Reconstruction Horrors in the South.

The shocking outrages upon life and property which have been perpetrated of late in Arkansas and other portions of the South afford another specimen of the workings of reconstruction, surpassing even that of Tennessee. The arming of a militia composed in great part of ignorant and unfit men has led to scenes of bloodshed, and of worse than bloodshed, which it is appalling to contemplate. The Arkansas militia are charged with plundering the people, arresting citizens without warrant, murdering prisoners, ravishing women, while in the mean time the cotton fields, white with cotton, are left to destruction. The radical Governor of the State has actually authorized this militia to forage upon the communities in which they may happen to be, and this in a time of peace!

The Ogeechee troubles in Georgia, which have only been quieted by the military finally taking charge, are a later exhibition of that which malignant interlopers are trying to fashion into an "irrepressible conflict" between the two races.—Because of some alleged disagreement about wages or their proportion of the crops, the colored population of that district is said to have been worked up to a state of complete insurrection, compelling the white inhabitants to flee to the cities for protection, and attempting to take forcible possession of the lands and property of the whites, which they had been promised by political adventurers, but found they could only obtain by violence.

In both the Arkansas and Georgia troubles there have been representations made by military officials, whose partisanship is patent to every eye, to explain away and belittle these occurrences, which, if it can be done, would have the effect of showing that reconstruction is not working altogether in the direction of political and social chaos. It is admitted, however, in the letter of General Porter, who professes to have investigated the Arkansas troubles, that "the militia punishes all the disloyal and extorts pledges from them to support the laws." He also states that the Governor "could seldom secure good men for officers, and in the eastern counties he had to depend entirely upon negroes for soldiers." Here, then, is conceded to be an organization which "good men" could not be had to command, and which in the eastern counties was composed entirely of negroes, and this organization punished disloyalty and extorted pledges, being themselves, for aught that appears to the contrary, judge, jury and executioner!—It is also admitted in the report that business men of all parties were injured where martial law was proclaimed, travel interfered with, supplies taken from the people "under orders," and that one of the negro militia had ravished a white woman, for which he says he was executed, though how many more offenses of the same kind were perpetrated for which no one was punished does not appear. General Porter seems to rely a good deal upon the statements of the Governor of Arkansas, the party who is principally criminated in these proceedings, and whose repeated and unwarranted attempts heretofore to subject Arkansas to martial law show the manner of man he is. It is by no means probable that there should have been such a number of refugees from Arkansas to Memphis on account of the conduct of the militia if their department had been as decorous and orderly as General Porter seems to suppose. In regard to the Ogeechee troubles in Georgia, the palliating statements of Colonel Williams, in his report to General Sibley, seem to be founded on the declarations of the accused parties themselves, and are in direct contradiction to affidavits by two of the sufferers from these outrages. These are but specimens of the peace that follows reconstruction.

In all these difficulties the military have to be called in. That is the uniform recourse. Reconstruction, so-called, everywhere has to be supplemented by the sword. The army is the common umpire to whose arbitration both sides in the South must needs submit. Thus only is it that order is or will be preserved, and thereby we understand how it is possible to realize the sentiment, "Let us have peace." Whether the cost of peace preserved by such instrumentalities is likely to be much less than the cost of war, is a question worthy to be considered by an economical administration.

The condition of the South is, indeed, most pitiable and distressing. A feeling of insecurity and fearful solicitude pervades whole communities, more terrible than that of men who live on the crust of a volcano. For it is not only life that is in peril, it is not only property, but it is all that makes life worth having—it is the sacredness of mothers, wives and daughters, exposed to outrages in peace, which, when committed by the Sepoys of India in war, filled the whole civilized world with horror. It is the foreboding of the dismal and nameless outrages, resulting from the civil influence exerted by social monsters from the North, in inflaming all the brutal passions of their former slaves, that keep the southern people keenly sensitive to the peril of armed organizations of blacks, urged on by emissaries who seem to care not what outrage or crime may be committed, so it insures to their personal and political aggrandizement. The occurrence of such shocking crimes as are often detailed, is manifestly the work of these adventurers from abroad. That the communities in the South, especially the woman, old men and children, have no reason to apprehend such crimes from the unfortunate colored population when left to themselves, is proved by their whole history in bondage, and especially during the civil war, when, with no male protectors upon the solitary plantations the female community was perfectly secure.—It is only since men have come among them reeking with the licentiousness of certain depraved classes in the North, and swayed by the vilest sentiments of vindictiveness and greed, that such horrible atrocities as are recorded have become of frequent occurrence. Yet, to such frightful terrors, casting their shadows over Southern households, additional gloom is added by the conviction that if they exercise the right of self-protection natural to all mankind, they will be denounced as rebels, and visited with political vengeance. That retaliatory outrages should be committed in such a state of society is what might naturally be looked for, but if they occur, the responsibility rests on those who are provoking the Southern people to desperation, and then, when violent natures among them avail themselves of the opportunity thus created, holding all responsible for the excesses of a few.

What if the North were made the scene of such horrors as the South is subjected to? How long would it be able to preserve the extraordinary composure and equanimity, the indifferent air of "Am I my brother's keeper?" with which it regards the deeds now occurring in Southern States? This indifference indicates the programme and shows the animus of some of the radical leaders. Let them not lift the curtain too abruptly, lest the whole moral sense of Christendom should receive a shock that will make itself felt, even at this distance from the central seats of the world's civilization, in the scorn and execration of all mankind.

STARTLING TRAGEDY ON A COOLIE SHIP.—A letter from Yokohama gives the particulars of a tragic affair which happened on a coolie ship, first supposed to be the Italian bark Providenzia, but which proved to be the Clyalto, which sailed from Callao for another part of the South American coast. When two days out the coolies took possession, made the crew fast to an anchor and consigned them to the depths below, retaining the captain, who promised to navigate the ship to China. But he evidently changed his mind, as he took them to some place north of Hakodadi, probably the Fox Islands, and there, upon pretence of getting food on shore, he left with his servant, but returned no more. The coolies then took the vessel to Hakodadi. They refused to give any satisfactory account until the United States sloop of war Iroquois was sent thither, when the truth was wrung out of them.

LOCOMOTIVE WITHOUT STEAM.—The New York Sun says that Mr. Moltz, after eight years labor, has produced a locomotive which he believes will supercede the use of steam on railroads, and relieve the public of the apprehension of disastrous explosions. The machine is set in motion by levers acting on an eccentric, which moves the wheels of the engine. Balancing weights and springs seem to supply the motive power. The model, which is on exhibition in New York, cost the inventor $13,000.

VELOCIPEDES.—It is stated that velocipede-building now forms an important branch of trade in Paris. There are not only manufactories of these new locomotives, but foundries where the iron work of which they are composed is cast. One of these employs 250 workmen, and finishes 12 velocipedes per day for a coach builder in Lyons. A Lyonese velocipedist is willing to take any bet that he will beat the fastest trotter in a race.

YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1825.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicines. They are

The greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint.

DYSPEPSIA,

Nervous Debility;

JAUNDICE,

Diseases of the Kidneys,

ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

Blood Purifiers

ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound healthy condition, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, March 16, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is not an intoxicating beverage, but is a good tonic, useful in disorders of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system.

Yours truly,

GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1866.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,

JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

DR. JACKSON—DEAR SIR:—I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that for general debility of the system and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,

Eighth, below Coates street.

CAUTION.

Hoofland's German Remedies are counterfeited. The genuine have the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

Price of the Bitters, $1 00 per bottle; Or, a half dozen for $5 00.
Price of the Tonic, $1 50 per bottle; Or, a half dozen for $7 50.

The tonic is put up in quart bottles.

Recollect that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Remedies that are so universally used and so highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggists to induce you to take anything else that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the
