ard till the rock disappeared; and then we had the same scene over again, for we came quite as near running on the same place stern foremost; then the noise and tumult again rose high, and the same sounds and orders were repeated. After an intense anxiety of three minutes the engines got her stopped from her sternway, and she went ahead again. Then came the anxious question—"Where are we and what damage have we received?" The Capt. soon had to confess it was Cape Race we had run on, and he had made a mistake of twenty five miles.

Then as to the damage; the pumps were sounded; although the captain said at first it was all right, I knew from his anxious face that something worse than he dared to tell had happened.—It was soon generally known that we were leaking badly 9 inches an hour, and it required all hands at the pumps to keep her free; this too at night in a thick fog, was precarious enough. All hands were set to work, some to pump, others to fix a sail to draw under her to be sucked in and stop the leak, it was ready at about day light this morning and tried on, but was of no use; the leak gained and at 7 this morning the captain concluded to make for the nearest port; but how to reach it was the question, for the fog continued and we could not see a ship's length.

We had been running all the night (after we struck) due South, so as to get away from the land. We turned back at 7, as before mentioned, an anxious day we had of it, I can assure you. We ran due north again, and after numerous stops and firing cannon repeatedly, we had the satisfaction to see two boats rowing toward us in the fog. Glad were men than our crew and captain I never saw; he was frantic with haste for the men to row to us, and when he got hold of one he tore his clothes in his haste to pull him on board. They proved to be New Foundland fishermen, and said they knew the course to steer for St. Johns, then distant, they said, 30 miles. We ran on with them on board, the fog still continuing, and then they seemed bewildered.

Guns were fired again, which were heard from this place, and boats put off to us, which piloted us in. We got into harbor at dusk and just in time, for while I am writing this letter, they are busy getting our ship on the mud to prevent her from sinking. Now as to our means of getting away from here; having only just arrived, we have no fixed plan. The captain talks of sending an overland express to Halifax for the steamer Margaret to come on and take us on our journey, or if there is time for the express to get there, to have the Caledonia come round for us, but all is uncertain yet. It may be the Hibernia can be repaired; if so it will be done here and we shall proceed on our voyage.

DIED.

In Baltimore, on the 19th inst., after a lingering illness of 24 days, which she bore with Christian fortitude, ANN REBECCA, wife of James N. Wright, in the 27th year of her age, leaving many relatives and friends to mourn their untimely loss.

In Baltimore, on Wednesday morning, 19th inst, after a short and painful illness, JAMES S. REYNOLDS, in the 54th year of his age. Requiescat in pace.

Suddenly of croup, on Thursday, the 25th inst., at her Grandfather's residence, in this place, Josephine, eldest daughter of Joseph E. and Anne E. A. Muse, in the 4th year of her age.

With hearts overflowing with sorrow we bend
O'er the lovely remains of the child of a friend;
For Death, so unsparing, relentless and cold,
Hath stricken the loveliest lamb of the fold.

No dew drop of heaven—no flow'r of the lea
Was brighter, or sweeter, or fairer than she—
Yet this gem in its brightness—this fresh little flow'r,
Was extinguished alas, and cut down in an hour—

We weep too for her, who has lost from her side,
Her heart's fondest treasure, her joy and her pride:
Her child has departed, but ne'er from her heart,
Will the sense of its sweetness and beauty depart.

She sits in her chamber and listens in vain
For accents that ne'er can be heard there again—
The couch is all empty where recently smil'd
The bright little face of her idolized child.

Beautiful Babe! we shall see you no more
Till we too have trodden eternity's shore;
But who would recall you from heavenly joys
To earth, with its sorrows, its pleasures and toys?

For an instant you glanc'd like a bright sunny beam
Across the dark waters of life's troubled stream,
And then were withdrawn from mortality's eyes,
To fill and illumine your home in the skies.

The spirit released from its beautiful clay,
On pinions of light floated brightly away;
By angels was borne to the mansions of rest,
And folded its wings on Emanuel's breast.

SMUT MACHINE.

The subscriber has, at an expense of over $100, attached a Smut Machine to the Lower Cabin Creek Mills, belonging to T. K. Smith, esq. This machine is from the house of Kirk & Johnson, Wilmington, Del. and is an admirable cleanser of wheat. It takes out some garlic, much of the darnel or cheat, smut, dirt, dust, white-cap, &c., and with but little waste of the grain, will clean wheat better than many fannings.—Although the customer gets purer and whiter flour without any charge, yet the miller has considerable extra trouble, and the tax on the water power is such that it will be a considerable draw back upon his profits in dry weather. The public are invited to make a trial of it. The public's obt. serv't.

THOMPSON'S VEGETABLE WORM SYRUP,

PREPARED BY

DOCTOR A. C. THOMPSON,
CAMBRIDGE, MD.

The most common cause of Worms is unwholesome food, with bad digestion. Worms appear most frequent in children of a relaxed habit, whose bowels contain a preternatural quantity of Mucus or Slimy Matter, although many children who appear of a robust constitution are liable to have them, especially if they have lived on unwholesome food; hence Worms are most common to children, although many grown persons are subject to them. I have known persons to advanc[illegible] age to have them.

It is [illegible]nown to the Medical profession, that many [illegible] have been brought on, and continued by reason of [illegible] many children die annually in consequence of [illegible] being timely expelled from them, [illegible] becomes a subject of great importance [illegible] they do exist, and to be prepared with a [illegible] certain to expel them.

It is [illegible]tter to expel worms, from children [illegible] us remedies have been recommended [illegible] that purpose, yet there are articles if [illegible] and judiciously used, will seldom [illegible]ying the object.

In consequence [illegible]uent failures in 30 years practice of [illegible] children, with the remedies in [illegible]ve been induced to prepare a re[illegible] which I have but seldom failed. T[illegible]ve the cause of humanity and to be instr[illegible] saving the lives of many children, I offer it [illegible] the public as Thompson's Vegetable Worm Syrup.

This most valuable Vermifuge is prepared entirely of Vegetable Extract, and combines the most active and efficient worm medicine in use, and can be recommended as a perfectly safe remedy in all states and conditions of persons, who are infested with worms, and as all children are more or less liable to have worms, every family in the community should never be without it.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

CAMBRIDGE, April 25, 1845.

To Dr. A. C. Thompson,

DEAR SIR:—A knowledge of the various vegetable medicinal agents embodying your "Vegetable Worm Syrup," and their anthelmintic power, separately considered, justifies me in alluding in no measured terms of praise to [illegible]ntage properties of the compound; which I [illegible]t pleasure in recommending as an her[illegible]ent anthelmintic, which if properly [illegible]an complications so often manifest[illegible]tion, will seldom disappoint us [illegible] expectations.

[illegible] respectfully yours,
[illegible]HY. HANDY, M. D.

My D[illegible]RIDGE, April 26, 1845.

I [illegible] "Preparation for Worms," will give [illegible] being an excellent combination [illegible] anthelmintics.

Yours very truly,
ALEX. H. BAYLY, M. D.

To Dr. A. C. Thompson.

I c[illegible] in the above commendations of Dr. Thompson's Vegetable Worm Syrup.

WILLIAM L. WINGATE, M. D.

THOMPSON'S
VEGETABLE
ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS,

PREPARED BY

A. C. THOMPSON, M. D.
Cambridge, Md.

As Dr. Thompson justly observed it is impossible to give a concise and proper definition of the diseases known by the name of Fever, as it has no symptoms invariably attendant on it, which can point out its "real nature or essence," but as all fevers, act directly or indirectly on the Liver, all fever diseases partake more or less of a bilious character, whether of the intermittant, remittant or continued type; hence the frequency of those cases, where the Viscera, Glands and membranes are attacked, and put in all the various forms of Rheumatic, and inflammatory affections, so often met with in districts of country where bilious diseases prevail.

Therefore to repel these complicated varieties of disease, depending on a derangement of the Liver, I have prepared, for the benefit of families, and for the accommodation of the medical practitioners, and efficient, and safe remedy, which can be relied on, as containing a combination of such vegetable extracts as are usually employed in general practice, scientifically arranged so as to act on the Liver, and biliary secretions, and thereby prevent or remove those diseases arising from a redundancy or a deficiency of bile in the system—and may be used in all cases where purging is necessary.

Ask in the following diseases in particular.

Bilious Ague, Inflamatory and nervous Fevers; all affections of the liver, Bilious Colic, Jaundice or obstruction in the Liver, Indigestion, or dispepsia, convulsions, or Fits, Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Dysentery foul Stomach, colds, and costiveness;

Numerous certificates might be obtained in commendation of these pills, but as the inventor is so extensively known, having been a practitioner of medicine nearly thirty years, on the eastern Shore of Maryland, he deems it entirely unnecessary, the medicine will recommend itself in every family where it may be used and the inventor would here remark, that he claims no new discovery in the articles which compose his Anti-bilious Pills, to give them a character. Nor does he recommend them as a cure-all for all diseases, as there are too many of such articles imposed on the public, but from a conviction of the necessity of an article, in which the public can rely. He can from long experience in practice, with confidence recommended them to all who may stand in need of medicine.

THE MUTUAL FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY OF BALTIMORE.

(INCORPORATED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF MARYLAND AT THEIR LAST SESSION.)

Having been organized according to the provisions of its Charter, is now prepared to take

FIRE, MARINE AND INLAND RISKS,

On terms as favorable as any Institution in the United States, at their office, corner of Gay and Lombard Streets, up stairs.

DIRECTORS.

COLUMBUS O'DONNELL, Esq.
RICHARD NORRIS Esq.
B. B. RICHARDSON Esq.
JNO. O. EARLY, Esq.
WM. L. ONEY, Esq.
JAS. HARWOOD, Esq.
ALPHEUS HYATT, Esq.
RICHARD NORRIS, Esq., President.
JNO. S. LAFITTE, Secretary.

The Board avail themselves of this opportunity to draw the attention of the Public to some of the important features of their Charter:

1st. In this Company, all interests are equal; there is no privileged stock.

2d. Persons effecting insurance are not answerable for losses beyond the amount of premiums paid by them; and will divide amongst themselves annually the nett profits.

3d The capital of the Company is limited to half a million of dollars, and at the expiration of the Charter, that sum is to be divided pro rata amongst all persons holding the Policies of the Company, without reference to the time when they were issued, or to the fact of their having expired.

4. In the selection of persons to act as Directors of this Company, there can be felt none of that proxy influence, which has destroyed, or weakened some of our strongest corporations; with us, the direction of the affairs of the Company must be in the hands of those most deeply interested in its proper and prosperous management.

5th. Any Policy holder has the right and the privilege of looking at the monthly statement of its affairs.

6th. Persons insuring in this Company, upon a renewal of their risks, are entitled to a deduction of 5 per cents on the amount of premiums.

☞ Our Tariff of rates has been carefully revised and the form of our Policies has been amended under the best legal advice, so as to embrace all the modern improvements suggested by Experience. The classification of the Fire Risks, as well as the direction given to represent them in the applications are so modified as to avoid all doubt and ambiguity, and with a view to avoid all possible difficulties in the settlement of losses.

I have accepted the agency of the above Company, and persons desirous of insuring their Property will find me at all times at my store, where I will receive their proposals, give the necessary information, and have their insurance effected as soon as returns can be had from the office at Baltimore.

THOS. HAYWARD, Agent
