of honor, and the pride of chivalry. He had long been employed by the government of Texas in defence of the western frontier, as the commander of a corpse of mounted rangers; and probably no officer ever performed his duty with more activity and efficiency, or with more satisfaction to the country. He possessed nothing of the rough habits, ignorance and presuming forwardness which is usually supposed to attach to the frontier soldier. He was an educated man, and a gentleman by nature; quiet in his manners, amiable in temper; just in his dealings; and strictly moral in all his habits. During his connexion with the present campaign, his deportment was such—so marked by a happy union of modesty with bravery, and dignity with obedience—as to win the hearts of all and constitute him the chief favorite of the army. He followed the fortunes of General Worth, shared in all the dangers of the command and closed his brilliant career amidst the shouts of victory.—Though feeble in frame, the inspiring energies of his mind enabled him to keep in advance of his comrades; so that in the storming of the Bishop's hill, he was the foremost man and the first victim upon the ramparts of the foe. He was buried where he fell—upon the loftiest summit—and the mountain that encloses his remains will stand an eternal monument of his glory—it will be known in history, and long frequented by his grateful country-men as the grave of GILLESPIE.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

J. PINCKNEY HENDERSON,
Major Gen. Comd'g the Tex. Vol.
Maj. Gen. ZACHARY TAYLOR,
Comd'g the Army of Occupation.

MR. BUCHANAN.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia North American makes the following statement of facts concerning Mr. BUCHANAN's conduct in the last Presidential canvass:—

"During the Presidential canvass, various malignant imputations were cast upon the reputation of Mr. Clay by the press in Pennsylvania and other quarters, some of which were alleged to have been made on the authority of Mr. Buchanan. What was his course on that occasion? Instead of demanding an immediate retraction of the fabrications and denouncing their authors, Mr. Buchanan seats himself in his Senatorial chair and addresses Mr. Clay, assuring him that the Democratic Journals had falsified in using his name as authority and that he was innocent of any knowledge or participation in the statements. Meantime the slanders were multiplied and disseminated out of doors. Mr. Buchanan permitted all the public injury that could result from such calumnies, to affect Mr. Clay, while secretly, he endeavored to deceive him by protestations of esteem, as fulsome as they are false. That letter is now in possession of Mr. Clay! Will Mr. Buchanan call for it? There are facts which have reached me from a source that James Buchanan dare not confront"

RUMOR OF ANOTHER REVOLUTION IN MEXICO.

Extract of a letter from an Officer of the Army to Washington.

"MOBILE, December, 5, 1846.

"The news from Mexico shows that country in an awful state of anarchy. Santa Anna has gone back to Mexico, and there are only 16,000 disaffected, half-starved troops at Potosi. Gen. Taylor ought to be there now with 9,000 or 10,000 troops It is said Herrera will be elected President, and in that event peace will be certain."

We stop here. The other parts of the letter are very interesting. They recommend some plans of operations for carrying on the war, and the occupation of important strongholds, as the best guaranty for peace. But we decline detailing them, though they are characterized by great promptness of movement and energy of action.

☞An election, to fill the vacancy created by the death of F. G. McConnell, was to be held in the Seventh district of Alabama on the 8th inst. F. W. Bowden, of Talladega, and Gen. A. Walker, both Locos, were candidates. The Whigs offered no opposition. The Reporter, a paper published in the district, makes the following most unmerciful pass at Walker:

Speaking of liquor, there are several gentlemen in the Seventh Congressional district who are anxious to step into Felix's shoes; but we can say this of the candidate from Benton, that he will never step into Felix's habits, unless the people in Washington city are very hospitable, or the grocers there keep a very cheap article of ROT-GUT.

EXPLOSIVE COTTON.—Further experiments with this preparation have been made at the U. S. Arsenal, in Washington, by Capt. ALFRED MORDECAI, of the Army.

The firing from a musket barrel, suspended on the balistic pendulum, proved that sixty grains of well-prepared cotton are equal to one hundred and twenty grains of the very best gunpowder. With a 24-pounder one pound of gun-cotton was nearly as strong as three pounds of ordinary powder; but it did not keep up this proportion. As the charge was increased, two pounds of cotton were about equal to four pounds of powder.

A shell, which required several pounds of powder to burst it, was filled with less than two ounces of the cotton, and, upon being discharged, it exploded most beautifully.—[Balt. American.

THOMAS R. WHITNEY. Editor.
One dollar per annum payable in advance.

The undersigned has the pleasure to announce that he will issue on Sunday, the 6th of December next, a new Weekly Paper, to be called the SUNDAY EXTRA. The principal aim of the editor will be to make the "Sunday Extra" a complete mirror of the times, in which will be faithfully reflected, in an interesting and condensed form, the News of the Week, Cream of New Works, Tales of Fiction, Fact and Romance, original and selected, Gems of Poetry & Prose, Fetters on Science and Art, Keviews, satire, Wit, the Stage, &c., &c.,—in short to make it an acceptable Fireside Journal, complete in all its parts, and unexceptionable in point of morals. The "Extra will maintain a high tone in all its departments; and whilst eschewing politics, as such, reserve to itself the right freely and candidly to discuss all questions of acknowledged public interest and importance. A number of correspondents of known and approved talent, resident in different parts of the Union, have been secured, who will contribute their best efforts to the "Extra;" the aid, also, of an eminent Foreign Correspondent will add a valuable feature to its columns. The several departments of Literature, Science, and the Arts will be placed under the charge of experienced writers, and the editor will spare no exertions to make the "Extra" a complete Paper, while he confidently expects, as he intends to merit, the substantial endorsement of the public to his exertions.

"SUGAR COATED" PILLS,

BEWARE! CAUTION!!

The increasing popularity of Dr. G. Benj. Smith's improved Indian Vegetable Sugar Coated Pills, has induced a number of persons to make something they call pills, and coat them with sugar, in order to sell them for the genuine, while they do not possess a particle of the goodness, nor even assimilate in appearance the original, Dr. Smith's Pills. In short, they are an intended fraud upon the community. A minister who at first had an interest in an imitation Sugar Coated Pill, manufactured at Albany, N. Y. has given them up, as he says, on account of the miserable dishonest parties concerned in manfacturing them. The same party are now industriously circulating reports calculated to injure Dr. Smith and to affect the reputation of his valuable pills; but rather than notice them in public, Dr. Smith is about to institute legal proceedings against them for their slanders, as he has in another case against a similar party, in which he recovered a large amount of damages. These miserable imitators have to resort to the most abominable means to palm off their counterfeit pills as the public know that Dr. Smith's are the original and genuine. Several instances have come to public notice in which life has been endangered by the unfortunate use of the counterfeits.

COMPLICATED DISEASE CURED.

[From the Rev John Kellett.]

Brooklyn, 127 Myrtle St. Oct 1, 1846.

Dr. Smith—Sir, It is with great satisfaction I acknowledge the benefit my wife has received from the use of a few boxes of your pills which she used at the recommendation of a friend. Having fallen into bad health early in winter, she used them with perfect safety, even in that cold season. She has at times, used Morrison's Moffat's and others, and she states she has received more benefit from them than all the others. She believes they may be used with perfect safety by females, without changing either their employment or diet, and that at any season of the year.

Yours respectfully, JOHN KELLETT,
Wesleyan Methodist Minister.

To Dr. Smith, 179 Greenwich street; New York.

AGUE & FEVER CURED.

Mr G B Remson, (Grocer, Middle Village, L I) says he sold Dr Smith's Indian Vegetable Sugar Coated Pills to two persons there for the fever and ague, and a permanent cure was, in both cases, speedily effected. For headache, colds, fevers, dyspepsia low spirits, &c. there is not their equal to be found in the whole range of pharmacy Be careful of imitations, base counterfeits, and mind that the written signature of G Benj Smith is on the bottom of each box otherwise spurious pills will be palmed on you

DYSPEPSIA CURED

Portsmouth, N H Feb 28, 1846

Dear Dr Smith—I have been afflicted for the last five years with dyspepsia, unable most of the time to attend to my business. I have tried every thing that was recommended, but without any good effects By chance I saw a notice of your pills in the N H Gazette, and determined once more to try something that might restore my health, and to my unspeakable joy I found that they had the desired effect; and feeling it a duty I owe my friends and the community at large, I make these statements. If you think it worth while to publish the above, it is at your disposal.

Yours very respectfully,
