☞The Orphans' Court of this county will sit on Tuesday next.

William L. Jones, of Somerset county, has been appointed a Member of the Executive Council of Maryland, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Mr. Henry.

The Colonization cause.—The sum of five thousand dollars was lately collected in the town of Pittsburg, in the brief space of two months, to aid the Pennsylvania Colonization Society.

A gentleman arrived at New Orleans direct from Galveston Island, informs the editor of the Louisiana Advertiser that the Texan army, under Gen. Rusk, were encamped at Cox's Point, 2500 strong, and the Mexicans, to the number of 10,000, were making rapid strides towards them, being within a day's march when he left.

The Sabine Passed.—The New Orleans American of the 16th July says: "Mr. Parker, who came passenger in the steamer Choctaw, from Natchitoches, states that Gen. Gaines had crossed the Sabine with the United States troops, and had marched as far as Nacogdoches, Texas, where he had fixed his head quarters.

The New Orleans papers state that by a later steamboat arrival from Natchitoches, the information of the crossing of the Sabine by Gen. Gaines is confirmed. The Bulletin says:—"As well as can be judged by the reports received, it seems he had been engaged for several days in forwarding provisions and military stores previous to passing the river, after which he marched directly on Nacogdoches, having previously called out the troops in garrison in Forts Towson and Gibson, with directions to join him in as short a time as possible."

It is confidently affirmed in the last Texas accounts received at New Orleans, that Gen. Santa Anna had sent despatches to the President of the United States, under cover to Gen. Gaines, requesting the interference of this government to act as mediator between Texas and Mexico. He promises that the Mexican government will acknowledge the Independence of Texas, as that country is forever lost to them. These despatches had been received at New Orleans, and forwarded to Washington.

Dr. Archer is confidently spoken of as the next President of Texas, to succeed Burnet, who is becoming daily more unpopular.

The Indians of the North West.—The following paragraph, which we find in the Galena (Ill.) Gazette, of the 6th ult., is calculated to dissipate all apprehensions of troubles with the Indians on that border:

A ridiculous story is going the rounds of the eastern papers, that Black Hawk has sent the wampum to the Indians of the North West for the purpose of uniting with them in a war with the whites. Strange that intelligent people should continue to remain ignorant of the power to do injury of this broken spirited red man. Black Hawk is no more nor less than a simple individual. He is no chief, and can muster no men; and is, with all, perfectly friendly to the whites. He still lives down near the rapids; and from his advanced years we should suppose him incapable of any acts of aggression, either in thought or deed. The people of this frontier do not apprehend the least danger from the Indians; and were these reports intended for this section, they would be laughed down in less than no time.

The Cincinnati Post of the 26th July publishes a report, brought by a gentleman direct from New Orleans, that the yellow fever was raging in that city, and that many of the Creoles, who are seldom affected by it, had been attacked. The Post adds that the late flood in the Mississippi is supposed to be the cause of its having broken out earlier and with more malignity than usual.

It is proper to remark, says the Baltimore American, that the New Orleans papers up to the 20th July, inclusive, furnish no corroboration of this statement. We perceive by a paper of the 19th that reports of the disease were prevalent there, and in contradiction to one, that the fever was raging among the patients in the Charity Hospital, there is a publication made by the attending physician, in which he declares that there has not been a single case of yellow fever in the hospital this season.

The True American of the 19th notices the excessive heat experienced there, the thermometer for the preceding eight days having ranged from 85° to 98°; and adds that "the city remains very healthy."

The Branch of the United States Bank at Pittsburg, has commenced operations.

A correspondent desires us to state that mad dogs are about the streets of the city.—Balt. Pat.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTIONS.

The election of President and Vice President of the United States, for the term of four years, commencing March 4th, 1837, will be made on Wednesday, the 7th day of December, 1836, the Electors meeting at the Capitals of the respective States in which they are chosen. The choice of Electors must be made within thirty four days of the said first Wednesday of December. The following shows the number of votes to which each State is entitled, with the time of election:

All the States choose by General Ticket, except South Carolina, which chooses by the Legislature. It will be seen that Pennsylvania and Ohio open the ball three days in advance of any of the other States.

Acceptance of the Internal Improvement Act.—It affords us no little satisfaction to inform our readers that the Chesapeake and Ohio Company has accepted the Internal Improvement Act of Maryland. The requisite assent of the two companies being now given to the act, it will of course become operative on the first of August, and will furnish to the Canal Company the three millions which will complete it to Cumberland, and to the Ohio Rail-road Company a like sum of three millions, which, with the additional three millions subscribed by the City, and the funds obtainable from other sources, will guarantee the early extension of the Road to Wheeling and Pittsburg.

We congratulate our fellow citizens at the prospect which is now presented of the speedy completion of the work which will unite our city by the shortest and quickest route to the West, and make her a full participator in the rich and enriching commerce of that vast region.—Balt. Amer.

LATEST FROM SPAIN.

The brig Caroline arrived at this port last evening, from Gibraltar, whence she sailed on the 21st of June. We have the Gibraltar Chronicle of that date, which contains accounts from Madrid to the 14th, and Lisbon to the 11th June.

The bloody character of the contest is appalling. The Jorobado, a half literary, half political journal of Madrid, states that since the commencement of the war in 1833, to the first of April, 1836, there have been killed on the field of battle 280,585 Carlists, and 54,493 taken prisoners. During this period, it says there have been 546 battles, in which the Carlists have been 303 times completely routed, and 243 times partially defeated. The Queen's army has been defeated 80 times, in which it has had 157,874 killed, 89,613 taken prisoners, and lost 41,722 deserters.

THE CROPS.—The Lancaster (Pa.) Journal affords us the gratifying assurance that, although much of the wheat crop has been injured by the fly and a considerable part of the remainder has been very light, yet, extraordinary as it may appear, many farmers have had an excellent crop. The rye is generally very light; not half a crop; the corn is very promising, and an unusual quantity has been planted, owing to the early fears entertained of a failure of the wheat and rye. The oats is very fine, and will, from the same cause, be very abundant, though late sown. The grass was heavy, and, generally speaking, well cured, notwithstanding the unfavorable weather.

THE CROPS.—The Princeton (Ky.) Record of the Times, says:—"The crops have at this time a more promising appearance in this section of country, than usual at this season of the year. The wheat crop is said to be better than common, though somewhat injured in some parts of the country, by the rust and the scab. We have never seen the corn crop look more promising than at present. Tobacco, the staple of our section of the State, promises to reward the labors of the farmer for all his toils."

The Philadelphia and Baltimore Rail road is progressing, notwithstanding the great scarcity of hands and the difficulty to procure workmen. It is expected the road will be completed, and cars placed upon it as far up as Wilmington, (Del.,) by the close of this summer.

The Albany Journal announces the completion of the Utica and Schenectady Rail Road. The first train of cars, drawn by a locomotive engine, ran up and down over the whole line of the road on Monday, 25th. This road, 77 miles in length, has been completed in 21 months at a cost of $20,000 per mile, including every thing.

The New York Express of Friday says: "We learn, from what we consider good authority, that the Loan of 12,000,000 of dollars to the United States Bank, about which so much is now said in the newspapers, has not only not been effected, but that the negociation now going on with the Parisian Bankers, is only for 12,000,000 of francs,—a very material difference."

Altered Notes.—We learn that ten-dollar notes on the Farmers' Bank of Delaware, payable at the Branch Bank at New Castle, altered to $50's, are in circulation in Philadelphia. We also learn that the alteration is exceedingly well done, and calculated to deceive. The genuine $50 notes are printed on red paper.—Delaware Intelligencer.

The New York Star says, that measures are in progress to establish a line of telegraphs from Boston to New York, to extend ultimately to Washington.

More than one thousand persons travel daily between New York and Philadelphia, in the steamboat and rail road lines.

Shrimps no fish—nice technicalities of the law.—A poor devil was brought up at the London police for hawking fish, but the contraband article proving to be 'boiled shrimps,' it could not be comprehended under the prohibited clause of "raw victuals."

$100 REWARD.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, in Washington county, Va., on Saturday night, the 28th May last, a negro man, named or, as he called himself, WATSON, about 30 years old, black complexion, about 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, thick lips, quick spoken, rather a coarse voice, short face, low forehead, and weighing about 170 pounds. He had on when he left a blue broad cloth suit of clothes. It is probable that he is in possession of free papers and will change his name. He can read printing.

It is believed that this negro, the night before he ran off, stole from Mr. John Denison, of my neighborhood, a dark bay horse, about 16 hands high, black mane and tail, one white hind foot, (believed to be the right,) with a white spot upon his back about the size of a dollar, and 7 years old last spring. It is likely that he went off upon this horse. A reward of twenty dollars will be given for returning the horse.

A day or two before Adam ran off, a man by the name of Isaac Hutton left this neighborhood, as he said, for Alabama, but from circumstances which have come to my knowledge, I think it not improbable that Hutton went another course, and took Adam with him. Said Hutton is about 6 feet high, 22 or 23 years of age, slender form, and is much addicted to drunkenness and gambling.

I will give the above reward of one hundred dollars for the apprehension and delivery of Adam to me, and pay all reasonable expenses for bringing him home; or one hundred dollars for securing him in jail, so that I get him again. I will also pay the reward of $20 for the delivery of Mr. Denison's horse.

WOOL CARDING.

THE subscriber returns his acknowledgments for the liberal patronage received last year, and informs the public that he intends to continue the

at the Mill formerly owned by William Dines, near Ennalls's Camp Ground.

The Carding Machines attached to the Mill are in excellent repair and fine condition for carding. He hopes, by strict and personal attention to his business, to merit a share of public patronage, and doubts not that all who favor him with their custom will be fully satisfied with his work. The rates are, for once through, six cents per pound—twice through, eight cents. Persons are requested to pick and grease their wool well before sending it to the Mill; and those sending wool of various colors, which they wish mixed, will be particular to have such colours pulled together.

business, at Mr. Wright's Mill, (formerly Dines's,) in its various branches, where all orders in his line will be promptly executed in a manner unsurpassed, on this Shore, for durability, neatness and elegance. He particularly solicits the patronage of the Ladies, for, having chiefly devoted his attention to that branch of his business which comprises "Ladies' Work," he is confident they will be singularly pleased with the style in which he will fulfil their commands. Having worked in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, in some of the first establishments there, he possesses a full knowledge of his business; and being in regular correspondence with several leading houses in Baltimore, he keeps himself supplied with the newest and best articles, as well as advised of the latest fashions. He, therefore, pledges himself that his work shall not be excelled in point of style or any quality which renders it desirable, by that of any other establishment on the Eastern Shore; and the Ladies, especially, far and near, would do well to give him a trial. He has constantly employed several first rate workmen, and keeps always on hand a stock of superior materials, such as French Morocco and Lasting, with various descriptions of Leather, &c., &c.

NOTICE.

All persons indebted to the subscriber, are earnestly requested to discharge their respective accounts, notes, or judgments immediately. Very early and extensive collections are positively indispensable to the accomplishment of views the fulfilment of which is deemed of paramount importance to his interests; and it was with an eye to such collections, that, some weeks ago, he commenced drawing off and exhibiting, indiscriminately, his accounts, with the full determination to present, for payment, as soon as practicable, every claim he holds. Only a few, comparatively, have, as yet, been rendered; but, if possible, all will be laid before those against whom they respectively are, by the 15th or 20th of next month; and as it would be inconvenient for him to wait for the amount of any of them beyond the first of September next, he trusts all will do him the favor to settle previously. After that day, he will be compelled, however reluctantly, to transfer all his accounts, which may still remain unliquidated, to other hands; as he determinately designs to go to Missouri for the purpose of making investments, &c.; and, as, consequently, it will be utterly out of his power to attend personally to their adjustment.

Although he has, in the prosecution of the determination alluded to, presented claims amounting to three thousand dollars, without having as yet received as many hundred, still, he does hope, that the same liberality and kindness which led his debtors to avail themselves of his services, will, to say nothing of their sense of justice, induce them to favor him with prompt payment at a moment when it is so important to him. As most of his accounts are small, it can be an affair of not much moment to those indebted, whether they are discharged a week or a month sooner or later; whilst to him, the inconvenience, expense and unpleasant results of a few days' delay, might be considerable. In order, therefore, to render settlement previous to the time specified, certain, it is hoped no opportunity to effect it will be suffered to pass unimproved. ☞All who may not visit Cambridge, in time to liquidate their accounts as early as it is desired, will, doubtless, be enabled to forward the amount through the hands of some one, or to remit it (as near as possible) by mail; and this, it is presumed, they will, of course, do.

The task of preparing and presenting all the accounts to be found in his books, is a very formidable one to be accomplished in a few weeks; and it is hoped many will call and settle forthwith, without waiting for the rendition of their bills. They would thereby not only diminish his labor, but meet his wishes. Besides, in so great a multitude of accounts, it is highly probable some will be, for the moment, overlooked, while others may miscarry.

He might here enlarge. In strong terms might he appeal to those indebted to him for the fruits of his severe labor and many expenditures—labor and expenditures which have for years been cheerfully appropriated to their amusement, instruction or advantage. But it were useless. It is enough for the ingenuous debtor to know that the engagements of his creditor constrain him to desire a settlement; and the undersigned will not permit himself to doubt that those who, by their uniform courtesy, kindness and patronage, have imposed upon him a heavy debt of gratitude, will essentially enhance the obligations he is under to them, by punctually complying, on this occasion, with the wishes of their obedient servant,

P. S. It is due to the friends and patrons of the establishment and the public generally, to state that it is confidently believed the "Chronicle," whose auspices were perhaps never more flattering, will not suffer in consequence of the advertiser's absence. The concern will be left in competent hands, and he does not fear that the paper will at all deteriorate.

His creditors will please exhibit their claims, by the 1st of September aforeseid.
