TWO HELD IN DEATH OF COUNTY NEGRO

Two white men are charged with manslaughter as the result of the death of Clifton Jenifer on Saturday, July 4th, by drowning.

According to information, Claude Bennett, age 23 years, of Secretary, Md., and John McCoughan, age 37, of Seaford, Del., were crabbing on the Taylor's Island Bridge. It is alleged that they had been on the island most of the day crabbing and bathing, and at one time threw one of their own party into the water. It is reported that they then grabbed the Negro, who also was crabbing on the bridge, and threw him into the water. He did not come up, and the men notified the authorities.

The two men were brought to jail and a charge of manslaughter placed against them. Their bail was fixed at $1,000 and Bennett was released last Sunday night, and McCoughan Monday afternoon. Their hearing was held Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock before Trial Magistrate William T. Nabb.

State Police and county authorities grappled for the Negro's body for about an hour and a half before it was recovered. The resusitator was used for about 40 minutes, but without success. Dr. Joseph K. Shriver, deputy medical examiner, issued a verdict of drowning.

The other members in the party with Bennett and McCoughan were Christopher White and John H. Bennett of Seaford, William Bennett, son of John H. Bennett, and Christopher White, Jr., age 11, son of Christopher White.

At the municipal election on Wednesday, Guy H. McWilliams, of the Third Ward, was re-elected Commissioner for a term of four years, and H. M. St. Clair was re-elected Commissioner of the Second Ward for a term of four years. Both candidates were unopposed.

H. M. St. Clair has represented his Ward as Commissioner for 38 years, and Mr. McWilliams has served as Commissioner for four years.

The seven tiny flags of the Rising Sun of Japan represent the total Jap planes sent plummeting earthward by Lieut. E. Scott McCuskey (in plane). Ensign George Henry Gay is the official score keeper for Lieutenant McCuskey, and is shown at the left. With pilots like McCuskey the U. S. is showing the Japs who controls the air, and in recent battles with the Nipponese, American airmen were far superior.

DORCHESTER MAN MISSING FROM TORPEDOED SHIP

Wilbur Flowers, a resident of Hooper's Island, has been reported missing in the torpedoing of a Merchant Marine boat.

Mr. Flowers, who is about 50 years old, was reported to have been among 18 who were missing after the boat was torpedoed.

Word that he was among the missing was received by his wife, who resides at Hooper's Island. He has two daughters, Doris and Annabelle Flowers, who reside at home.

Mr. Flowers had followed the water most of his life, and only recently he had been home.

He was born on Barren Island, but came to Hooper's when he was quite young and had resided there since that time.

The War Department gave no particulars of when and where the boat on which Mr. Flowers was working, was torpedoed.
