The Panic at Nashville.

A correspondent of the Norfolk Day Book gives the following account of the panic in Nashville on receipt of the intelligence of the surrender of Fort Donelson:

The news of the surrender of Donelson reached Nashville, Tenn., by telegraph, on Sunday morning about church time, while many of the citizens were on their way to their accustomed places of worship. Instantly, of course, every other consideration gave place to the thought of personal safety. Every means of transportation at hand was employed to remove furniture and valuables; the depots were thronged with men, women and children, anxious to leave the city; train after train was put in motion; government stores were thrown open to all who chose to carry them away, and negroes, laborers, and even genteel-looking persons, could be seen "toting" off their pile of hog, clothing, or other property belonging to the army, though, by order of the military authorities, much of this was recovered on the ensuing day.

In a single word, the city was crazy with a panic. Governor Harris is said to have rode through the streets, at the top of his speed, on horseback, crying out that the papers in the capitol must be removed; and, subsequently, with the Legislature, which had at once assembled, left the city in a special train for Memphis. Still there were some in the city who manifested a determination to make a stand and apply the torch to every house before it should be surrendered. This state of affairs lasted, without much modification, until Monday evening, when the excitement began to subside. All the rolling stock of the railroads converging in Nashville was brought into requisition, and the machinery in the armory, guns and much valuable provisions, &c., were removed. Seven trains, loaded with women and children inside and crowded with frightened men on the top, left the city in one day.

* * * The city is said to have been very unsound, and McClernand himself confessed that he was in daily receipt of information concerning the movements of our troops. Phosphorus and other inflammable compounds have since been found concealed ready for use, and it is also stated that a batch of Union flags were discovered, but whether or not these were the remains of some former celebration is unknown.

Hon. Jas. Guthrie for an Amnesty.

At the celebration at Louisville, on the Anniversary of Washington's Birthday, Hon James Guthrie delivered an address, from which we extract the following:

This day, if the power was with me, an amnesty and free pardon should be proclaimed to all, whether in arms or not, who, in a prescribed time, give up their arms and the Rebel cause, acknowledge the supremacy of the Constitution and the laws, and agree to submit to them. I am asked what I would do with the leaders? I reply, I would leave them to the tribunals and the punishment prescribed by the laws they have violated, but I am for the largest forgiveness consistent with the restoration of the Constitution and the safety of the Union.

I would declare this amnesty and pardon as a war measure. It may draw thousands who feel that the rebellion is not a remedy for existing or supposed evils, and are earnestly and hopefully awaiting to escape, so far as possible, from the consequences of their acts. I would open the door for them. Many of the seceded States have always been for the Union, and only await the time they may safely take ground for it. I would declare the amnesty and pardon as a financial measure, as a measure of economy in this most expensive and wasteful civil war. I believe it would act promptly in the restoration of the Constitution and the Union, and be more effective in restoring the Union than the most signal victories our armies have or shall obtain. If it shorten the war but fifty or one hundred days, it would save to the nation more than ten times the value of all the estates you could possibly confiscate in accordance with the Constitution.

I am glad to see our Union armies advancing, although the weather is bad and the roads almost impassable, and I hope they will now strike heavy and quick. We want no provisional government in the State under Congressional action. The Union sentiment is strong enough in Tennessee, and I believe will be strong enough in all the Seceded States when supported by the Union armies, to take possession of the State Government and bring them again under the folds of the Constitution. There can be no fear about the supremacy of the Union sentiment in those States.—There is sound logic and convincing eloquence in the material force of our Union armies. Do not be surprised as the armies advance to find that the work of restoration is more prompt and decisive than the work of Secession, and far more unanimous.—Kentucky had no heart for this civil war. She thought and felt that it ought not to have been, and hoped her voice for peace would be heard. When she found that the hope was vain, she girded on her armor and determined to strike for the Constitution, the Union, and the flag. Last in the field, she wants to be first in the work of restoration. I have felt and hoped with Kentucky, and my heart and judgment are still with her.

If Congress is prompt and efficient in action, with efficient aid from the Executive Department, I see no reason why the Constitution and the Union may not be restored within the next ninety or one hundred days, and more than half this immense army restored to their peaceful homes and their usual industrial pursuits. May God grant this and give us peace and a happy reunion, and enable us and our children and our children's children, whenever this day shall return, for coming centuries to appreciate and act in accordance with the farewell advice of Washington, and make those who have engaged in this civil war, and those who have sympathized with them and their posterity, as loyal to the Constitution, the Union, and the laws as Washington himself, and cause the enemies of the Constitution and the Union to become the friends of both.

A CARD.

CHESTERTOWN, January 24, 1862.

THE present distracted condition of our once prosperous and happy country—my advanced age—the uncertainty of life—my duty to my creditors, friends and family, all admonish me of the necessity of closing my business, which I shall proceed to do with all the means in my power.

I have therefore concluded to discontinue the practice of Medicine, or so abridge my field of operations as to enable me to devote some time to the collection of my dues, and payment of my debts. If there are any entertaining a particular preference for me, and are willing to pay me half-yearly, or yearly, I will for such, still endeavor to discharge my professional duty. I will not decline without returning my kind acknowledgments to the community for the pleasant intercourse I have so long enjoyed and most earnestly hope that they will find some one who will more successfully and faithfully discharge the arduous and responsible duties of so extensive a practice as I have had for the last twenty years.

If after getting my affairs in a more tangible or intelligible form, the community should stand in need or wish my professional services, I may conclude to resume.

DR. J. BOVEE DODS'
IMPERIAL WINE BITTERS!

ARE made from a pure and unadulterated Wine, which is about double the usual strength of other Wines, and is imported by only one house in the United States. Also, from the following valuable Roots, Herbs, &c., viz: Solomon's Seal, Spikenard, Comfrey, Camomile Flowers, Gentian, Wild Cherry Tree Bark, and Bayberry.

WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD TO PRODUCE THEIR EQUAL!

We do not profess to have discovered some Roots, "known only to the Indians of South America," and a cure for "all diseases which the flesh is heir to," but we claim to present to the public a truly valuable preparation, which every intelligent Physician in the country will approve of and recommend. As a remedy for

INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION,

Weak Lungs, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Diseases of the Nervous System, Paralysis, Piles, Diseases peculiar to Females, Debility, and all cases requiring a Tonic, they are UNSURPASSED!

For Sore Throat, so common among the Clergy, they are truly valuable.

For the aged and infirm, or for persons of a weak constitution—for Ministers of the Gospel, Lawyers and all public speakers—for Book-Keepers, Tailors, Seamstresses, Students, Artists and all persons leading a sedentary life, they will prove truly beneficial.

As a Beverage, they are wholesome, innocent, and delicious to the taste. They produce all the exhilerating effects of Brandy or Wine, without intoxicating; and are a valuable remedy for persons addicted to excessive use of strong drink, and wish to refrain from it. They are pure and entirely free from the poisons contained in the adulterated Wines and Liquors with which the country is flooded.

These Bitters not only CURE, but PREVENT Disease, and should be used by all who live in a country where the water is bad, or where Chills and Fevers are prevalent. Being entirely innocent and harmless, they may be given freely to Children and Infants with impunity.

Physicians, Clergymen and temperance advocates, as an act of humanity, should assist in spreading these truly valuable BITTERS over the land, and thereby essentially aid in banishing Drunkenness and Disease.

Thus, all bilious complaints—some of which are Torpid Liver, Sick Headache, Dyspepsia, Piles, Chills and Fevers, Costiveness or Looseness—are entirely controlled and cured by these remedies.

Darling's Liver Regulator,

Removes the morbid and bilious deposits from the stomach and bowels, regulates the liver and kidneys, removing every obstruction, restores a natural and healthy action in the vital organs. It is a superior

FAMILY MEDICINE,

Much better than pills, and much easier to take.

DARLING'S LIFE BITTERS

Is a superior tonic and diuretic; excellent in cases of loss of appetite, Flatulency, Female Weakness, irregularities, pain in the side and bowels, blind, protruding and bleeding piles, and general debility.

Read the following Testimony:

Jas. L Brumley, merchant, 184 Fulton st., New York, writes, August 18, 1860: "I have been afflicted with piles, accompanied with bleeding, the last three years; I used

DARLING'S LIVER REGULATOR
AND LIFE BITTERS,

And now consider myself entirely cured."

Hon. John A. Cross writes, Brooklyn, March 15, 1860: "In the spring of 1859 I took a severe cold, which induced a violent fever. I took two doses of

DARLING'S LIVER REGULATOR.

It broke up my cold and fever at once. Previous to this attack, I had been troubled with dyspepsia several months; I have felt nothing of it since."

Otis Studley, Esq., 128 East 28th Street, N. Y., writes: "August 13, 1860—I had a difficulty with Kidney Complaint three years, with constant pain in the small of my back. I had used most all kinds of medicines, but found no permanent relief until I used DARLING'S LIVER REGULATOR and LIFE BITTERS. I passed clotted blood by the urethra. I am now entirely cured, and take pleasure in recommending these remedies."

Mrs. C. Tebow, 11 Christopher Street, N. Y., writes: "Feb. 20, 1860—I have been subject to attacks of Asthma the last twenty years. I have never found anything equal to in affording immediate relief. It is a thorough Liver and bilious remedy."

Mrs. Young, of Brooklyn, writes: "February 28, 1860.—In May last I had a severe attack of Piles, which confined me to the house. I took one bottle of and was entirely cured. I have had no attack since."

D Westervelt, Esq., of South 5th, near 81⅞ Street, Williamsburg, L. I., writes: "August 5, 1860—Having been troubled with a difficulty in the Liver, and subject to bilious attacks, I was advised by a friend to try

DARLING'S LIVER REGULATOR.

I did so, and found it to operate admirably, removing the bile and arousing the liver to activity. I have also used it as a

FAMILY MEDICINE.

When our children are out of sorts, we give them a few drops and it sets them all right. I find it meets the general wants of the stomach and bowels when disordered."
