Another Farm And Home Feature Today

Another big reading treat's in store for you this month as you read today's issue of the STAR. With more than a little pride, we present another special allrotogravure section, our regular monthly agricultural supplement. .Packed with pictures gathered around the state, in neighboring communiteis and from far off places, too, our STATE FARMER SECTION for February will, we believe, be received even more enthusiastically than last month's.

There's something in our February supplement for every member of the family: Some serious thoughts for father on the agricultural situation right in this section of the country and in other communities; interesting home making hints for mother; some grand style suggestions for daughter; latest information on the 4-H Club and Future Farmers for brother—and for the whole family, scads of pictures as only rotogravure can reproduce them.

So here it is, the all-rotogravure section, another exclusive feature of the STAR, dedicated to the advancement of this community's farming interests. We're sure you'll like it.
