THE MORAL OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL ELECTION.

Every precinct in the city of Baltimore, and every county in the State, has given a majority for the new constitution, notwithstanding a number voted originally against the call of a convention.

Never has there been a more unanimous expression of the popular will in the adoption of an organic law in this or any other State of the Union. All the western counties, where the radical strength lies, have gone for the new constitution. The vote, however, in the State is far from being a full one. The season was a busy one with the farmers, and this, in addition to the indifference which the assurance of success begat among conservatives, had the effect of preventing the vote from being as large as otherwise it might have been. It is known that the positive opponents of the new instrument did their utmost to bring out their strength to the polls, but the effort was a failure. One element in the shortness of the vote was, doubtless, that many who heretofore acted with the republican party felt that the new constitution was too equitable and fair a constitution to vote against, and so refrained from voting at all, whilst other members of the same party, it is known, voted for it with satisfaction, looking upon it as far in advance of the present instrument in adaptation to the new conditions, henceforth fixed and unalterable, which have been brought about by the fundamental political and local changes which have taken place.

A grand moral triumph has thus been achieved, which even the most reckless political iniquity will scarcely venture to confront. It should silence and crush the machinations against the popular will and the welfare and honor of the State, which have so long sought to prostrate the vast majority of the Maryland people, and all its great interests, beneath the heel of a faction so inconsiderable that, with free access to the polls, and none of those restrictions imposed upon it which it is always seeking to impose upon others, it could not carry a single precinct in Baltimore, nor a single county in the State. The majority for the constitution, universal as it was, would probably have been numerically doubled if there had been the ordinary incentives of elections in which the personal interests of candidates are staked. But the convention chose not to avail of that agency, and submitted the question, pure and simple, for or against the constitution, to the people. The confidence which it has reposed in the sobriety of judgment, the intelligence and virtue of the community, has been amply vindicated, and the decision of the Maryland people will be invested with controlling moral weight from the calmness as well as the unanimity with which it has been pronounced.—*Balt. President Johnson's Views on the State of the Country.

[Washington Dispatches to the Boston Post.]

The President's late proclamations having given rise to much speculation as to their purpose and practical bearing upon the country, it may be interesting to know what the author himself thinks and says regarding them. In a social conversation to-day, I ventured to inquire of his Excellency his views of the proclamation declaring the supremacy of the constitution, and his special object in publishing the same. I admitted that the purpose was patent on the face of the document, but that many persons professed not to be able to comprehend its practical bearing. He replied that there were two parties in the country, one acting within constitutional limits, the other openly professing to act outside of the constitution. His purpose was to call the attention of each and every officer and employee of the government to this fact, that he might clearly understand his duty, and, understanding, perform it. Our constitution, he said, was the citadel of our freedom, the wall which environs and protects us all. But another purpose which he had in view was to assure the country that the authority of the federal judiciary would be unflinchingly maintained in all the States. I called the President's attention to the correspondence published to-day between General Ord and Col. Gilbert, in which the latter claims that General Ord and his subordinates were not the servants, but rather the masters of the people. He replied that it was but one of the legitimate fruits of the radical teachings of the day, that public officers were not bound by their oaths, but might act "outside of the constitution;" this very case, he said, illustrated the necessity for his proclamation. Colonel Gilbert seems to have lost sight of the fact that ours was a constitutional government, and that he was bound to respect the law. When a military officer could thus forget that the people were the sovereign, and could assume that he was one of their masters, the President said he thought it was high time that attention should be specially called to the requirements of the constitution and the true principles of our government. He spoke in flattering terms of Gen. Ord, and heartily approved the noble rebuke which the General administered to Col. Gilbert. I inquired what he thought would be the practical effect of the amnesty proclamation. He promptly replied "to restore the parties to all their rights—to place them precisely where they were before the war.—The suffrage question was one to be determined by the courts, and not by the executive branch of the government." In alluding to the future, he said he had no idea what Congress would do, but he believed the people would take care that their government was not subverted and destroyed. So far as he was concerned, he should exercise every constitutional power in its defense, but that the great controlling power was in the hands of the people themselves, and his firm conviction was that they would use it wisely and efficiently. The late elections in California and Maine served only to fix his confidence in the "sober second thought of the people."

THE CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE.—Several Radical journals have given currency to an erroneous report that their party will have two majority on joint ballot in the California Legislature. The actual situation is as follows: 20 Senators (14 republicans and 6 democrats) hold over, and 20 (7 republicans and 13 democrats) have been elected, making the Senate stand: 21 republicans, 19 democrats. To the House, the republicans elect 30 members, and the democrats 50. The total, on joint ballot, therefore, is—republicans 51, democrats 69.—N. Y. World.

THE YELLOW FEVER AT THE DRY TORTUGAS.—A letter received in Baltimore from a gentleman in New Orleans, who has just returned from a visit to the Dry Tortugas, says:

"The percentage of cases at the Dry Tortugas could hardly at any time or any where have been equalled. In three weeks, commencing with Sunday, August 18th, and ending Sunday, September 8th, at 11 A. M., the hour I left there, 100 cases had occurred in a garrison of 300 soldiers and with some 150 prisoners; and for about one week there was no physician, the surgeon of the post being down with fever on my arrival, and dead and buried before I left. On the 6th Dr. Mudd was placed on duty in the hospital, and the commanding officer informed me before leaving that his services were rendered with great cheerfulness and were invaluable."

O'LOUGHLIN, one of the alleged Lincoln conspirators, has fulfilled his sentence.—He died of yellow fever at Dry Tortugas on the 23d instant.

THOSE who consider it a patriotic duty to approve all the acts of all the district commanders find the job rather difficult. For instance, Gen. Sickles issued an order having the force of a stay-law, to postpone the collection of debts on execution; Gen. Pope was asked to issue a similar order in Georgia, and he not only refused, but declared, "No conceivable circumstances could induce me to interfere with the general business of the State." As both Generals cannot be right in this case, those who approved Sickles's order had best say nothing about Pope's.—Springfield Republican.

Warranted Free from Adulteration.
"COMPLETE MANURE,"
Made from Super-Phosphate of Lime, Ammonia and Potash, warranted free from adulteration.
MANUFACTURED BY HENRY BOWER,
Manufacturing Chemist,
Gray's Ferry Road, Philadelphia.
In furnishing the "Complete Manure," I will at all times agree to give it equal to that sent out now, and will guarantee the standard according to the analysis of any reliable Chemist.
The following persons are referred to as having used the "Complete Manure:"
NEWARK, Del., July 1st, 1867.
HENRY BOWER, Esq: Dear Sir—It gives me pleasure to testify to the excellence of your "Complete Manure" as a fertilizer. I used it on corn, potatoes and vegetables, and my crops speak volumes in its praise. I shall use it exclusively this fall for my wheat.
Yours, very truly,
JOHN A. REYNOLDS, JR.
NEWARK, Del., July 8th, 1867.
HENRY BOWER, Esq: Dear Sir—Having been furnished with a bag of your "Complete Manure," I tested it on potatoes beside Moro Phillips', Walton and Wham's, and Hughes' Phosphates, and my potatoes look finer where the Complete Manure was used. I shall use it this year for my wheat.
Yours, very truly, WILLIAM DEAN.
NEWARK, Del, July 4th, 1867.
HENRY BOWER, Esq.: Dear Sir—A bag of your "Complete Manure" having been furnished me, I tested it on corn, and the results are plainly discernable to the very hill on which it was used. Very respectfully, yours,
ANDREW T. MACKLEM.
NEWARK, Del., July 5th, 1867.
HENRY BOWER, Esq.: Dear Sir—I take pleasure in adding my testimony in behalf of your "Complete Manure" as a fertilizer, having used it on corn, potatoes and vegetables, with very satisfactory results. I will use five tons this fall on my wheat. Yours, very truly,
WILLIAM REYNOLDS.
KINGESSING, NEAR DARBY, Philadelphia Co., Pa.
MR. HENRY BOWER: Dear Sir—I used your "Complete Manure" on Grass (Timothy) this last Spring; the result was that the grass was about twice as heavy where the manure went than where none was applied. I feel confident that there were two tons where there would have been but one. I applied it to corn in the hill, along side of Peruvian Guano and Chicken Dung—the result is plainly in favor of the Complete Manure, as it is now much taller and has much larger stalks where it was used. I shall use your Fertilizer for my crops in future.
Very respectfully, JOHN JOHNSON.
Messrs. BLOTH & GARRETT, of Philadelphia, Chemists of great ability and of high respectability, say, in speaking of the "Complete Manure," in a note to Messrs. Dixon, Sharpless & Co., dealers in Fertilizers:
"The constitution of the above indicates a decided advance in the composition of a Fertilizer by the introduction of a considerable percentage of Potassa, and countenances the claim involved in the name 'Complete Manure.'"
PHILADELPHIA, August 8th, 1867.
The report upon the "Complete Manure," made by Messrs. Williams & Moss, of Philadelphia, Chemists of long experience in the analysis of Fertilizers, says:
"We find from an analysis of your 'Complete Manure,' that the name you have given it is certainly warranted by its Chemical composition; in addition to thus cordially recommending your Fertilizer from a Chemical standpoint, we should state that its mechanical condition is most excellent, being such as to admit of its use in the drill without further preparation."
PHILADELPHIA, August 1st, 1867.
MR. HENRY BOWER: Dear Sir—I obtained from you some of your Complete Manure, and the first I used was on Radishes, which were ready for market in four or five weeks from the time the seed were sown. Next I used it on Beets, which were very early and of excellent quality. I am convinced that it is better than any artificial manure I have ever used, and the results were equal to those from stable manure used in large quantity. I shall continue to use it for these and other early and late vegetables.
Yours respectfully, DAVID YOUNG.
PHILADELPHIA, August 8th, 1867.
MR. HENRY BOWER: Dear Sir—I used your "Complete Manure" on some Darling's Early Sugar Corn this season, at my farm near Progress, Burlington Co., New Jersey. The corn was fully two weeks in advance, over the same seed in the same soil, where plentifully manured with a compost of pigeon dung and muck, which has always been considered a powerful manure.
Yours, &c., ALFRED B. STEEL.
Mr. William Dower, Newark, Delaware.
" H. B. Rocengarten, Germantown, Pa.
" R. H. Gratz, Chestnut Hill, Pa..
Gen. D. K. Jackman, Charleston, S. C.

NOTICE
TO ALL FRUIT GROWERS.
I ADVERTISE in order to let you all know that I am again in the market, with one of the largest and best selected stocks of FRUIT TREES of various kinds. Our stock of PEACH are comprising twenty-one of the best orchard varieties, and am taking orders at extremely low figures, on terms that will enable every one who is desirous of planting to do so. Our Trees are reared from natural seed, procured from Northampton and Accomac counties, Va., and Worcester and Somerset counties, Md. We have a block of about 350,000 reared at Smyrna, Del., which will be unusually good, in size they will no doubt compare with any in the country. Our stock of PEARS, both Standard and Dwarf, is large, and extra in size. APPLES No. 1, in fact everything for sale low that is grown in a first class Nursery.
ABOUT 800,000,
I feel exceedingly grateful for past patronage, and hope by strict attention to the fruit growers' interest, to still secure an equal share of patronage. I will pledge myself to be the servant of the fruit growers, and do everything in my power to work to their interest.

Rat Exterminator,
THE SUREST
Exterminator of Rats
EVER OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC.
READ the following Certificates from our own citizens as to its merit as a Rat destroyer:
Baltimore, May 14, 1867.
Messrs. Clotworthy & Co.—Gent: My warehouse on Howard street, was completely overrun by Rats. I used a bottle of "Dr. Stonebraker's" Rat Exterminator; and truly it is an Exterminator. It cleared the warehouse of Rats, and have had no return of them, and it has been four months since I used it.

Baltimore, May 13. 1867.
Messrs. Clotworthy & Co.—Gent: We were very much troubled with Rats in our Store.—"Dr. Stonebraker's" Rat Exterminator being highly recommended to us, we used one bottle of it, and it proved itself worthy the high recommendation it had received as a Rat Destroyer. We have not been troubled with Rats since the first night we used it.
HOPKINS, HARDEN & KEMP,
Baltimore Street.
Baltimore, May 15, 1867.
Messrs. Clotworthy & Co.—Gent: The bottle of "Dr. Stonebraker's" Rat Exterminator, purchased of you, has proved to be death to Rats. I used it only one night, according to directions, and the next morning I counted nine dead Rats in the yard. They come out of their holes to die. E. B. TUCKER,

POULTERER'S FRIEND, A CERTAIN CURE FOR
Gapes in Chickens and Turkeys.
Will prevent disease in all kinds of Fowl, and promote an increase of fat. Read this:
Jefferson, Frederick Co., Md., July 22, '67.
Messrs. Clotworthy & Co., Baltimore.—Gent: The wonderful cures which have been made by your Poulterer's Friend, cannot fail to interest all who raise poultry. A gentleman of this village has been experimenting on chickens with the gapes. He tried your Poulterer's Friend, according to the directions, and it had the desired effect in removing the worm, effectually relieving the chicken at once. Since then I have had many calls for it, and it has been used extensively with the same result. It is of incalculable value to all who raise Poultry. Respectfully, A. SPENCER.

EMBROCATION,
FOR ALL DISEASES INCIDENT TO HORSES, CATTLE, AND
THE HUMAN FLESH,
REQUIRING THE USE OF AN EXTERNAL APPLICATION.
THIS new compound, prepared by a practical Chemist, having a full knowledge of all the medical virtues of each ingredient that enters into its composition, is warranted to exceed anything of the kind ever yet offered to the public as an external application for the diseases for which it is recommended. We are satisfied that it will work its own way into the confidence of all who use it, and those who will never be without it, and therefore we rely on experience as the best test of its usefulness. It is pronounced by Farriers, and all who have tried it, to be the best application ever used.
Try It Once
This Embrocation has been put up for over
