F. H. Harper & Son,

STILL POND, MARYLAND.

Galena Notes.—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pennington started on Tuesday last for Atlantic City, to be gone about a month.

On Wednesday Miss Ella and Jannie E. Parr left for Atlantic City to stay ten days or two weeks.

The heavy rains the past week or so is hindering the building operations here very much. Mr. Dempsey's foundation wall under his store, 12 to 14 feet of it was washed down Monday night last and part of the cellar caved in.

THE Czar's chief peace envoy, Sergius Witte, traveled by railroad from Newport to Boston on Sunday. When the train arrived at the Hub M. Witte, it is stated, "went up to the locomotive and shook hands with the engineer and fireman. He then embraced the conductor and imprinted a kiss upon his forehead." This method of osculation belongs distinctly to the Old World, and while it may excite amusement among prosaic Americans, it is considered both good form and a delicate attention in Europe.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

Miss Sophia Kramer, of Gratitude, Miss Cecilia Kramer, of Baltimore, are visiting friends at Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

Mr. Thos. Boyer and family have moved from their Gratitude home to York Haven, Pa., where he is employed as an electrician.

We regret that Miss Hilda Boyan an attractive young lady has left for her future home in Pennsylvania.

He and family moved to Baltimore this week. The lady folks will conduct a boarding house, and Mr. Venable we hear will enter the city railway service.

One of our large department stores has closed down until September the 1st for improvements.

Miller the west end merchant, must have room for a large layin of fall stock, as a consequence he is making it interesting to the public in the shoe line this week. He is having a rush at two bargain counters.

Our blacksmiths have less oystermens' work than they have had in the six weeks preceeding the oyster season in many years. They are practically idle in that line of work.

The oyster bars have been examined by some of our watermen and as usual reports are conflicting. Three weeks from now we'll all know actual conditions. There has been an immense catch of spat this summer. The sea grass on the flats is loaded down with spat shells, and stones are full. Could the bars have that which they need above all things else, rest, the growth of oysters in rankness would equal the conditions prior to the eighties.

There are an immense quantity of crabs in our waters, a large number of men and boys are working the flats down the shore and catching many pealers for which they find ready sale at the steam boat wharf.

The tug boat in the service of the Maryland Dredging Co. ran a foul of the dredging machines anchor on Tuesday and had a hole stove in her bottom, causing her to sink outside the harbor and the dredging work was suspended much to the disappointment of the men engaged in the work, who were pushing operations to an early finish. Work has been resumed and progressing O. K.

Editor Russell, of the Enterprise, was down this way during the week looking for a suitable boat in which to place a gasoline engine. Wonder if Larry is making an early preparation for a trip up Salt river about November the 8th?

Mr. L. H. Crockett is just home from a trip to Caroline county, where he took in the Holiness Camp Meeting. He reports a red hot halelujah time, in which he waded up to the chin in good things spiritually and otherwise.

Miss Carrie Blackiston, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James A. Blackiston, is quite sick at the home of her grand-father, ex-judge T. A. Hudson, but she is receiving the best of attention under the loving care of Judge Hudson's estimable wife.

Miss Myrtle E. Waltemeyer, of Baltimore, is entertaining a house party at her summer home near Glyndon, Md. Those in the party are Miss Edna Ruth Downey, of Rock Hall, Md., Misses C. Estella Porter, Edna Louise Foard, Bessie S. Foard, E. Viola Waltemeyer, of Baltimore. Messrs. Gilbert Bishop, Edward Weber, Taylor Hupfield, Herbert L. Thomas, Thomas Linthicum, E. MASSEY NOTES.

Mr. Samuel Price, Jno. Price, Jr., Geo. Phifer and G. Godwin Phifer, of the law office of Wm. W. Beck, of Chestertown, had a pleasant sail yesterday on the Sassafras River from Georgetown to Betterton. Had a fish fry on the shore, returning home after a "Dip" in the old Sassafras River. The bathing was fine.

Mrs. A. H. Malsberger and son, Huey, left this morning for Washington, D. C.

Bishop Adams, of the Diocess is rusticating with Rev. A Ware and will preach here Sunday next, Aug. 13th. Come hear him.

Mr. Samuel Price and Mr Thomas Dunn, started for Woodland Beach on the Delaware Bay, Wednesday, and the rain came down so hard, when they got to Townsend, Del. Both of them said; "This is good enough for me," and telephoned to his wife to have soft crabs for supper and returned home on the evening train. We ate soft crabs at Price's instead of eating them at Woodland Beach.

Mrs. A. H. Malsberger will take an extended trip North as soon as she returns from Washington.

Miss Sadie Loller, our fashionable dress maker, will postpone her trip to Atlantic City, N. J., for a time on account of too many orders for new dresses.

We are sorry to say that our congenial friend Mr. Harry Douglass of the firm of Jno. Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, Pa., has left us and returning to his post in the store. He has been visiting Mr. W. Casey and Miss Annie Casey this summer and has made himself a host of friends in Kent County.

So much rain has stopped the farmers from work, but it has not stopped them from sitting under the store porches talking politics.

Shibles, of New York City, on Tuesday last was very sad, she had been ill with appendicitis but had entirely recovered and died from heartfailure without a moments warning.
