VIEWS OF THE PRESS.

We give below a number of extracts from leading journals expressive of their views in relation to the nomination of Messrs. Seymour and Blair:

From the Philadelphia Age, dem.

It is to his great abilities, to his pure and lofty character, that Horatio Seymour owes this peculiar and unprecedented honor. He has not been allowed to deny himself to the service of his country, at this juncture, because in him is recognized the special ability now demanded for her service. He is the statesman, the thinker, the administrator to whose ripe wisdom and experience the American people can safely trust the helm of State, in all the difficult questions that attend our future as a nation. Problems of finance and government are those in which he is best fitted to guide to safe and just solution. Gen. Blair is in the prime of manhood, being now about forty-seven years of age. He is prompt, resolute and earnest, with a wide experience, civil and military. His nomination is heartily acceptable to us, and we applaud the wisdom that dictated it.

From the New York Express, dem.

The National Convention, in nominating Horatio Seymour, has realized, nobly realized, the high expectations we will not say of the great democratic party merely, but of all men, be their political opinions what they may, who are anxious to see the administration of the government placed in the hands of a pure-minded patriot and a statesman of the highest order.

This is a nomination that is bound to win! That is the conviction which impresses every member of the convention, and the impression, we feel assured, will be confirmed by their constituents, the people themselves, in November next.

From the New York World, dem.

Horatio Seymour is, beyond all question, the first statesman in the democratic party—the one who most fully represents its principles, who has the most consummate ability to expound them with luminous clearness, whose mind is the broadest, whose culture is the most thorough, whose dignity of character and bearing is best fitted to adorn a great station, and to magnify even the high office for which he has been nominated. He possesses, in a pre-eminent degree, every personal qualification and accomplishment which befit the Chief Magistrate of a great nation.

The nomination of Francis P. Blair, Jr., for Vice President will meet with general acceptance. It was fit that the candidate for Vice President should be a Western man, a soldier, and a representative of that large class of republicans who have become disgusted with the revolutionary measures of their party. Gen Blair's unimpeachable record during the war, his decision of character, and his vigorous opposition to the reconstruction policy of the radicals, commend him and the ticket on which his name is placed to the zealous support of all who fought for the Union but abhor negro supremacy.

From the Philadelphia Ledger, independent.

It must be said to his credit, as well as that of the convention, that Mr. Seymour is a man of eminent ability, largely informed upon the public affairs of this country, experienced in official affairs, and of irreproachable integrity and morality in his private life. Although a lawyer by early education, he has been for many years a dairy farmer on a large scale. He is credited with great tact and judgment in managing men and affairs. It will thus be seen that the choice of the people, so far as the presidency is concerned, must be between a republican soldier of the first-class rank, fame and success, and a democratic statesman of first-class rank and ability.

From the National Intelligencer.

Governor Seymour is too well known to the whole country to need any eulogy or explanation of his public career. It is no disparagement to others, in whatever category they may stand, to say that he ranks among the very foremost of our living statesmen. There are but few who will venture to compete the palm with one who has borne off the highest honors, who has extorted the best praise, and whose whole life is an illustration of honor, integrity, excellence and worth. As chief magistrate of the State of New York, he made himself everywhere known as a public man of commanding ability, enlarged comprehension and practical capacity.—And since retiring from a sphere which he honored so much, there is no single individual in the nation whose counsel has been more generally sought, or whose wisdom has been more universally accepted.

From the New York Commercial, rep.

Mr. Seymour is the ablest man in the democratic party. Twice defeated as a candidate for Governor in this State, and twice elected to that high office, he is, by all odds, the most popular and formidable democrat in this State. He has never held a national office, but he has been loaded with all the honors his State could give him. Mr. Seymour is a strong nominee, and he will rally all the democracy to him. As for disaffected republicans, if there are any, he will draw quite as many as any other democrat would.

From the New York Sun, ind.

Mr. Seymour is the fair representative of the average sentiments of the democracy upon all the leading issues of the canvass. He is the most popular candidate that could have been selected to command the vote of the party on this side of the Alleghanies. On all the questions that agitate this section of the Union, his views, so often and so recently expressed, are fully understood.

Gen. Blair is a man of fair talents and great force of character. He did good service in the field during the war, and has had some experience in civil life.

From the N. Y. Tribune, rad.

If the democratic convention had been intent on selecting that candidate for President least likely to win republican votes and most certain to arouse and intensify republican opposition, it could not have hit the mark more exactly. Horatio Seymour has been the deadliest, most implacable enemy throughout of the ideas which triumphed in the abolition of slavery and discomfiture of the rebellion.

From the Washington Express.

Governor Seymour stands at the head of American statesmen. He is a man of ripe learning, rare attainments and large experience. He will bring to the discharge of the high office to which he is called qualifications unsurpassed by those of any other gentleman named for the position.

THE DIAMOND STATE

Thresher & Cleaner.

We call the attention of Farmers to our IMPROVED DIAMOND STATE THRESHER and CLEANER with Double Acting Separator.—The practical operation of these machines is such as will warrant us in advising those wanting Threshers to examine ours before purchasing elsewhere. We build three sizes—No. 1, 36 in. cylinder; No. 2, 30 in. cylinder; No. 3, 26 in. cylinder. They are of the best materials and workmanship, and warranted to suit purchasers. Large or small powers can be made to drive them, as desired. Galvanized Sheet Iron is used for sieves and shaker bottoms.—They are unequalled in strength, capacity, durability and lightness of running, doing their work rapidly and in the best manner. The machine is a model of simplicity in its construction and operation, and the price of it much below others in the market. The Double Shaker separates all the grain from the straw—none is wasted, and the Fan as a Cleaner is unsurpassed.

The Shoe of the Shaker can be easily detached and the machine used as a Thresher and Separator alone.

Our ENDLESS CHAIN HORSE POWERS are made with Steel Rods and our Improved Link. All the bearings for the wheels are steel, making the Power run with great ease to the team.

Also, Lever Powers. Send for a Circular.

Churning Made Easy.

Good Fresh Butter all the year round!

Farmers Attend!

Save Time! Save Labor! Save Money!

By using Tomlinson & Co.'s (Lincoln, England) Celebrated Butter Powder. By the use of this inexpensive Powder, churning of hours is reduced to minutes, and is applicable to the making of butter at all seasons of the year. A small quantity added to the milk or cream at the time of churning will produce Butter in much less time, in larger quantity, and of a superior quality, flavor and consistency.

It removes the unpleasant flavor caused by the cows feeding on turnips, garlic, weeds, &c.; and prevents all rancidity peculiar to butter; also makes it firmer and sweeter, even in the hottest weather.

This Powder, now being introduced into this country, has long been in use throughout Europe and the Canadas, and Butter made with it has invariably taken the prize at all Agricultural Shows, whenever exhibited.

Price 25 cts. and 50 cts. per box. Sold by all respectable Druggists and Store keepers throughout the country.
