...en who gave the electoral vote ... State to Mr. Cleveland, trusting his false pledges and professions, is one of the most important events of the canvass. Mr. Foulke warns the tariff reformers that they cannot trust the President. Mr. Cleveland was elected, Mr. Foulke truly remarks, professedly as a Civil Service reformer. He took great pains to declare, and his friends with great zeal insisted, that the tariff question was not an issue in the contest of 1884. But he gave explicit pledges as a Civil Service reformer, and he was elected by the votes of men who held, as Mr. Foulke now holds, that the reform of the Civil Service is far more important than the tariff question.

What has Mr. Cleveland done? The president of the Indiana Civil Service Association testifies that Mr. Cleveland has "done the cause of Civil Service reform more injury than the most flagrant spoilsman could possibly do. * * * There has never been a President more fertile in promises and more barren in performances. * * * Efficient public servants have been dismissed in platoons for the mere purpose of making places for Democrats recruited largely from the criminal classes; men passed the examinations who cannot read the subscriptions of letters they are required to deliver; hundreds of unopened letters are sent to junk-shop dealers; and all these things are laid before the President and he does nothing." That is the state of things in Indiana, and Mr. Foulke warns the tariff reformers that the President, who was expressly responsible as Chief Executive for the Civil Service and betrayed his trust, cannot be trusted to promote more faithfully a tariff reform with which as Executive he has nothing to do except in the signing or vetoing of bills.

This warning comes at a time when the most sincere tariff reformers are already much exercised about the President's tricky delay in forwarding his letter of acceptance. They already fear that something will be said by him in that letter for the purpose of retracting the commitments of his last annual message. Their fear shows that they instinctively distrust the man they are supporting. They know that he is a Reformer for Revenue only. Whether a tariff reformer or a Civil Service reformer matters not to him. This man has even tacitly permitted his supporters to blazon to the world the story that he has given a pledge to reform himself, in the matter of personal habits. As a Promiser he is a success. All his reforms get that far.

Where one has no refrigerator and can get ice regularly, it will pay to make a rough substitute. Take two second-hand dry goods boxes, one from three to four inches smaller than the other. Put sawdust in the bottom of the larger one and place the smaller one on it, and pack around with the same. Put a tin spout through the bottoms for a drain pipe. Put shelves at the ends of the inner box, leaving a space for ice in the middle. Fit tops with hinges to each box, and set the whole upon a block at each end so that a pan can be set under to catch the drip.

If a man conclude that the Sabbath shall be to him nothing but a holiday, it will, if occasion offer, be turned into a work day, and thus be nothing better than the Saturday or Monday. He therefore, will have no regular time of rest, and will be a mere slave, driven by the hard conditions in which he has placed himself. This is but saying that there is no hope for a rest that shall answer the end of such an institution if the Sabbath sacredness is left out of it.

German Pudding: Butter a pie-dish and put in a layer of bread crumbs, then a layer of apples, pared and quartered, then a layer of brown sugar, a layer of very finely chopped suet, or butter. Repeat the layers till the dish is full, having bread crumbs at the top. Bake three-quarters of an hour in a moderate oven. Serve, with sauce, or with sugar sifted over the top.—Good Housekeeping.

Inclination may run in the same direction as duty; but the direction of inclination does not in itself decide the direction of duty. When duty runs in the opposite direction from inclination, the only safe thing to do is to go in the opposite direction from that of inclination. In other words, it is often the case that one must have a care to do what he doesn't want to do, and not to do what he does want to do.

Remember that we have no more faith at any time than we have in the hour of trial. All that will not bear to be tested is mere carnal confidence. Fairweather faith is no faith.

Spring Has Come

AT

F. J. DEVILBISS',

New Windsor, Md.

Another spring has opened its contrasting beauties before us, and with it comes the whirl and excitement of spring trade. The ladies are on the alert looking for the novel and cheap. Our line of goods to-day stands unsurpassed. Everything was purchased in New York and from first hands. Buying on a spot cash basis, and from the commercial centre of the United States, if we do not sell you cheap it is our fault. To-day we can show you the handsomest and cheapest line of in Carroll county. We fear neither pioneer nor prestige. No one can show as pretty a line of Armure Cloths, Henrietta Cloths, Tricots, Cashmeres, Plushes, Felts, as low as ours. Get samples elsewhere and compare. We have money to squander that our $1 Black Silk is not equaled, never has been, and times must be worse than now if it ever will be. Yard-wide Satines at 11½c. Good Dress Goods 5c. Good Calico 4c. and 5c. Ginghams, good, 5c. All Linen Toweling, 6½c.

CARPETS AND MATTING.

Splendid Matting at 12½c. per yard. Splendid Brussels at 60c., worth 75c. Rag Carpet at 20c., 23c., 27c. No one can meet these prices.

The prettiest line of

ever seen, New York styles. Remember Slesinger's Shoes for Tender Feet. They have taken the lead here. As a crusher, we have a lot of Women's Button Shoes that we intend to mark down to a starvation price of $1. Another lot, bought in New York, at $1.25, sold everywhere at $1.75.

HATS! HATS! HATS!

Newest styles, lowest prices.

We have a job lot of CORSETS at 50c., sold everywhere at $1. They will soon be gone. Verily, I say unto you, Ball's Corsets lead the world for comfort and durability.

Don't forget Thompson, the tailor. He is now putting up Spring Suits that take your breath. He is making havoc of our fancy styles of Cassimeres, which maketh glad the hearts of the young.

TOBACCO AND CIGARS.

Here is the best Navy Tobacco at 30c. per pound. Cigars that will soothe your care and brighten the fancy at $1 per hundred.

In fine, we ask you to call on us, look around,—we will all be glad to see you. If you don't see the sledge-hammer bargains, one of us must pay the penalty.

Very Respectfully,
FRANK J. DEVILBISS.
