[DEDICATED TO OUR DEAD.]

"NOT CHANGED, BUT GLORIFIED!"

'Not changed but glorified!" O beauteous thought
For those who weep,
Mourning the loss of some dear face departed,
Fallen asleep!
Hushed into silence, never more to comfort
The heart of men.
Gone like the sunshine of another country
Beyond our Ken.
How will it look, the face that we have cheerished
When next we meet?
Will it be changed—so glorified and saintly
That we shall know it not?
Will there be nothing that shall say, "I love thee"
And I have not forgot?
O faithful heart! the same loved face transfigured
Shall meet thee there—
Less sad, less wistful, in immortal beauty
Divinely fair.
Let us be patient, we who mourn with weeping
Some vanished face;
The Lord has taken but to add more beauty
And a diviner grace.
When through the storm and tempest safely anchored
Just on the other side,
We shall find that dear face through death's deep shadows
"Not changed, but glorified."

OBITUARY.

Miss Agnes Crew, died at the home of her sister in Worton last week, aged 36 years.

Day by day we saw her fade
And slowly sink away,
Yet in our hearts we often prayed
That she might longer stay.
Dear Agnes how could we give you up,
You whom we loved so well,
How could we drink this bitter cup,
And say the world farewell.
A precious one from us has gone,
A voice we loved is stilled.
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
Nobly at her post she stood
Our daughter kind and true,
Beloved by all her friends so well,
And kind to all she knew.
Tears within her mother's eyes
The father's breaking heart,
Can only tell the agony
How hard it is to part.
Farewell, dear Agnes, thou art at rest
And shall for ever be,
You could not stay on earth with us
But we can come to thee.

MOTHER AND FATHER.

Dear sister how can we give you up?
It seems to us unjust
To lay you in the cold damp place,
To molder in the dust.
Farewell, farewell our precious treasure
Hard was it for us to see you die,
But thou hast gone to the golden city
Where we will see thee bye and bye.

LOVING SISTER LILLIE.

Through all pain at times she smiled,
A smile of heavenly birth,
And when the angels called her home
She smiled farewell to earth.
Heaven retaineth now our treasure,
Earth the loving casket keeps,
And the sunbeams love to linger
Where our darling sister doth sleep.

BY HER BROTHERS.

In loving remembrance of my dear husband and son who departed from this life. John W. Fowler beloved husband of Emma Fowler, died Jan. 23 and beloved son, Preston L. died Feb. 16 last. "Gone but not forgotten."

Why should our tears in sorrow flow?
When God recalls his own,
And bids them leave a world of woe
For an immortal crown.
Is not e'en death again to those
Whose life to God was given,
Gladly to earth their eyes they close
To open them in heaven.
Their trials are past, their work is done
And they are fully blest;
They fought the fight the victory won
And entered into rest.
Then let our sorrows cease to flow
God has recalled his own;
But let our hearts in every woe
Still say, "Thy will be done."

WIFE AND CHILDREN.

Wherefore should I make my moan,
Now the darling child is dead?
He to early rest is gone,
He to paradise is fled;
I shall go to him but he
Never shall return to me.
God forbids his longer stay;
God recalls the precious loan,
God hath taken him away,
From my bosom in his own;
Surely what he wills is best;
Happy in his will I rest.

FOWLER—In loving remembrance of our brother who departed this life Feb. 16 1905.

Death has claimed our much loved brother,
Set his seal upon his brow,
And the eyes that shown so brightly
Shine in heaven with Jesus now.
In the shades of Chester cemetery,
In a narrow casket bed,
They have laid our darling brother
With the calm and peaceful dead.
He is sleeping, calmly sleeping,
With the laurels o'er his breast.
Wake him not, the Savior called him.
Sweetly, calmly, let him rest.

BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

FARMERS SHOULD BE THANKFUL.

Snow has its blessings as well as its discomforts. For two weeks or more the country has been resting under a great mantel of snow. The cold has been intense and continued. Railroad traffic has been interfered with and steamboat travel entirely cut off, and in many places the country roads are impassable. But beyond the town limits the fields are a great sheet of glistening white and the farmers have had to dig trenches through the drifts to reach their barns and to go over fields and through woods to reach town. But the snow is merciful in a way. Wheat and the small plants are tucked in very much like children under coverlets, protected from the fierce blasts that sweep down from the north with zero in their breath. All this is a blessing to the farmer for, by experience he knows that his prospects for a good crop are brighter, and even to the fellow who has not a sack of flour in the larder and who feels the pang of want, can even look to the bright side for, with a big harvest in sight, the staff of life will be easier to obtain. All of which illustrates that there are few things that are not blessings if only we have the wisdom to interpet them.—Queenstown News.
