Correspondence of the Kent News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 17, '73.

LITTLE MULLET.

The mechanics and laborers of Washington, in Government employ, are indignant at the effrontery of little Mullet, the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, for presuming to dictate industrial and social as well as architectural views, in his late report to the Secretary of the Treasury, and urging, not only that officer, who is his immediate official chief, but also every other Head of Department, and even the President himself, to use their influence, forthwith, for the abolition of the eight-hour law. Impudent little Mullet goes further still He lectures Congress on the absurdity of the eight-hour law, and advises our several State Governments and the "powers that be," all the world over, to take warning by the sad experience of the U. S. Government, and frown down every attempt by philanthropists to reduce the day's work of mechanics and laborers to eight hours.

"All this talk," says the small Mullet, substantially, "about giving the working man more time to pass with his family, for recreation, to improve his mind, &c., is mere sentimental bosh, good people. The proper way to deal with a common fellow is to get all the work out of him that he can possibly stand, for as low wages as his necessities compel him to take."

If the President and his Secretary of the Treasury have a just appreciation of official and personal dignity, and of the general fitness of things, they will promptly resent the presumption of this vulgar little parvenu in attempting to instruct them and all creation in social science, and will, a little quicker than lightning, drive him back to obscurity and his kennel in Ohio.

THE DELEGATE FROM UTAH.

The usual attempts have been made in the House to worry the delegate from Utah. They occur at the commencement of every Congress. Some patriots dispute the validity of his election, while others object to his admission under any circumstances, fearful that their morals may be corrupted by his presence. In the Senate, also, Mr. Frelinghuysen introduced his yearly bill to prohibit polygamy in the territories. Of course, all this indignation is exhibited for effect on pious constituents, and often by men of doubtful private character. Indeed, I have often noticed that when a Congressman is engaged in a big steal, or when he supports, in the suburbs of Washington, a private establishment not presided over by his wife, he seeks to divert suspicion from himself by furiously pitching into Brigham Young or the delegate from Utah. But this has got to be pretty well played out. Utah has been represented in Congress many years, and the official and personal conduct in Washington of her several delegates has been of such a character that not one of them has ever been suspected of wrong-doing. They have never been charged with dishonesty, intemperance or licentiousness They have never been connected with any ring or job, nor have they ever endeavered to procure the passage of bills to subserve their personal purposes, but have invariably exhibited a devotion to the interests of their constituents which other representatives might copy to advantage.

OUR RELATIONS WITH SPAIN.

Do those people who are clamoring for war with Spain understand that one of the unavoidable consequences of such a calamity would be the infliction upon the country, for a third term, of U. S. Grant. His parasites had given up all hope of a third term for their chief. The howl of indignation which the mere allusion, some months ago, to the possibility of Grant's renomination in 1876 had drawn forth, as well from those who had hitherto supported him as from those who had voted against him, had sent terror and dismay to the hearts of office-holders. But the prospect of a war with Spain revived their hopes, and, while they professed to wish for a peaceful settlement of the question pending between that country and the United States, they secretly fomented a war feeling among the masses. Fortunately, however, the best men of the Republican party, in both Houses, have resolved that the country shall not be plunged into a foreign war, with all its enormous expenses, for the gratification of the lust of place, power and patronage of their chief, and to afford the comorants by whom he is surrounded facilities for enriching themselves by shoddy contracts and otherwise. To the late civil war are due our present disordered finances, impoverishing taxation, unsettled values, the pauperization of the farmers, the suspension of our manufactories, the lack of employment for the working masses, and the prevalent dishonesty in public and private life. Our public debt is already over TWO BILLIONS; the Secretary of the Treasury has just officially announced that increased taxation will be necessary to meet the expenses of the Government, and yet the President recommends Congress to appropriate money for building palaces for cabinet officers, and several millions to "improve" the property in this district owned by the ring of which he is the head and front. We are in no condition to go to war, even if there were need of it, under such circumstances and under such a President. But there is no need of it. Grant and his cabinet are primarily responsible for the executions in Havana. If they had attended to their duties properly, no such vessel as the Virginius could have left a port of the United States, under the American flag, loaded down to her gunwale with war material to be landed upon the territory of a friendly government, for its overthrow.

CHEAP TRANSIT CAUCUS.

Some fifty congressmen met in the hall of the House of Representatives, on Saturday night, to compare views on the subject of cheap transportation. The caucus, which was composed of persons of all shades of politics, was called to order by Gen. Coburn, of Indiana. Hon. M. H. Dunnell, of Minnesota, was chosen to preside. The speakers, one and all, expressed their determination to bring about unity of action upon this subject in the legislation of Congress.

THE LIBRARY OF CONGRESS.

The library of Congress now numbers 258,752 volumes and 50,000 pamphlets. In the copyright department 15,352 entries were made during the past year, netting over $13,000 to the treasury.

THE CROWNLESS KING.—It has transpired that the Count de Chambor, who still claims to be King of France by divine right, was in France the guest of the Duke de Luynes, near Paris, a fortnight before the Assembly at Versailles gave the final vote making MacMahon President for seven years. He also spent several days in Paris. After positively refusing to abdicate his pretentions, and finding that few if any sympathized with him, the last of the Bourbons departed from France, which had dethroned and exiled him in 1830, before he was ten years old, and was last heard of as having reached Munich, probably en route to his country residence in Austria.

OUR NEXT LEGISLATURE.

The coming session of the Legislature will, as usual, have a large number of officers to elect with the additional one of United States Senator, and the possible one of Governor. The State Treasurer is also to be elected to serve two years from the expiration of Hon. John W. Davis' term, which ends this winter. Three Police Commissioners for the City of Baltimore are also to be chosen. These officers will be elected by the vote of both bodies. The House, of itself, will elect a Speaker, a Chief Clerk, a Reading Clerk, a Journal Clerk, a Sargeant-at-arms, two or more Doorkeepers, several pages, a Folder, a Postmaster and numerous committee clerks. The Senate, for itself, elects a President, a Secretary a Reading Clerk, a Journal Clerk, a Sargeant-at-arms, a Doorkeeper, a Page, a Folder, a Postmaster, and its required number of committee clerks. In former years, both bodies elected for themselves respectively, a printer, but it remains to be seen whether this mode will be adopted, or the usual procedure of the past two or three sessions be followed, of lumping the matter, and contracting for the whole printing at one sum, before it it is known how much is to be done.

The following appointments are in the hands of the Governor, to be made during the session of the Legislature: Five State Tobacco Inspectors, ten directors on the part of the State for the Industrial School for Girls, two directors for the Asylum of Deaf Mutes at Frederick, one Weighmaster of Live Stock at Baltimore, six directors of the Penitentiary, four managers of the House of Refuge, three Weighers of Hay and Straw in Baltimore and one in Baltimore County, at Canton; four State School Commissioners, Weigher General of Grain, and five assistants in Baltimore, two Inspectors of Steam Boilers in the city of Baltimore. Besides these general State appointments, the Governor has to appoint Officers of Registration, Justices of the Peace, Coroners, Auctioneers and Notaries Public for the city of Baltimore and the several counties throughout the State, in all about seven hundred officers. Since the election the Executive Chamber has assumed an unwonted activity, and will continue so from now until the meeting, during the session and some time after the adjournment of the Legislature.

A MARVELOUS NARRATIVE.—A Man Loses His Identity.—The St. Louis Republican publishes an account of a trial involving a most marvelous question of identity now progressing in court at Malone, Franklin county, N. Y. The story goes that Willis Peyton, a farmer, forty years of age, went south two years ago to peddle a patent spring bed, leaving a wife and several children, some of whom were well grown. At Terre Haute he spent some time, and after leaving that place he lost all consciousness, but after a time realized that he was in a hospital at Evansville, Ind., recovering from small-pox. He was then bald, and when he resumed his clothing every article appeared to have been made for a much smaller man. The pantaloons, which he recognized as his, were at least six inches too short. He could get no trace of his money, watch, model spring bed, or other effects. When he was released from the hospital he went to a friend, who spurned him as an impostor. He looked in a mirror and doubted his own identity. He first thought of suicide, and his next thought was of home. The latter prevailed. On the way he was taken ill again, and once more all the world was a blank. He finally arrived at his own door after an absence of two years. Willis Peyton's family believed him dead. The Willis Peyton who had left that threshold two years before had light hair, nearly red, and a very scanty beard, and was thin in flesh. The Willis Peyton who now knocked at the door was much taller, rounder, and had brown curly hair and a heavy beard. He knocked and was invited into the house of the "Widow Peyton," and took a seat. Looking at Mrs. Peyton he said: "I suppose you don't know me Addie?" She answered, "No, sir, I do not; who are you?" The man burst into tears and said: "You'll not believe me, I know, when I tell you: but it's got to come some time, and might as well now as not. I'm Willis Peyton." Mrs. Peyton shrank from him, ordered him out of doors, and two of her sons and a hired man took him to the nearest justice, who sent him to jail as a lunatic. He was first tried by a commission of lacceny, and was adjudged perfectly sane. He is now being tried before the surrogate on the question of his pretentions as the husband of Mrs Peyton and the owner of the Peyton property. He has shown marks on his person, relating instances of his private family history, recalled circumstances in connection with old associates, all tending to prove the truth of his claim. And the "Widow Peyton" sits in the court room, by turns looking at the claimant to her bed and board, and crying as witness after witness avows his belief that the strange man is Willis Peyton. She has told her friends that if he really is Peyton he may have the farm, stock, and everything but herself. Sometimes during the passages of the trial he implores her to look again and see if she cannot recognize one feature and acknowledge him as her husband, but she refuses, and his earnest, appealing face sudden ly becomes clouded by despair. He says if the suit terminates in his favor he will only ask a living off the farm, and will not intrude upon his wife and children, unless they voluntarily recognize him.

A Manual of Health.

An edition of between nine and ten millions of copies of a very useful work is now ready for gratuitous distribution, and can be had for the asking at any drug store in the United States, the British Colonies, Spanish America or Brazil. The work referred to is Hostetter's Almanac for 1874. The medical proportion of it treats of the various ailments to which the human system is subject, and sets forth the peculiar proprieties of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters—the purest and best tonic at present known—as a preservative of health and strength, and as a remedy for debility and disease. The Almanac is printed in all the principal languages of the civilized world, and reaches a larger number of families and individuals than any other medical treaties that ever issued from the press. No man or woman who has a due regard for that choicest of heaven's blessings, bodily vigor, should fail to read the plain, simple and convincing articles which this truly practical publication contains. The miscellaneous matter is varied, instructive and amusing, and the calendar department copious and comprehensive. Hostetter's Almanac is, in short, a household convenience, adapted to the use of all classes and callings. The farmer, the planter, the miner, the merchant, the mechanic, the laborer, the professional man, all need it; and to invalids of both sexes it is literally an article of prime necessity. The medical technicalities which render so many medical treatises intended for popular use unintelligible to the general reader, have been carefully avoided in this pamphlet. All is clear explicit, forcible, and reconcilable with reason and common sense.

The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetters & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

Thousands proclaim VINEGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Invigorant that ever sustained the sinking system.

No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so prevalent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkansas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, Pearl, Alabama, Mobile, Savannah, Roanoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during seasons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to DR. J. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healthy functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertisement.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons engaged in Paints and Minerals, such as Plumbers, Type-setters, Gold-beaters, and Miners, as they advance in life, are subject to paralysis of the Bowels. To guard against this, take a dose of WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS occasionally.

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt-Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminitics will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

For Female Complaints, in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood, or the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Iron in the Blood. PERUVIAN AN IRON TONIC SYRUP. MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protected Solution of the Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.
