POETRY.

THE SAVIOUR'S LOVE.

Tell me not of all the treasures
India's mine so deep conceals;
Tell me not of all the pleasures
That the worlding's spirit feels.

Tell me not of all the glory,
That surrounds the monarch's throne;
Tell me not of the oft-told story
Of the greatest actions done.

Tell me not of beauty's glances,
Brighter than the skies above;
Tell me not of joy that dances
Round the shrine of wedded love.

Tell me not of fragrant roses—
Fading as the hues of even,
When the sun at length reposes
In the farthest verge of heaven.

These, our childhood' hours adorning.
From our manhood flee away,
As the transient mists of morning
From before the rising day.

But upon the stormy ocean
Of our rough and troubled life,
What can quell the soul's commotion?
What can calm the dreadful strife?

When the heart is torn with sorrow—
When from home and friends we're cast;
When the prospect of the morrow,
Are still darker than the past;

Is there nought of consolation
For the weary, wand'ring heart?
Nought that to its desolation
Life and sunshine can impart?

Yes! there does exist a power
That its darkness can remove;
That can cheer the loneliest hour—
'Tis our Saviour's boundless love

INVENTION OF PRINTING.

The fourth century of the invention of printing was celebrated in Edinburg, on Wednesday, July 12th, in the Theatre Royal, in the abscenoe of Lord Jeffry, who was obliged by indisposition, to decline taking the chair. Thomas Campbell, Esq. presided. The following song was sung in the course of the evening, by Mr. Hately printer. It was written for the occasion, by Mr. A. Smart, printer; the music by George Croall.

When liberty first sought a home on the earth,
No altar the godess could find,
Till art's greatest triumph to printing gave birth,
And her temple she reared in the mind.
The phantoms of ignorance shrunk from the sight,
And tyrany's visage grew wan,
As wildly he traced in the volume of light,
The pledge of redemption to man.

All hail the return of the glorious day,
When freedom her banner unfurled,
And sprung from the press the Promtheean ray,
That dawn'd o'er a slumbering world!
When science exulting in freedom and might,
Unveil'd to the nation's her eye,
And wav'd from her tresses, refulgent in light,
A glory that never can die.

The mighty enchanter, whose magical key
Unlock'd all the fountain's of mind,
The thoughts of the mighty in triumph set free,
In cloister'd confusion confined,
The lay of the poet, the lore of the sage,
Burst forth from obscurity's gloom;
And started to life, in the wonderful page,
The glories of Greece and Rome.

Great ark of our freedom! the press we adore—
Our glory and power are in thee;
A voice thou hast wafted to earth's farthest shore—
The shout of the great and the free.
The surf's galling fetters are burst by thy might;
The empire of reason is thine;
And nations rejoice in the glorious light
Which flows from a fountain divine.

A DISCOVERY of a regular Practitioner of Medicine, and prepared exclusively by him—for the cure of Pulmonary Diseases—first of which ranks Consumption; also, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Dropsy of the Chest, Inflamation of the Bronchiæ, Common Colds, Coughs, and in fact all diseases attended with preternatural excitement.

Read the following voluntary testimonial given by gentlemen of the first respectability, and of known probity—one of whom, Samuel Brown, esq. is the present sheriff, of the county of Burlington, N. J.

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that we have been acquainted with Dr. H. H. Higbee, for the last eight years, and that about five years ago he was supposed to be very far gone with pulmonary consumption; that he was so ill as to be confined to his room, and no one looked for his recovery When, after remaining in this state for some time, he commenced taking a medicine prepared by himself, and very soon recovered his health, to the surprise of every one who knew him. His success in the treatment of pulmonary consumption, and diseases of the lungs generally, since he regained his own health, has been perfectly astonishing. Several persons within our knowledge have been restored from APPARENTLY the last stage of the disease by his medicine, and in no instance, where the disease was taken early, has he failed to effect a cure. We consider it to be a duty which we owe to the cause of humanity, to give this public testimonial of our confidence in the medical skill of Dr. Higbee, and of the efficacious effects of his remedy for pulmonary diseases.

THE Editor of the "The Delawarean," published at Wilmington, Del. now proposes to publish a Newspaper Directory, and therefore asks as a favor, that each paper published in the United States, will forward him, by mail, one copy of their paper. He intends to arrange them by States, giving their politics, &c. For this favor, each editor sending his paper, shall receive one copy of the Directory, as soon as made ready. The advantages of a sheet of this kind to publishers must be apparent to all.

☞Editors will please copy the above once or twice, in order to give it circulation.

The N. York Express.

The New-York Express is a Daily and semi-weekly Newspaper, lately established in the City of New-York, by JAMES BROOKS of Portland, Maine, and ROBERT HUDSON, of Hudson's News Rooms. The price of the daily is ten dollars, and of the Semi-weekly, four dollars in advance, and five if not paid within the year.

Subscribers not known to the proprietors are expected to give references in New York, unless the money accompanies their order. The proprietors know full well that in the management of a daily newspaper in New-York, the editors must neither sleep nor slumber upon their posts, and while thousands of their fellow citizens are in their beds, that is the time for them to be at their desk, but they are prepared for this exertion. They have the health, spirits and the age for such an encounter and are ready for it knowing full as they do, the activity of some of their contemporaries and their indefatigable exertions never to be outdone.—But nevertheless, they think there is room for them. New York is increasing with a rapidity that defies calculation and mocks at prophecy—marching onwards even with tides that threaten a close approximation to the empire city of the commericial world over the sea: and sure in all this vigorous and marvellous growth, a new Journal may succeed, where others have, when New-York was, as it were, but in her swathing clothes, and not the giant she now is—with her thousand arms stretching over both the old world and new. In such a great city then; the heart of our vast land, and the link between that land and Europe—where no taxes upon paper, no stamps, no restrictions upon the Press, encumber and overload the business of Journalizing, there is ample scope and range enough for us and all our contemporaries too.

The great and primary object of the proprietors is to create a commercial Newspaper, but it is just as impossible to live in this hot political world of ours without mingling in politics, as to go into the fire without being burnt. True, when the Whigs aver that two and two make four, and the friends of Mr. Van Buren aver that two and two make three and a half, they could take the ground of neutrality, aver as loudly as either, that two and two make three & three fourths, but there is a right and a wrong side on every question, and one must in a country like this be on one side or other.—As to this right political side, we are quite sure that it is that of the Whigs, but were it otherwise, we should be puzzled enough to publish a Commercial Journal, when Commerce and Whig principles are identified, one with another. Already we have in connexion with "Hudson's News Room," the basis of a newspaper establishment, a Price Current, Shipping List, and excellent arrangements for all news, Foreign and American: but not satisfied with this we shall immediately push our arragements to the furtherest point for the procuring of news.—One of the Messrs. Hudsons is about to sail for Liverpool, and go from thence to London, Havre and Paris, for the purpose of devising the most expeditious and surest means of receiving commercial intelligence from abroad. The rapid arrangements that we have been compelled to make for the publication of the "Express," have of course put it out of our power to have a new Press, we have ordered one of the first quality, a double cylinder, which will be done by the middle of September, and then the 'Express' will be the largest Daily Newspaper in the World.

The arrangements of our office, though not wholly completed, are rapidly advancing. We have established, at a great expense, a Correspondence with every important section of our country, and as soon as possible we intend to do the same with every interesting part of the world. Our subscription list has increased and is still increasing beyond the highest expectations We feel sure of ultimate success and it will therefore be our pride to deserve it. With such arrangements as these, we hope to have a fair share of public patronage, to deserve which, we shall assuredly do all that is in our power.
