Letter from Fifth District.

Messrs. Editors:—I notice quite often in the News a letter from this district. I like to read them; they are indeed very entertaining. As I am a novice in the art of letter writing, I hope that my friends will not depreciate my effort. I concede the excellence of your regular correspondent from this district; his letters are entertaining and instructive. I write only because I have nothing else to do, and because, as the old song goes, "I talk about things that I don't like to see."

There has been quite a talk among us about oysters and oystermen. The fight seems to be between the tongmen and the dredgers. We think the way the captains of the several crafts taken on Swan Point bar were treated during the session of our late court is calculated to make them respect the laws of the State in future. The tongmen, of course, are in excellent spirits.

We also hear the action of the Grand Jury discussed in reference to the liquor license law. Local optionists are in high glee, and claim a full vote for their side this fall, while whiskey men are very quiet, saying but little, and thinking the balance. We do not propose to discuss the right or wrong of the existing law in reference to the mode of licensing the sale of whiskey, but it is evidently a knotty question to deal with. In our estimation, it is a big thing to put into the hands of twenty-three men, for them to say who shall and who shall not sell whiskey. Suppose that eleven of the twenty-three stand each way—the twelfth man may be an illiterate person with very little judgment and strong prejudices—therefore, the granting of license rests solely on this person. A nice subject for reflection, surely.

Ancestral pedigrees are delicate subjects to talk upon. Self-esteem forces us to praise the good and forget the bad. We think humility a good thing. If we want to teach ourselves this virtue, let us imagine that monkeys never had any tails, read Darwin and use our imaginations. I think that after allowing ourselves to reflect for a short time each day upon these subjects our ancestral pride will be muchly diminished. We will learn to slander the poor monkey less (even if he has got a tail and we have not,) and feel it incumbent on us to pay more respect to our poor relations in the future.

I believe, Messrs. Editors, that I started or intended to tell you what I knew about farming, but instead I have got so mixed up that I can't tell whether it is monkey and whiskey or whiskey and monkey. I am also in a quandary as to whether too much whiskey in a man's brain will force him to degenerate to his former self, or whether it was in his first generation that a very smart monkey found such virtues in whiskey that it changed him into just what you see him now. We are impressed that one or the other of these suppositions is true—which it is we cannot tell. F. C. B.

Chesterville and Vicinity.

Messrs. Editors:—Everything is so stagnant in this vicinity that your correspondent partakes of the spirit of the times—hence his non-appearance for so long a time. Perhaps the above assertion is hardly correct, for farmers are stirring lively, and the wheat and oats are growing finely. Much corn has been planted, while a great deal remains yet to be put in the ground. The prospect of a fair harvest, and the hope of getting a good price for the grain, dispel, in a measure, the doleful countenances and elongated faces of these "patrons of husbandry." We trust they may not be disappointed in their hopes; for certainly no people are better entitled to prosperity than they.

And so, notwithstanding the earnest protest of a large number of the best citizens in this village and neighborhood, we are to be cursed with whiskey again. Our village has been quite respectable for two years, but what of the hereafter? She will doubtless return to her former greatness—for bad morals and worse practices. The restoration of the cause may have been deemed wise—but it is the wisdom of the serpent, only to sting and poison to death.

The canal through the village is being plowed up—R. F. Moffett, contractor. He is evidently the man for the place.

Whitewash and be clean is now the order of the day hereabouts. Wonder if this kind of purification is confined to this community?

Mrs. Clift's school, between Chesterville and Millington, will shortly hold a a pic-nic, at which there will be some interesting exercises.

Mr. A. Medders has removed from Galena to Chesterville, and taken the Gooding store-house, where he is now engaged in merchandizing. "Bert's" a big man—why shouldn't he do a big business?

A little shaver—The barber under the News office. You will doubtless suppose this last item is far-fetched! WALTER.

THE St. Michael's Comet, of the 28th ult., says: "John Jackson, or Walsh, and Bob Johnson, both of Bayside, and sailors on Ben Perry's scrape-boat, were drowned at Cook's point, on Tuesday. Their scrape-boat was anchored off Cook's point, and the two men went ashore in a small boat to a store. On their way to their vessel the boat swamped, and both men were drowned. Their bodies were recovered the next day, and taken to Bayside for burial."

KELLOGG says that so far as he is concerned this cruel war is not yet over. But a war with Kellogg on one side and the whole United States on the other—excepting Ben Wade—does not threaten to raise the price of gunpowder.

Delays are Dangerous.—If this axiom is true respecting the ordinary affairs of life, still more obviously so as regards the exigencies o approaching disease. Unquestionably! Yet how many neglect to practically recognize this plain truth when health is in the balance. Of the many premonitory symptoms of disease a hacking cough is the most prophetic of peril. Arrest it at the outset with Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, and so avoid Consumption. Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Lungs, Coughs, Colds, and, indeed, all Affections of the Respiratory Organs, are entirely cured by this sovereign remedy, which also eradicates Dyspepsia, Piles, Gravel, Nervous Debility, Torpidity of the Liver, Urinary Difficulties, Constipation, Palpitation of the Heart, Scrofulous Affections, and the infirmities peculiar to the gentler sex. This Cordial derives its virtues from the vegetable kingdom, and is infinitely to be preferred, both on account of its superior efficacy and freedom from nauseous and injurious properties to the officinal drugs so often administered with no other effect than to offend the palate and disorder the stomach. The Pine Tree Cordial can always be relied on to do what is claimed for it. Sold by all Druggists. Principal Depot, 916 Filbert street, Philadelphia. mr24-3m.

DEATH OF EX-GOV. BROWNLOW.—William G. Brownlow, a journalists and politician of some note, died on Sunday at his home in Knoxville, Tenn., after a long illness. He was born in Wythe county, Va., in 1805, and learned the trade of a carpenter. In 1826 he entered the Methodist ministry, and labored for ten years as an itinerant minister. In 1837 he became editor of the Knoxville Whig, a political paper, where he achieved the reputation of a violent partizan but trenchant writer. He strongly opposed secession, and in December, 1861, was arrested for treason against the Confederacy, and detained until 1862, when he was sent within the Union lines. In 1864 he returned to Tennessee, of which he became Governor in 1865; and in 1869 he was elected to a seat in the United States Senate, where he was chiefly conspicuous for his unforgiving course toward those who had taken part on the Confederate side during the war. At the time of his death Mr. Brownlow was the political editor of the Knoxville Chronicle, a republican paper.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Thursday morning of last week as the early passenger train on the Maryland & Delaware Railroad out of Easton, was approaching a small bridge, about three miles north of that place, it met with an accident by which the engine and one car was thrown from the track, down an embankment 15 feet high. The accident was caused by the burning of one of the stringers of the bridge, which caused one side of the track being let down, and as the engine ran up on it, it caused it to give way with the result stated above. The engine was damaged to a considerable extent, as was also the car. The engineer and fireman were slightly hurt. A wreck train was dispatched to the scene, and after considerable work, the engine was gotten upon the track and came to Wilmington, where it will be repaired.

SPOTS upon the Sun do not visibly diminish its brilliancy, but spots, pimples or blotches upon the face, neck or arms seriously detract from female beauty.—They may, however, be completely removed by the daily use of Glenn's Sulpher Soap. Depot, Crittenton's 76th Ave., N. Y. Hills Hair & Whisker Dye, black or brown, 50cts. 14-4t.

MANHOOD,

How LOST, How RESTORED.

JUST published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay of the radical cure (without medicine) on SPERMATORRHŒA or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, CONSUMPTION, EPILEPSY and FITS, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance, &c.

Price in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author in this admirable Essay, clearly demonstrates, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post-paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps.
