The Great Earthquake in San Francisco.

[Correspondence of the Boston Post.]

SAN FRANCISCO, October 21.--The most destructive earthquake that has ever visited this city occurred this morning. Not even the great shock of October, 1865, that caused so much damage and dismay, was equal to this. Former earthquakes had to do with a rough, unfinished frontier town—the present one finds a large city, full of people and covered with elegant buildings. There have been in all, during the day, some five or six shocks. The first and most violent shock occurred about eight o'clock this morning, and at that point every clock in San Francisco stopped, as though the last trump had sounded, and time was no more. The business of the day had hardly begun.—Workmen were going about their work, the stores were opening, many people were at breakfast, and some were still asleep, when suddenly, without warning, and accompanied by no noise from the ground, every building began to shake and quiver, as if it were set on wheels and dragged rapidly over a pavement of gigantic stones. The foundations of the firm and solid earth had given way, and men knew not where to look for aid.

In the hotels and large boarding houses the scene was appalling. The duration of the shock was but thirty or forty seconds, yet it seemed minutes. Women and children fainted, or rushed screaming and half-dressed into the streets, lest the buildings should topple over on them. In the upper stories of high buildings the vibration was said by observers to be three or four feet from side to side. The water tanks on the house-tops surged over with the motion, and fell in showers below.—Glass was shattered and fell from the windows; ceilings cracked; timbers creaked, and the houses rocked to and fro till it seemed impossible that jointed beams or cemented bricks could stand the strain.

Yet great as was the violence of the shock, comparatively little damage was done to buildings standing on solid ground. It was in the lower part of the city, where all the ground is made land, that the major part of the destruction occurred. This is the business part of the town, and here are the heavy warehouses and wholesale stores, all of which are built on piles.—This made land is of considerable extent, and is filled in where once was water fifty or sixty feet deep.

Some three-quarters of an hour after the first shock, came another, sharp but short, which finished some of the work begun by the first. Buildings which had not fallen at the first shock now toppled over, and the sidewalks were thronged with people, including many ladies, inspecting the ruins. Another shock came. In an instant the streets, before empty, were filled with crowds rushing from the sidewalks and buildings, till we, looking along any one of the broad streets or plazas, could see thousands who had rushed there to escape the danger of falling buildings.

Fortunate was it that the shock occurred when it did. Had it been an hour later, when the streets would have been crowded, and the children in the schoolhouses, the loss of life would have been fearful. As it is, twelve deaths are known to have happened, and more may come to light when the debris is cleared away.—The destruction of property has been great.

GENERAL GRANT'S CABINET.—The New York Tribune says:

Now that the election is over, the business of Cabinet making forces itself upon the public mind. The people cannot avoid feeling an earnest solicitude upon the question who are to form President Grant's Cabinet. The present Cabinet, except General Schofield, having in the main given their influence toward the election of Seymour and Blair, it is assumed that an entire new Cabinet will be formed.—But among the statesmen of the country who have never held Cabinet positions there are few who enjoy such a pre-eminence in any special department of statesmanship as to point them out for particular places in the Cabinet. Gen Schofield, ex-Secretary Stanton, General Sherman, General Sheridan, and General Thomas, are, perhaps, equally available for the post of Secretary of War. Mr. Sumner, Charles Francis Adams, Mr. Trumbull, Gen. Dix, Mr. Bancroft and Mr. Motley, are among the names suggested for Secretary of State. The more important office of Secretary of the Treasury naturally suggest the names of Benjamin F. Wade, Governor Fenton, Governor Boutwell, and Senators Morgan, Sherman, Conkling and Morrill, and Mr. Washburne.

EXTRAVAGANT EXPECTATIONS.—We understand that the negroes of Beech Island, S. C., and its neighborhood are calmly but confidently awaiting the division of lands, mules, and other property now held by the whites. They understand the election of Grant to be equivalent to a homestead, and nothing to do for the rest of their lives. When their expectations are realized and the titles to the aforementioned property obtained, we should like to see the grant. The only way in which any of the poor deluded creatures will ever become possessed of property of any kind, which they can hold under the light of day, will be by the "sweat of their brow," and the time is not far distant when this truth will be sorrowfully, but sternly realized.—Augusta Constitutionalist.

WHO PAYS THE TAXES?—The Radical orators argue that laboring men are no worse off on account of the greatly increased cost of living occasioned by taxes. If the cost of living is doubled, so is the price of labor, say they. Will some of these astute financiers be kind enough to inform the people how it is that the government contrives to collect five hundred millions of taxes in a year without making somebody that much poorer? The consumers pay nearly all of it, and the laboring classes constitute the great body of consumers in the country, and if what they pay in taxes is refunded to them in pause. The couple didn't know "it was all over." So, straightening himself up, one arm akimbo, "my friends," said he, "depart in peace and sin no more."

NEGRO SUFFRAGE DEFEATED IN MISSOURI.—The St. Joseph Gazette, of 6th instant, says of the proposed amendment to the State constitution: "All that we can say of the vote on this subject is, that negro suffrage has run behind the radical ticket everywhere—in St. Louis some 12,000. It would seem to be entirely safe to say it is soundly beaten."

PIANO-FORTES.

WAREROOMS—350 West Balt. St., near Eutaw, BALTIMORE, MD.

THESE instruments have been before the public for nearly thirty years, and upon their excellence alone attained an unpurchased pre-eminence which pronounces them unequaled.

Their TONE combines great power, sweetness and fine singing quality, as well as great purity of intonation, and evenness throughout the entire scale.

Their TOUCH is pliant and elastic, and entirely free from the stiffness found in so many Pianos. In WORKMANSHIP they are unexcelled, using none but the very best seasoned material, the large capital employed in our business enabling us to keep continually an immense stock of lumber, etc., on hand.

All our Square Pianos have our new Improved Overstrung scale and the Agraffe Treble.

We would call special attention to our late improvements in Grand Pianos and Square Grands, patented August 16, 1866, which bring the Piano nearer perfection than has yet been attained.

Every Piano fully warranted for Five Years.

SEWING MACHINES.

It is now generally admitted that a good Sewing Machine is a valuable aid in a family. Few men would decline purchasing a machine of any kind that would enable them to perform their labor in half the time required by other means, and we think the Ladies have as much claim to be relieved from their toil. It has been demonstrated that a GROVER & BAKER SEWING MACHINE will do more than half the time and labour and do the work better. This is the best family sewing machine, because it is simple, and Ladies have no trouble to manage them.

If a sewing machine is too complicated to be used, except by experienced operators, it has very little value as a family machine. We never knew a Lady who had any difficulty in using a Grover & Baker Machine.

B. B. PERKINS & SON,

Are the Agents for this machine, and supply them at the city prices.

Persons preferring to select a machine in the city will be supplied with an order to the Baltimore agency. Machines will be delivered in any part of the county.
