THE CHRONICLE.

CAMBRIDGE—MD.

SATURDAY MORNING, April 27, 1844.

Death of Judge Baldwin.—The Philadelphia U. S. Gazette of yesterday says—

The Honorable Henry Baldwin, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, died at his lodgings at the Merchants' Hotel, in this city, at a quarter past nine o'clock, last evening.

Treaty with Texas.—It will be seen by the letter of our Washington correspondent, that the Treaty with Texas was yesterday laid before the Senate, which immediately went into secret session—so that the fate of this eventful measure will probably be determined in the course of the present week, so far as regards the action of the senate. Should it be rejected, it is not improbable that it will be presented to the consideration of both houses of congress, by joint resolution.—Balt. Clipper.

The Tariff Bill taken up.—The House of Representatives yesterday, contrary to our expectations, took up the tariff bill, and proceeded to its consideration.—Ib.

Death of a Soldier 109 years old.—The Kaskaska (Illinois) Republican recently noticed the death, in that vicinity, of John Stufflebean, aged 109 years. He was born on the banks of the Hudson river, twelve miles from Albany, in the State of New York, February 15, 1735. His eye sight was unimpaired, almost to the last, and he never had occasion for the use of spectacles.

Business in Boston.—The Bay State Democrat says, the wharves of the city are crowded with shipping, and our business streets with well loaded teams. Every thing looks lively and cheerful, from the heads of the mercantile houses, chatting on 'Change, to the very porters. Our hotels are crowded with visitors, and our stores with purchasers. Business prospects generally, were never better in Boston.

The May Conventions.—Our city is already beginning to receive strangers from a distance who desire to remain and participate in the proceedings of the several Conventions to be held in this city in May next.

The Prize Banner now at Messrs. Caris & Schultz's is an object of great attraction, and elicits high encomiums from all who see it. Some thousands of persons including citizens and strangers of both sexes, have called to examine it since its completion.

Preparations of various kinds are contemplated and many are now in active progress—some for the accommodation of the numerous guests expected, and others to add to the interest of the Procession and increase the inducements to visit the city. The General Committee of Arrangements have determined on erecting a grand Triumphal Arch at the corner of Calvert and Baltimore streets, and probably another at the entrance of the place of meeting. Some of the spirited citizens in Baltimore street also contemplate the erection of Arches at other points.

The first of May, the day before the assembling of the Convention of Ratification, the Fifty-Third Regiment of Infantry will parade under the command of Col. J. G. DAVIS. We also learn that Col. D. has invited Capt. RINGGOLD, commanding the well disciplined and highly efficient corpse of United States Flying Artillery, to join the regimental parade. The manoeuvres of this well drilled corpse will doubtless be highly gratifying to the large number of persons from different parts of the Union who will be present.

The Whigs of Fell's Point are preparing a beautiful model ship, which will be drawn in the procession on a car fitted for the purpose. This will be a very appropriate compliment to MR. CLAY, who has ever been regardful of the interests of American Commerce.—Balt. American.

ARRIVAL OF GEN. WADDY THOMPSON.—Gen. WADDY THOMPSON, late Minister of the United States to Mexico, arrived at New Orleans on the 12th instant, in the U. S. brig Bainbridge, Com'r. MATTISON, which left Vera Cruz on the 1st instant.

Gen. THOMPSON, previous to his departure, visited SANTA ANA at his country seat, and obtained, by his earnest solicitation in their behalf, the liberation of the remainder of the Texan prisoners taken in September 1842, at San Antonio de Bexar.

Gen. Thompson was to remain in New Orleans but a day or two.

Oregon.—The St. Louis Reporter of the 11th inst. has the following:

"Another company of emigrants to the Oregon, of whom General Gilliam is the chief, is now encamped on the south side of Missouri, opposite Caple's Landing. Our hardy pioneers will soon settle the Oregon question.'

TRIAL OF MATTHEWS, THE PIRATE.—The trial of this individual, which was to have come up before the U. States Circuit Court of New York on Tuesday, was postponed until the 25th inst. the day on which Babe, his comrade in crime, is to be executed.

Matthews, in his affidavit, praying a postponement on account of the non-attendance of material witnesses, states that he has been in prison since the 3d of Aug. last, and without means or money to make provision for trial—that his father and other relatives are poor, and not able to assist him—that he was born at Whitehaven, on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, and plied in small traders from there till he joined the Sarah Lavinia, up to which time he had never been outside the Capes of Virginia, and knew nothing of navigation, nor had he ever been acquainted with any of the persons on board the Sarah Lavinia. The greater part of his life has been passed at Whitehaven, and if permitted, he will show by the testimony of many persons that he was of good character, had never committed any offence or incurred any reproach. He has written to Whitehaven, and had reason to believe that the witnesses would have voluntarily come on, but he received a letter from his father saying that they would not probably come without being subpœnaed.

Mr. Clay at Norfolk.—The Hon Henry Clay arrived at Norfolk early on Sunday morning, and attended divine worship at Christ (Protestant Episcopal) Church There was to have been a grand reception and entertainment given him yesterday, and all the newspapers of that borough announce that in consequence of the ceremonies, they will suspend their publication to-day. Mr. Clay will attend a levee ball this evening, which has been tendered him by the citizens of Norfolk.

The guests at Barnum's Hotel were treated to green peas at dinner yesterday.

FATHER MATHEW.—Father Mathew, the great apostle of temperance—esteemed almost a prophet in his native land—comes to America in the month of June on a visit of philanthropy, to assist in the amelioration of the moral condition of his race.—Grant that his mission will be as fruitful as his presence will be welcome to the philanthropist of every class and religious sect. Although much has been done to eradicate that species of human madness, which leads so many to death and disruction. yet much more remains to be accomplished, and we, with hundreds of thousands besides, shall hail the presence of Father Mathew amongst us as the harbinger of a new era to the great cause of physical and moral regeneration. Coming as he does fresh from his gigantic labours of love amongst the warm-hearted Irish, there will linger about him something of the deep poetical character of that people, which it will be good to inhale. He brings with him testimonials signed by millions of his countrymen, with their prayers that Heaven may bless him and keep him long on the earth, and the sound of his voice echoing throughout our land will be as a trumpet call, rousing the almost dormant spirit of reform to renewed life and activity.

From a sketch published in a Dublin paper, we learn that the Rev. Theobald Mathew is a native of Thomastown, County of Tipperary, and is related to the family of Lord Landoff. Soon after his ordination he was appointed to officiate in Cork. where he has since that time resided. In that city his earlier services were devoted to the instruction of young men in religious knowledge. In character he is represented to be gentle, amiable and winning in deportment polished, and even courtly. His habits are in strict accordance with his profession, his charities are many and unostentatious, and his popularity with all classes and conditions, unlimited by diversity of religous opinion, is broad and enduring. Mr. M. is remarkable for his decision of character—cautious in forming, but firm in maintaining his opinion. In short he is represented as a man peculiarly fit for the high duties which Providence seems to have destined him to prform.

That he will be welcomed to our shores by eager multitudes there can be no doubt; and we trust that very many who now drain the bowl to excess, and are sunk in dissipation, a curse to themselves and terror to their families, will have reason to bless the mission of mercy which brings the good old man to America.—Baltimore Sun.

Troubles in Oregan.—The St. Louis Republican says that letters have been recieved from Oregan as late as the 20th of October. One letter says that the settlement had been threatened with an "Indian war," by a combination of three of the most powerful Indian tribes west of the Rocky Mountains, and although, when united and acting in concert, they are said to be abundantly able to destroy all the Indians in the Territory, still, without union, they may be cut off in detail. The letter continues:

"We have also had Trouble about land claims, and have the prospect of course, of much more, as the country becomes more thickly settled.—Under these circumstances we have been obliged to form a government of our own, and have accordingly adopted the constition and laws of the Territory of Iowa, with various alterations and additions: have chosen an Executive committee of three, viz: A. Beers. D. Hill, and J. Gale; a supreme Judge, Russell, a secretary of the Territory, G. W. LeBreton; justices of the peace, a high sherriff, a legislative committee &c. &c. We have also a local and a general temperance society, of which the Rev. Jason Lee is president, and I have the honor of being secretary. I am also recorder and clerk of the court, and these offices, with my other avocations, will keep me very much confined."

The Oregan Negociation.—This negociation (states the N. Y. Express) has been suspended, all the accounts now concur in saying. It was the wish of this Government to bring the negociation to a close, and to offer a treaty to the Senate simultaneously with the Annexation treaty. But several difficulties interposed. It is stated that there was a want of power on the part of the British Minister to treat upon the basis proposed by Mr. Calhoun. Mr. Calhoun proposed his ultimatum, to wit: the parallel of 49 as the northern bounbry of the United States. Mr. Packenham's instructions did not allow him to accept it.

BLACK MAIL.—The New York Republic, of Tuesday last, contains a letter from Mr. Henry Wykoff, in reply to an attack on his character by the editor of the Herald, in which are some astounding developments of the black mail system, as practised by Bennett on M'lle Elssler, the danseuse. It is a disgrace to the country that persons should be subjected to a brutal system of espoinage and compelled to pay several thousand dollars black mail to the notorious proprietor of the Herald. We extract the following curious passages from Mr. Wykoff's letter:—

"It gives me pleasure to say that all classes of our people treated M'lle Elssler, during her stay in this country, with that kindness and respect which her uniform good conduct entitled her to.—She had the distinguished honor of being recieved by the first authorities of the land, and by many of our best families in every city she visited in the Union, as also by the nobility of Havanah. Everywhere she deported herself with the strictest propety, as is her wont, and everywhere recieved the most marked and flattering testimonials of good feeling, both private and public. There were some exceptions to this from certain well known and scurrilous journals; but the only one it is now necessary to mention was the 'New York Herald.'

"I had informed Mlle Elssler of the disagreeable necessity of conciliating this odious paper, and she therefore consented to recieve its Editor. He called ten minutes after her arrival at the American Hotel, and offered his pen and journal unconditionally for her use. I excepted it on her behalf, and he straightway began the most extravagant "puffs," which he evidently continued for the profit they brought him in the increase of his circulation. During the summer '40, Mlle. Elssler made every courteous acknowledgment in her power, and recieved Mrs. Bennett, whom he had lately married, on various occasions. Before her departure for Havana, the winter of the same year, Mlle. Elssler presented Mrs. Bennett with a rich gold bracelet of the value of a hundred dollars.—Her surprise may easily be imagined at hearing afterwards that an abominable attack had been made on her during abscence, and which was systematically repeated till she was on the point of abandoning the country in dismay; for, in all her European experiane, she had never met an individual so lost to decency, so sunk in debasement as this man, who had courted her notice, recieved her presents for his wife, only to repay both with inexcusable infamy.

I suggested to her the only apparent means to stay this foul storm of low abuse, and on her arrival in New York, in the summer of 1841, she bought at Storr and Mortimer's, Broadway, a service of silver for near $500, a case of jewels, consisting of earrings and necklace, of about the amount, and presented them to Mrs. Bennett, who recieved them, of course, most willingly.—This led, for a time, to a truce—and a few days after Bennett wrote a letter, which he dated London, and defended her against the very pack he had set on; but he took that occasion, such is his avidity for vituperation, to abuse several other meritorious artists, among others, the Seguins. Having been made to comprehend the tenure upon which Bennett accorded his services, Mlle. Elssler kept up a pretty active fire of presents during her engagement, among others two splendid dresses for Mrs. Bennett. And in return, "puffs" were regulary inserted, but of a character so vulgar and ridiculous, that Mlle. Elssler would rather have paid to escape them.

"Before his departure from Havana, in Febuary, 1842, she again presented Mrs. Bennett with a rich silver dressing case, bought in New York, and a writing desk of great beauty. But as I knew his venal pen was given to scurilty as the sparks fly upward, I intimated plainly that if he renwed his brutalities during her approaching trip to Havana, he might expect from me certain exposures that would involve him fatally with the many honorable members of the New York press he had so often and insolently outraged. He understood, and feard me. This time Mlle. Elssler escaped any further annoyance, but on her return to New York in '42 she renewed her presents, and even up to the hour of her departure from this country she was under tribute to this craving shark of the press. The last present was a gold pencil case to Bennett, who managed to encounter her just before her embarkation for Boston."

DO NOT FAIL TO REMEMBER thai an unhealthy secretion of gastric juice and bile, causes loss of appetite, indigestion, dyspepsia and inflamation of the stomach. To prevent such secretion, proper medicines should be used. Stainburn's Vegetable Extract Pills, have proved to be a sovereign remedy, entering into the circulation, and thus coming in contact with the causes of the disease, correcting unhealthy secretions over all the system, and causing health to triumph over debility and disease. Stainburn's Vegetable Extract Pills are pronounced to be the most perfect and thorough searching medicine ever produced, being composed of the essential paris of some of the most invigorating vegetables, and fitly adapted to prevent undue secretions; they should be used by all who have a due regard for their health.

The Vegetable Extract Pills are sold by WHITE & ANDERSON, agents for Cambridge, and by agents published in another part of our paper.

MARRIED,

On the 20th of April, by the Rev. L. A. Collins, Mr. WILLIAM SANDERS to Miss ANGELINE CHRISTOPHER, both of this county.

OBITUARY.

Died, at her late residence in Black Water, on Monday the 8th instant, Mrs. LEAH L., consort of Mr. Levin Mowbray, and second daughter of Hooper Rawleigh Esq., in the 34th year of her age.

The many ennobling virtues which adorned the character of the deceased are truly worthy of ramark. In youth she felt the necessity of a pious life, and in the eighteenth year of her age she sought and found the pearl of great price, which through all the various scenes of life proved a comfort to her soul. She was a consistent member of the Methodist E. Church until the hour of her death, and we have no doubt but her happy soul is now exulting in triumph on the shores of eternal bliss. As a wife, she was affectionate and kind—as a mother, she was tender and devotedly attached to her children, and as a neighbor her loss is deeply mourned by all who knew her. She has left behind a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn their irreparable loss. Although she has gone never more to return we have the blessed privilege of going to her, where all sorrow shall forever flee away. We mourn her loss, but thank God, we mourn not as those who are without hope; for, in the struggle with the latest enemy, she testified that she was going to glory, and besought her affectionate husband to bring up her children in the "nurture and admonition of the Lord," and with them meet her in heaven. Thus she breathed out her expiring breath, with a blooming hope of meeting her friends who had gone before, and swell the innumerable number that surround the throne of God.—May she rest in peace. H.

CHANCERY SALE.

BY virtue of a Decree of the High Court of Chancery I will offer at public sale on WEDNESDAY the 22nd day of MAY next, at Corner's Store in the Neck district, between the hours of 11 & 2 o'clock, all the interest of James & Levin Frazier in all that tract or parcel of land of which Levin Frazier late of Dorchester county deceased, died seized and possessed, called "Joseph's Wright," lying and being within about 2 miles of Beckwith's meeting house, and adjoining the land of Perry North and others, on the little Choptank river, and containing eighty acres more or less.

A part of it, say one half, is covered with a very superior quality of timber, and the other land is also of very good description.

The dwelling house and improvements are in a very good condition. The situation is pleasant and eligible on account of its convenience to navigable water, not to speak of luxuries of fish, oysters, &c.

The interest of James and Levin Frazier which will be sold is a remainder interest, dependent upon the life estate of the widow of Levin Frazier deceased—in other words, the purchaser will buy all the interest in the property except the life estate of the said widow. She is at this time about 80 years of age.

The conditions of the sale as prescribed by the Decree, are one fourth of the purchase money cash, and the balance in equal payment of 6, 12 & 18 months, to be secured by bond and security approved by the Trustee. On payment of the entire purchase money a good deed will be given, conveying a clear and indisputable title.

TRUSTEE'S SALE OF VERY VALUABLE PROPERTY.

BY virtue of a Decree of the High Court of Chancery I will offer at public sale, to the highest bidder at Tobaccostick, on next, at the hour of 2 P. M., all the Real Estate of which John Brohawn died seized and possessed consisting of the following tracts and parcels of land, to wit:—"Davis's Chance" one acre more or less, "Lakes Discovery" 21 acres, "North Division" 17 3-4 acres, "Partnership tract" 231 acres, "Composition" 246 acres "Pleasant Grove Regulated and Patison's Privilege" 60 acres, "Norths Adventure" 136 1-2 acres, "Beaver Dam" 17 3-4 acres, and any other lands of which the said John Brohawn died seized. This property is highly valuable and well situated; some of the above tracts are covered with an excellent growth of timber and wood. The Plantation whereon the said John Brohawn resided in his lifetime, is a most delightful and healthful residence, situated immediately on the Choptank river, and at the mouth of Slaughter creek, and has all the advantages of such a location; fish, oyters, wild fowl, in the greatest abundance. The proximity of the farm to the water, affords every opportunity for the highest state of improvement from the great quantity of shells, that may be obtained, with little expense. The improvements on the farm are excellent and rarely exceeded. Indeed the establishment, take it altogether is a most desirable one, and any gentleman desirous of a residence on salt-water, will find that this combines as many essentials to comfort and luxury, as can well be obtained. There are other farms embraced by the above tracts, very convenient to navigation and in which profitable investments may be made. The wood and timber also on other tracts afford an opportunity for speculation. Persons are invited to go and examine the property. These lands are sold for the purpose of division amongst the parties entitled, and clear of the widow's right of dower.

The terms of sale are one fourth cash on the day of sale and the residue on a credit of 6 12 18 & 24 months, with interest from the day of sale to be secured by bond, with surities to be approved by the trustee.
