from the subscriber.

The season to commence on Monday, 10th March, instant, and end on the 15th of June.

This horse, starting for the lower part of the county on Monday next, the 10th instant, and for the upper part, on the following Monday, the 17th, will travel in those sections once a fortnight throughout the season.

Diomead is 9 years old this spring, and is pronounced by the best judges to be a horse of beautiful form, fine bone, sinews of great strength and fine action; the strength of the dray and activity of the sprightly saddle horse are united in him, which, added to his beauty, promise the useful, elegant and valuable horse, either for the saddle or harness.

Nearly all the mares he went to last season are in foal; and there is no doubt that he is a very sure foal-getter.

the same being part of the real estate of the late William Jenkins, deceased. This farm contains one hundred and eighteen acres and one half of an acre of land, more or less, and rents at this time for $425 per annum.
