Talavera Wheat.

THE subscriber offers for sale a few hundred bushels of "Talavera" Seed Wheat, which he has taken much pains to preserve pure. It is a smooth head and white wheat; grows a vigorous and tall stalk; and is very productive. From his experiments, fairly made, in the last two years, and especially that of the last winter, in comparison with the "Blue Straw," "the Red Chaff White," and "the Smooth White," under like circumstances, in various soils, and situations, its character as the most hardy wheat is established in his opinion:—Branching largely, it requires less for seed; and, from its superior strong growth, it will probably, as is said of it, "considerably resist the Fly."

The price will be the same it cost him—two dollars per bushel.

Jacob and Kit.

JACOB, who calls himself Jacob Ennalls, is about thirty or forty years old, five feet six or eight inches high, and spare made, with a thin visage and a chesnut colour. He wears whiskers, and has a scar on his upper lip, from a bite in fighting—one of his great toes is also disfigured, in consequence of having been mashed when he was a boy, by the fore part of an ox cart against the tongue. He has good use of carpenter's tools—wore away blue kersey pantaloons and roundabout, old drab great coat and fur hat—and has twenty five or thirty dollars in his possession.

KIT, or Christopher Macer, as he styles himself, is about thirty years old, five feet six or seven inches high, well made, and has rather a high forehead, with a light chesnut color, and a considerable impediment in his speech. He took with him a light drab colored box coat, and several suits of clothing which are not particularly recollected.

For the apprehension of either of these negroes, thirty dollars will be given if taken in the county, or fifty dollars if taken out of the county and in the state, or one hundred and twenty five dollars if taken out of the state, provided he be delivered to the subscriber, or secured so that he gets him again. Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That the second section of the original act to which this is a supplement, be and the same is hereby repealed.

Sec. 3. And be it enacted, That the provisions of this act shall not be construed to apply to Baltimore county.

An act for the benefit of the securities for the appearance of Insolvent Petitioners within this State.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That from and after the passage of this act, any surety for the appearance of an insolvent petitioner under the laws of this State, be and they are hereby authorized and empowered, and are hereby invested with the same powers, to bring the said insolvent petitioner into court, or before any judge thereof, which special bail now have to bring their principal into court, and when the said petitioner shall be so brought into court, or before any judge thereof, he may be surrendered by his surety and committed into the custody of the sheriff, in the same manner as special bail now surrender their principal, and have him committed to the custody of the sheriff—Provided, however, that the said petitioner be so surrendered before or at the first term to which such suit shall be brought upon the bond for the appearance of such petitioners.

Sec. 2. And be it enacted, That every sheriff into whose custody an insolvent petitioner shall be committed as aforesaid, shall keep said petitioner in custody, and bring the said petitioner into court on the day named in such petitioner's bond for his appearance, and on each day thereafter, until the court, in which the petition of such insolvent petitioner is pending, shall have passed judgment thereupon; and if the said court shall dismiss or quash the said petition, or shall grant a final discharge to the said petitioner, then the said sheriff shall immediately thereafter discharge the said petitioner from his custody; and the said petitioner shall be discharged from custody also, if he shall enter into another bond, with surety to be approved by the court, for appearance as aforesaid, or performance of the conditions of the former bond remaining to be performed.
