CHESTERTOWN - JULY 2, 1887

HOW TO GET ALONG.

Trip lightly over trouble,
Trip lightly over wrong;
We only make grief double
By dwelling on it long.
Why clasp Woe's hand so tightly
Why sigh o'er blossoms dead
Why cling to forms unsightly
Why not seek joy instead?

Trip lightly over sorrow,
Though all are dark,
The sun may shine to-morrow,
And gally sing the lark;
Fair hopes have not departed,
Though roses may have fled;
Then never be down-hearted,
But look for joy instead.

Trip lightly over shadow,
Stand not to rail at doom;
We've pearls to string, of gladness,
On this side of the tomb;
While stars are nightly shining,
And Heaven is overhead,
Encourage not repining,
But look for joy instead.

Why the Child Cries.

There is always something wrong when the babe cries at necessary attentions. Most likely the fault is our own, in that we have not done our work as we should have done it. Children do not cry for nothing. If they did, we should be justified in giving them to the Hindoo to be drowned; for what would they not say if they lived to grow up?

The child cries when it is swaddled too tightly; when it is chafed, or is irritated by too infrequent change of wet diapers. It cries when it is not timely and properly fed; when its mouth is dry and it wants water; when it can't get its sleep; when it is too warm or too cold. It cries from stomach-ache and from colic; when its bowels are constipated or inflamed. In chronic disease of the bowels its note is low, piteous, murmuring.

The child throws itself about in its sleep, starts and cries out from the irritation of pin-worms, particularly on the full moon. It gives a distressful cry at the close of a suppressed cough in pleurisy and pneumonia, and in acute bronchitis. When it has acute coryza it cries because it cannot nurse, not being able to breathe through its nose. It cries sharply with earache, putting its hand to its ear or pressing the side of the head down upon the breast of its mother. Sharp, piercing cries suggest brain and cerebro-spinal troubles.

But nature has made the child to bear a great deal without crying, as it otherwise would, because of imperfect development of the nerves of feeling. Infantile anatomy shows us that the cornua of the posterior columns of the spinal cord, from which the sensitive nerve spring, are not advanced in development as is the case with the anterior, from which the nerves of motion spring. And this accounts for the fact that the small child may fall, get cut, be stepped on, or get its fingers in the door or under the window and not be hurt so much nor suffer so long with the same injury as would be the case with older children. It also accounts for the fact that they have a great tendency to spasms and convulsions, as compared with the older, and when they do occur they do not mean so much. It is only in grave diseases that older children have convulsions, except epilepsy. There is also another fact to be noticed. The lachrymal glands do not come to their functions till about the fourth month, so that the cry of the young infant is without tears, while after four months it is not a good sign for a child to cry and not shed tears. Thus the great French physician, Trousseau, considered it a good sign for the child over four months up to seven years to shed tears when it cried and a tearless crying to be a bad omen.

Terrible Experience with a Maniac.

A special from St. Joseph's, Mo., says: "J. B. Molesw, an insane patient, escaped from State Asylum No. 2 on Sunday evening and made his way to his home, near Gower, 20 miles distant, arriving there about 11 o'clock. His wife had retired, but her brother, Mr. Allen, was up. The crazy man silently entered the rear door and struck Allen a terrible blow on the head with a bar of iron, producing insensibility. Next he entered his wife's bedroom and awoke her. He had a pistol, which he presented to her head and bade her follow him. The frightened woman obeyed and he led her to the orchard. He commanded her to take a position with her back against a tree. The woman complied. The man then drew from his pocket a number of stones which he picked up on the way, and with a revolver in his left hand pointed at the woman, began to pelt her with them. When she turned to run into the house the maniac opened fire on her with a revolver, but did not succeed in hitting her. In the meantime Allen had returned to consciousness, and, hearing the shooting, rushed to the spot armed with a Winchester rifle. It was very dark, and before he knew it the maniac was within ten feet of him and began firing. Allen raised his rifle and fired, Molesw falling to the ground with a shot through the thigh. Thinking he had fatally injured the man, Allen dropped his rifle and went to his assistance. Just as he was stooping to raise him up the maniac caught him about the neck, and then ensued a life and death struggle. The great strength of the crazy man soon overpowered Allen, and just as he was giving up Mrs. Molesw came up and struck her husband on the back of the head, knocking him senseless. Soon after the sheriff arrived and ironed the maniac, who is now safely lodged in the asylum hospital."

AN INCANDESCENT BURNER lately exhibited in London will prove gas a rival to the electric light, if it is all that is described. It consists of a so-called "mantle" of muslin, which has been impregnated with certain incombustible oxides produced from the rare metals zirconium and lanthanum. The cap or mantel is supported by a platinum wire in the flame of a Bunsen burner, with the result that the delicate incombustible network is brought to a white heat. The flame gives out intensely white heat, which is perfectly steady and of high value, for a light of twenty candles is obtained from burning only two and a-half feet of gas per hour.

HAS JUST OPENED A NEW AND BEAUTIFUL STOCK
OF
—Fashionable Spring Millinery—
AND FANCY GOODS.
NEWEST STYLES IN HATS, BONNETS, &c., AT LOWEST PRICES!
BUTTERICK'S PATTERNS FOR SALE.
An early call is respectfully solicited. I will do my best to please.

MRS. KATE BRADLEY,
May 7, 1887. Two doors below Postoffice.

To Farmers and Dealers in Kent and Adjoining Counties.

W. A. HYLAND,
GALENA, MD.,

Would respectfully call your attention to his celebrated

Peach Orchard Plows,

for one and two horses, which we believe the BEST implement on the market for that purpose. A thorough examination by any one convinces them of this fact. We also keep on hand

Landsides, Moldboards, Shares and Points

for all chilled Plows now in use on the shore, especially the following:

Oliver, Nos. 40, 20, 19, A and B; Advance, 13, 19, 32, 33 and 35; Ohio, 40; Imperial, 19, 25 and 10; South Bend, 3 and; Economist, 14 and 24; Acme, 83 and 84; Concave, 8, 9, 10 and 11; Wiley and Minor & Horton, all sizes and patterns.

OUR NEW ROLLERS,
two sizes, cannot be excelled.

WHEAT HARVEST

will soon be upon us again, and we flatter ourselves that it has been our good fortune to represent the

Best Binder and Harvester ever sold in this country. None have given such general satisfaction in Kent and adjoining counties as the

"DEERING"

and we take great pleasure in announcing to our farmers that the Deering all-steel Binder is superior to all others in Lightness of Draft, Mechanical Construction and Durability, having been thoroughly tested in other sections and having been the VICTOR in every field trial in this country.

There are 129 Deering Binders at work in Kent county and all of them are settled for, and have harvested 10,000 acres of wheat, while every purchaser is delighted with the machine.

Do not buy until you have examined the Deering all-steel Binder, and I am sure you will have no other. Sample Machines can be seen at my shops as well as at H. H. Hyland's shop in Chestertown.

WM. A. HYLAND.

BOOTS AND SHOES!

HAVING BOUGHT FOR CASH a Large Stock of SHOES for Men, Boys, Ladies and Children, we feel prepared to meet the demands of the trade, both in PRICE AND QUALITY. We don't knowingly misrepresent our goods. We have cheap goods, which we offer for what they are, but we also have goods which we can recommend as being equal to, if not superior, to any in this market for the same money, and we honestly believe that anyone who may purchase these Shoes will get the value of their money every time.

Call and look as an examination will cost nothing and may be money in your pocket.

A REMEDY FOUND AT LAST TO CURE
HOG CHOLERA!
LIEBERMAN'S
Hog Cholera Remedy
WILL POSITIVELY CURE AND PREVENT HOG CHOLERA!

IT is not a new remedy, but has been tried and experimented with for two years and found that if used when the hogs are first attacked that it will cure the Diseased Hogs and prevent the contagion from spreading to the others in the same pen.

SYMPTOMS OF HOG CHOLERA:

It is essentially a malarial fever. The animal however fierce and obstinate formerly is found more gentle and tractable; it shows decided signs of fever, elevated temperature alternating with cold shivers; the ears are more or less loped; hindquarters weak and the hog shows a strong tendency to lie down on the least provocation and hide in the litter, rising only when wanting to drink; no appetite but great thirst. It often stands drawn together, with arched back and tucked-up abdomen. Its gait is staggering and its grunt weak. Its cough is weak and has a peculiar hollow sound, not easy to describe. It breathes hard, with pumping flanks and soon loses flesh. The skin is harsh and scaly and soon becomes discolored with purplish patches around the snout, between the forelegs and inside the thighs.

Stations marked thus (*) have no agents. Freight for Bingham's, Flatland and Nichols son's must be prepaid.

The morning trains make close connection at Clayton with trains on Delaware Railroad going North and South.

Passengers to and from Baltimore change at Porter's.

Freight carried at low rates to all points and must be at stations thirty minutes before starting time in order to insure despatch.

Excursion Tickets issued at reduced rates.

The above arrangements will give passengers four hours and a-half in Philadelphia, three hours and twenty minutes in Baltimore and return home the same day.
