TINKERING PAYS DIVIDENDS

A few years ago a boy in a drugstore in Medford, Wis., liked to "fool around." He was a soda jerk and every moment he had free from pushing a soda under the nose of a paying customer, he was in the back part of the store "monkeying" around with the chemicals. The boy could do this without being fired, for the lad's father owned the store. The boy's name was C. Guy Suits.

People said he'd be better off if he quit this fooling around and thought more of his soda jerking.

But the boy was doing both; he did not neglect his job; and in addition he was learning something from his ceaseless experimenting.

By the time he got to the University of Wisconsin, he knew what he wanted to do—experiment in physics; so he entered the physics course. He had to help pay his way through the university by playing the clarinet in bands and orchestras. Every free minute he had away from his clarinet tooting and his classroom work, he was "fooling around" in the chemical laboratory.

He won a scholarship in chemistry and went to Switzerland for a year. This additional knowledge he had picked up while fooling around was beginning to pay dividends.

In ten years he took out 51 patents. In 1937 he was given a national award by an electrical engineering fraternity for being the "outstanding electrical engineer of the day."

He is now devoting his energies to working out problems to help our war effort.

He says that whatever success has come to him as an engineer, and as a scientist in the field of physics, has come to him from the days when he just "fooled around."

CHEAPER CLOTHING IS ASSURED BY WPB

The Government this week directed that about 80 per cent of all woolen fabrics available for civilian consumption, and 75 per cent of rayon and other synthetic goods be used in the manufacture of badly needed low and medium priced garments. The action, another step in the sweeping textile and apparel program first announced last month.

To Hasten Victory

No American wants this war to go one minute beyond the time we can bring it to a victorious end. To hasten that victory—to save possibly the lives of millions of our boys on our far flung fronts—it is imperative that every American do his part in the Second War Loan. There is an investment to fit every purse. The most you can do is little enough compared with the sacrifice offered by our boys in service. They give their lives—you lend your money.

Keep Your Light Burning!

KIPLING once wrote: "They asked me how I did it and I gave them a Scripture text: 'I kept my light a shining a little ahead of the rest.'"

During a period of business adjustment many firms neglect to keep their light a shining . . . they neglect cultivating new customers and retaining the friendship and confidence of their old customers . . . in other words, they neglect their advertising.

The business institution or organization that waits for "normalcy" to come back or for the signing of an armistice before beginning their advertising, will be left in the dark.

If you want to get your share of business in the post-war tomorrow, you must begin now to lay the foundation by the use of letters and advertising to your old customers and logical prospects . . . You must keep your light a shining a little ahead of the rest. NOW IS THE TIME TO LIGHT YOUR LAMP.

This Navy book can lead you to the proudest experience of your life

WOMEN 20 to 36! Find out now about this inspiring opportunity to serve your country as a full-fledged member of the Navy. FREE OFFICIAL BOOK GIVES ALL DETAILS.

Deep down in your heart, don't you want to play a really important part in winning this war? A part that you and your friends and America's fighting men know is important?

Of course you do; and now you can!

If you are between 20 and 36, yours is the privilege of serving your country as women have never had the privilege of serving before. The privilege of working and winning side by side with the men of the Navy—as a wearer of Navy blue.

"Logging in" a flier—one of the duties of WAVES in aviation

You will get all the facts about this exciting opportunity in the official Navy book, "The Story of You in Navy Blue." A free copy is waiting for you right now at any Navy Recruiting Station or Office of Naval Officer Procurement. Call in person, mail coupon or phone for it today.

It pictures the interesting life you'll lead at recruit school located in New York City—where you'll live, how you'll eat, what you'll study. And it describes the additional special training for which you may qualify at Navy schools on the campus of leading colleges.

Jobs You Can Fill

It shows the kind of work you'll be doing when you go on active duty . . . the jobs in radio, communications, storekeeping, office work, hospital corps, aviation ground work and scores of other posts which WAVES have proved they can fill as well as the men they replace. And there are pictures of some of the fascinating jobs to which you may be assigned.

This book also tells the pay you will earn (up to $126 a month clear), the extra allowances you are entitled to, the advanced ratings you can win . . . the same pay, same allowances, same ratings which men of the Navy get.

It pictures the uniform you will wear so proudly—trim, smart Navy blues. It lists the clothing—$200 worth—which the Navy gives you free when you enlist.

It covers every requirement you must meet . . . gives a sample question from the aptitude test you will take . . . lists the papers you will need for enlistment . . . tells where and how to apply for the WAVES.

That's the kind of opportunity this book offers you. The chance to get off the sidelines, and get into uniform. The chance to be in the Navy, of the Navy, living a real Navy life. The chance to feel important, to be important, to hold your head high.

As a WAVE, you're a full-fledged member of the Navy

Isn't that the part you want to play in winning this war? Is there any part you can play in which you will take greater pride as a patriotic American?

Then today, take the first step toward an experience you'll be proud of always. Get your personal copy of "The Story of You in Navy Blue."
