THE TOLCHESTER FAIR

The Kent, Queen Anne's and Cecil County Fair at Tolchester on August 29, 30, 31, and Sept.1.

Preparations are being made by the managers of the Kent, Queen Anne's and Cecil County Fair to make it a success. The dates are Aug. 29, 30, 31 and and Sept. 1. This is the Ninth Annual Fair and Supt. Noland has carefully revised and enlarged the premium list embracing many new classes and features.

With the co-operation of all there is no reason why the exhibition, trotting and attendance should not excel all former fairs.

Many new features have been added as well as new rules announced. Two rules that the managers are determined shall be enforced are these:

"No intoxicating liquors nor sweet cider shall be sold on the grounds, and any person caught selling same will be dealt with according to law."

"Any jockey, while in colors, using profane or indecent language, or intentionally fouling or roughing, will be fined and will not be permitted to ride again at this meeting, or any future meeting of this association, until the fine has been paid."

The following is the excellent speed programme arranged:

No. 12. Class 2.30, Trot (home counties) 150.00
No. 13. Mule Race, under saddle.....
No. 14. To be filled later... ....

A paragraph that should receive more than a passing notice is found in the closing pages of the annual catalogue issued by the managers. Here it is:

"The success of the fair depends upon you. The Board of Managers will do all they can to make you comfortable and to make the fair a success, but they cannot do it all."

TOWNSEND TROUBLE.

Bailiff and Another Man Injured By Negroes During a Free Fight on Saturday.

Word was received here of a serious clash between the town authorities and a crowd of negroes at Townsend late Saturday night, during which three men were shot and another was beaten into insensibility. Town Bailiff Clayton Powell, who attempted to disperse the disorderly negroes, was shot twice and then was beaten and left for dead in the street, while John Parvis, who rushed to Powell's assistance, also was battered into insensibility. George Caulk and Walter Hopkins, two negroes, were shot by Bailiff Powell before he was disabled.

The trouble became serious when Bailiff Powell, who is the entire police force of the town, tried to arrest two fighting negroes who were surrounded by a crowd. They pounced upon Powell, and in defence he fired four shots from his revolver at them, hitting Caulk and Hopkins, both in the leg. The negroes drew revolvers and razors and began a rush upon Powell, who fled.

A bullet struck Powell in the leg, bringing him to the ground. The negroes then began to kick and beat Powell into insensibility, and one seized the bailiff's revolver and fired at his head. The bullet grazed Powell's scalp and made him unconscious. The negroes then beset Parvis who had gone to Powell's aid, and kicked and beat him into insensibility. The negroes thought both men dead when they left them prostrate in the street. Residents of the town are incensed over the affair.
