LIFE.

Cling not to earth; there's nothing there,
However loved, however fair,
But on its features still must wear
The impress of mortality.

Cling not to earth; as well we may
Trust Asia's serpent's wanton play,
That only glitters to betray
To death or else to misery.

Dream not of friendship; there may be
A word, a smile, a grasp for thee;
But wait the hour of need, and see,
Nor wonder at their fallacy.

Think not of beauty; like the rest,
It bears a lustre on its crest;
But short the time ere stands confesssed
Its falsehoods or its frailty.

Then cling no more so fondly on
The flowers of Earth around thee strown;
They'll do awhile to sport upon,
But not to love so fervently.

Strength of the Human Frame.—At the late anniversary of the opening of the Surry Zoological Gardens, some amazing feats of strength were exhibited by two Frenchmen. One of them successfully resisted the united efforts of two horses to drag him from a platform on which he was lying; and the other, while suspended by his feet from a crossbeam raised into the air a horse of extraordinary size.

Hard drinking. The Boston Mercantile Journal says that in a quarrel between a drunken husband and angry wife, she berated him thus: "Och ye varment, ye leave me to get bread for the childer, and bring nothing home but your drunken carcass—ye drink'd up your pick-ax last Wednesday, and to day ye have drink,d up your saw and horse, so ye have."

Waking himself. A Dutchman, the other day, bid an extraordinary price for an alarm clock; and gave as a reason," Dat he loff'd to rise early, he had notin to do but to bul the string, and he could wake himself."

QUICK WORK.—How they do things on Rock River, (Michigan) — Not long since, a young man reached a settlement on Monday, surveyed his ground on Tuesday, built a house on Wednesday, 'got married' on Friday, moved home on Saturday, and with his wife, like the rest of settlers, went to church on Sunday.

CHANCERY SALE.

PURSUANT to authority derived from the Hon. Chancellor of Maryland, I will sell to the highest and best bidder, all the right, title, and interest of John Hubbard, Jas. Hubbard, Sarah Ann Hubbard, Thomas S. Hubbard and Mary Elizabeth Hubbard to the

of which Nancy Hubbard died, seized—This property lies in the neighborhood of Tobaccostick, and is said to have been sold to Samuel Brohawn, in his life time for taxes—the trustee believes there is no evidence of title or of any sale in any office where it ought to be found if in existence. From all the evidence of which he is in possession, the trustee believes the title of the aforesaid Hubbard is entirely susceptible of maintenance.

The sale will take place on SATURDAY the 20th of MAY next, between the hours of two and three, at the store house of Wm. D. Barrow, Esq.; and the terms will be one fourth cash, the balance in six and twelve months from the day of sale, with interest from the day of sale, secured by bond and security approved by the trustee.

H. PAGE, Trustee.

April 29 5w

☞Since the above advertisement appeared in this paper several months ago, (with some alteration as to the time of sale) I have seen some deeds purporting to convey title to some purchasers. I believe, however, the title is good in the Hubbards, and should the title be defective in any particular, the purchase money with interest and all costs shall be returned to the purchaser at any time, if demanded in two years from the time of sale. HENRY PAGE,

May 13 Trustee.

The sale of the above is postponed until Saturday the 27th inst.

H. PAGE, Trustee.

Caution.

I see in the last Chronicle, land advertised to be sold the 20th inst., by Mr. Page as trustee. "It is stated to have been sold to Samuel Brohawn in his life time for taxes," and the trustee further states that "he believes there is no evidence of title or any sale, in any office where it ought to be found, if in existence. From all the evidence the trustee is in possession of, he believes the title of the Hubbard's is entirely susceptible of maintenance." This land was sold by the Collector of this county to John Staplefort, and deeded to him by the Collector, in his life time. Staplefort sold the land to Samuel Brohawn; but Brohawn died without a deed, leaving the subscriber his executor, to whom Staplefort deeded the land by a deed of trust, and the subscriber has, since then, deeded the same to Samuel Brohawn, son of the said deceased Brohawn. All three of the deeds are recorded in the Clerks Office, where I suppose they ought to be, and ought, I think, to be considered as evidence of title. This land lies near Black-water river, on the south side, about three miles from Mr. James Smith's, and part of a tract called "Herrin Point." The above is a statement of facts, such as can be sustained.

The New-Yorker.

QUARTO EDITION.

THE publishers of the "New-Yorker," encouraged by the generous and steadily increasing patronage which has hitherto rewarded their exertions, propose to issue from the commencement of their third volume, on the 26th of March ensuing, a new Double Quarto Edition of their journal, not instead of, but in addition to, the one now published. Advertisements, except possibly a few of a strictly literary character, will be entirely excluded; and, in addition to all the matter presented in the folio New-Yorker, the quarto will contain a page of popular music, &c. &c., and be accompanied by a handsome title-page and comprehensive index at the close of the volume.

The general features of the New-Yorker will remain essentially as they have heretofore been. Its columns will contain—

I. General Literature. Original Tales, Essays, Reviews, Poems, &c., with corresponding selections from the Quarterlies, Monthlies, and all the best class of periodicals, foreign and American, with choice extracts from new works of substantial excellence. The Editor acknowledges with pride and gratitude his obligation to his regular contributors—and among them are some whose names have shed lustre on the cause of American literature—for the steadfast support hitherto afforded him, and the confidence with which he is now enabled to assure the public that it will not soon be withdrawn. He takes pleasure in recalling the fact, that, since the establishment of the New Yorker, no other journal has afforded an equal extent and variety, of the productions of all eminent American writers of whatever section or class—a characteristic which he hopes it may still preserve; while his selections from the best foreign works have been exceeded—in quantity at least—by those of but three or four among the myriad of the cis-Atlantic periodicals.

II. National Politics. It has been the aim of the Editor to present a full and fair exhibit of the aspects, movements and struggles of parties in our country, including the meeting of Conventions, nomination of candidates for State and National offices, and all other significant manifestations of political feeling, with the general results of elections, as fast as ascertained, and the official canvass in each instance, as soon as it shall have reached us. This course is believed to be in many respects original with this journal; and it is considered that we have just cause of felicitation in the fact, that, pursued as it has been through two years of unremitted political warfare, the fairness and general accuracy of our statements and returns have very rarely, if ever, been questioned. The Editor reserves to himself the right of remarking, as circumstances may seem to require and justice to dictate, on the less exciting political topics of the day, as on all others, with calmness, deference and moderation; but he will strive—he trusts not less successfully than hitherto—to exclude from the columns of the New-Yorker every observation, reflection, or even argument, which may wantonly do violence to the sincere convictions of any well-informed reader, of whatever principle or patry.

III. General Intelligence. In this department we can only promise the most unwearied industry and patience in the collection, condensation, and arrangement of the news, foreign and domestic, which may be gathered from the weekly reception of four hundred journals, including some choice European periodicals, and which may be afforded us by by the attention of our friends abroad.

Literary Notices, Statistics, brief notices of works of Art, Amusements, the Drama, &c. &c., will from time to time be given. As a general rule, however, it will be the aim of the Editor to embody each article whether original or selected, at least all to combine instruction with amusement.
