SATURDAY MORNING.....FEB. 17, 1883

GRUMBLERS.

What if the sober bossy cows
Should say: "We'll go into the house,
And at the table take a seat,
To take our share of bread and meat"?

What if old Dob, the horse, should say:
"I'm sick of munching oats and hay,
I think I'd better try and see
If soup and stew will not suit me"?

What if the geese aloud should hiss;
"We'll live no more a life like this,
But take a taste of tarts and pies,
And cakes instead of grass and flies."

What if the chicks should peep forlorn,
"We're tired to death of crumbs and corn,
Give us some sugar now to eat,
Raisins and candy nice and sweet"?

What if the lambs should bleat: "Alas,
That we should always nibble grass;
Why not have oysters, clams and fish,
With pudding for a dainty dish"?

What if a little boy I know
Should pout his lips and grumble so
And whine: "I won't have this or that,
I wish I were a dog or cat"?

What if my little girl should cry:
"To eat this mess I will not try,
For bread and butter is such stuff,
Of it I'm sure I've had enough"?

What if they both should go without
The food they take with such a pout?
For there are many hungry poor,
Who sadly pass from door to door,
Whose hearts would thankful be to-day
For food these grumblers throw away.

HINTS TO HORSEMEN.

Give horses salt frequently.

Returning from an afternoon drive let your horse cool off before entering the stable.

Road horses should have their front feet stuffed with flaxseed meal twice a week.

When light shoes are needed, particularly hind ones have them made of cast steel.

Don't hook your horse to the sleigh the same as to your wagon, give him more trace.

Horses wearing boots should have them loosened while under the shed at the house.

If your horse should pull on one line or throw his head up and down, fight and pull on the bit, have his mouth and teeth examined.

The hand pieces of driving reins frequently become smooth from use, causing the hands to shift. In such cases rub the lines with powdered rosin.

If you wish to drive your horse with an open bridle have him tried with one before putting him to your top-wagon, otherwise he might get away with you.

When horses overreach lengthen the hind shoes. When they hit the front of the hind feet have the toe of the front shoes made narrow and concaved on the inside.

Some horses when trotting, in putting their hind feet to the ground strike principally on the toe. Such horses should have the heels lowered and should wear shoes without heels.

Skunk-cabbage is said to be good for heaves in teaspoonful doses night and morning. Moisten the hay and grain. Be careful with the diet. Never work a heavy horse on a full stomach.

An excellent remedy for mange is:—Oil of turpentine, 1 pint; add cautiously 2 ounces of oil of vitriol, stirring the mixture constantly; then add 8 ounces linseed oil. To be rubbed in with a brush twice a day.

Steel bits should be kept in a warm place until they are placed in the horse's mouth. Any person can realize the sensation of placing a cold bit in the horse's mouth by first touching it with his own tongue.

When heels and toes are required on a horse's shoes instead of having the shoe turned down for heels have the heels and toes of cast steel and welded on. The heels should be put on half an inch from end of shoe and placed lengthwise.

If your double team did not work to suit you to-day, one crowding to the pole while the other would pull his head to one side, see that the reins are right, and in hooking them to your wagon to-morrow put the off horse on the near side.

Tar is one of the most useful articles to be kept about a stable. Internally use a teaspoonful night and morning for chronic coughs; externally it is particularly useful in thrush and all diseases or wounds of the foot. Mixed with fish-oil it is one of the best remedies for hard or brittle feet.

For a horse that "pulls," use the overcheck with strap attached over the nose and under the lower jaw. For an extra hard-mouthed horse use a four-ring bit. Have a slide-loop on the front of the overcheck, so that it can be moved up and down, as may be required; then have the check pieces and over-check attached to the loose rings and the driving lines alone to the large rings.

Influenza is one of the most prevalent diseases at this time of the year. The first stage of the disease is generally mild and will readily yield to careful, nutritious diet, such as warm mashes oatmeal gruel, suitable clothing and proper ventilation. If the respiration is troubled and the extremities cold give a sedative medicine, rub the legs with dry mustard, bandage with flannel and send for an expert.

CONGRESSMAN KENNA, of West Virginia, who will enter the Senate next fall as the youngest member of that body, tells a good story at his own expense of the days when he was out on a circuit practicing law. In the hotel of a town where he was an entire stranger, but where he was to argue a case next day, an old gentleman—one of a group of loungers in the waiting-room—accosted him with: "Is this Mr. Kenna?" "It is," was the reply. "I knew your father well," then said the old man. "He was a very handsome, bright, intelligent-looking man, and he was as bright and intelligent as he looked. He was a man of talent, and there was none smarter or better-looking in this country." Then he added, after a careful gaze at the young lawyer: "But it is strange, I cannot see in you the slightest resemblance to your father."

A FARMER who had used a wagon with broad tires on the wheels long enough to ascertain their relative value as compared with the narrow tires, writes: "As a four-inch tire will carry two tons over soft ground with greater ease to the team than a two-and-a-half inch tire will carry one ton. The wheels are not so much strained by stones and rough tracks on the road, and the road is not cut up; but, on the contrary, is packed down and keeps smooth. The prevalent idea that the draft is increased by widening the tire is altogether baseless; on the contrary, a wide tire reduces the draft. The extra cost of the tire is repaid many times over every year in the extra work that can be done by a team."

IT is a singular fact, though not generally known, that the juice of the seed stock of the common parsnip is so poisonous as to raise water blisters between the fingers and on the arms of those who cut off the seed tops.

IF you have money society will never take the trouble to ask how you got it.

Public Local Laws,

OPERATIVE IN KENT COUNTY,

Passed at the session of the General Assembly of Maryland begun on the fourth day of January, 1882, and published in accordance with the Act of Assembly in such cases provided:

CHAPTER 96.

AN ACT for the protection of Partridges and Rabbits, and to permit the shooting of Ducks and other Wild Fowls from the shore over decoys; also to pay a bounty upon the heads of Large Hawks and Owls in Kent county.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That it shall not be lawful to shoot or trap any partridges in Kent county between the fifteenth of January and the twenty-fifth day of October, nor any rabbits between the twenty-fifth day of Debember and the twenty-fifth day of October next succeeding, except that they may be trapped and preserved for stocking or breeding purposes.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful to shoot ducks or other wild fowl from the shore over decoys in said county.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That any person killing any large hawks or owls in said county shall be entitled to a bounty of fifty cents for each and every hawk or owl killed.

SEC. 4. Be it further enacted, That to obtain such bounty it shall be necessary for the persons killing hawks or owls to produce the heads of the same before some justice of the peace of said county, and make affidavit that the hawks or owls were killed within the limits of said county, and thereupon the said justice shall give a certificate of the production of said head or heads before him, and of the said affidavit, and it shall be the duty of said justice to burn or otherwise destroy the said head or heads so as to prevent a second allowance for the same.

SEC. 5. Be it further enacted, That upon the production of said justice's certificate the commissioners of said county shall levy for the use of the party holding and producing the same a sum sufficient to pay the aforesaid bounty.

SEC6. . Be it further enacted, That any person or persons violating the first section of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before a justice of the peace shall pay a fine of five dollars for each partridge or rabbit so shot or taken, and on failure to pay such fine shall be lodged in the county jail for a term of ten days.

SEC. 7. Be it further enacted, That the fines collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the justice of the peace collecting the same to the County Commissioners, to be by them placed in the hands of the County Game Association, should there be one, and if not into the hands of the treasurer of the "State Game Association," to be used for the increase and protection of game in Kent county.

SEC. 8. Be it further enacted, That the act of eighteen hundred and seventy-six, chapter fifty-seven, entitled "An Act for the protection of partridges, rabbits, &c., and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act, be and the same are hereby repealed.

[Approved March 21, 1882.]
February 3—3t.

CHAPTER 148.

AN ACT to prevent trespass with dog or gun upon private property in Kent county, and repeal the act of eighteen hundred and seventy-six, chapter fifty-seven, entitled "An Act for the protection of partridges, rabbits, and to prevent tresspass on private property," so far as it applies to said county.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That any person found trespassing with dog or gun on any private property in Kent county shall be liable to be arrested by any constable of the county, and shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before any justice of the peace in said county shall be fined the sum of five dollars, and on failure to pay said fine shall be confined in the jail of said county for a term of ten days.

SEC. 2. Be it further enacted, That the fines collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid by the justice of the peace collecting the same to the County Commissioners, to be by them placed in the hands of the treasurer of the County Game Association, should there be one, and if not, into the hands of the treasurer of the State Game Association, to be used for the increase and protection of game in Kent county.

SEC. 3. Be it further enacted, That the act of eighteen hundred and seventy-six, chapter fifty-seven, entitled "An Act for the protection of partridges, rabbits, and to prevent tresspass on private property," and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act be and the same are hereby repealed in so far as the same relates to Kent county.

[Approved, March 30, 1882.
February 3—3t.

CHAPTER 194.

AN ACT to prevent the trespass upon private property in Kent county, in this State, by any person or persons who have been forbidden to do so by a special written notice served upon him, her or them by the owner or owners of said property or by their agents.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That any person or persons who shall enter upon or cross over the private property of any person or persons in Kent county, in this State, after having had a special written notice served upon him, her or them by the owner or owners of said property, or by his, her or their agent, not to cross over or enter upon said private property, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof before some justice of the peace of said county, be fined by said justice not less than five dollars nor more than twenty dollars, and in default of the payment of said fine, together with the costs of prosecution, shall be by said justice of the peace committed to the county jail for a period of ten days.

SEC. 2. And be it further enacted, That all fines collected under the foregoing section shall be paid by the justice of the peace before whom such conviction shall be had (and whose duty it is hereby made to collect the same), over to the school commissioners of said county, for the use of the public schools thereof, within a period of ten days after receiving the same. [Approved March 30, 1882.]
February 3—3t.

CHAPTER 314.

AN ACT to authorize and empower the Trustees of the Parsonage property in Chestertown of the Methodist Protestant Church to sell and convey certain real estate in said town.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, That Absalom W. Sparks, John W. Collins, William B. Usilton, John K. Aldridge and S. Franklin Smith, trustees of the Methodist Protestant Parsonage in Chestertown, Kent county, Maryland, of the Methodist Protestant Church of the Maryland district, or a majority of them, be and they are hereby fully authorized and empowered to sell and convey in fee part of said parsonage lot of land fronting on Fish street in Chestertown, not exceeding thirty-six feet front by fifty-six feet deep, by deed to be executed, acknowledged and recorded according to law.

SEC. 2. And be it enacted, This act shall take effect from the date of its passage. [Approved May 3, 1882.]
February 3—3t.

CHAPTER 169.

AN ACT to repeal section three of article ninety-eight of the Code of Public General Laws, titled "Wild Fowl," so far as the same relates to Kent county.

And Iron Frame Cultivator

To Our Friends and the Public:

In introducing these Wagons on the Peninsula, we feel that we are doing something to benefit the public. It seems to be the unanimous verdict of Farmers that our Wagons track better and run lighter than any others made on the Peninsula. This was the decision of the Judges of the Worton Fair, held in September, 1881. Every piece is carefully selected, and nothing but the best material is used.

Our DEARBORNS and CARTS are EXCELLED BY NONE.

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and native vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 1000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Stations marked thus (*) have no agents Freight for Delaney and Bingham's must be prepaid.

The morning trains make connection at Clayton with the Delaware Railroad going North and South.

Passengers on morning train to and from Baltimore change cars at Wilmington or Delaware Junction.

Freight carried at low rates to all points and must be at Stations 30 minutes before starting time, in order to insure dispatch.

☞ Trains run on Phila. time, which is 5 minutes faster than Balt. time.
