Speech of Ex-President Johnson at Chestertown.

Ex-President Johnson was enthusiastically received in Knoxville, Tenn., on Friday, the 3d inst., and a dispatch says the city was crowded with his old friends, who thronged the depot to welcome his arrival. The ex-President was warmly greeted at the train by delegations of citizens, and escorted to the Lamar House, where he was introduced to the assembled crowd, numbering about five thousand, by Hon. Mr. Nelson, who referred to his previous political differences with the distinguished gentleman, and related the persecutions inflicted upon Mr. Johnson for his Union sentiments. He eloquently described his patriotic course during the war, and alluded to his wise and conciliatory policy of reconstruction.

SPEECH OF MR. JOHNSON.

Mr. Johnson, after returning thanks for the cordiality of the welcome, said he intended to devote the remainder of his life as a private citizen to the vindication of his official life, and his native State from foul obloquy which had been heaped upon him and her. Though bent, he had not been broken by the storm which had nearly wrecked the Ship of State. He had seen in the papers his own obituary, and he supposed he might now be as one risen from the dead, and he thought belief might be placed in one come from the grave.—[A voice, "Not dead yet."] When the Congress of the United States, excited by interest and the spirit of tyranny, transcended the constitution, he vetoed their bills and sent them back.

I tell you here to-day, and as one speaking from the dead, that the danger to the government is in the legislative department. The executive has only negative power. The judiciary can only expound laws, but the legislature can pass laws of the most arbitrary character, and, under pretence of law, trample upon the liberties of the people. Those who are trying to undermine the constitution can go on until Congress—yes, a capricious; yes, a despotic; yes, a usurping Congress—will take away the liberties of the people. But I feel that I stood as a breakwater at the head of the American people, and arrested its progress for a time at least, until the people knew what was going on; and while others may boast of having established the government, I feel I can, without egotism, claim the credit of having been efficient in its preservation.

The time has come to talk about the first principles of the government. Take away the restraints which hold back Congress, and you have a despotic government.—Wipe out the other two departments of the government, and you have Congress with its discretion, or, perhaps, I should say, its indiscretion, the measure of its power. Jefferson describes such a body as this the exact embodiment of despotism; and let me tell you here that a wise and good prince is infinitely better than a usurping, arbitrary, despotic Congress.

He then took up the sneering accusation about his being Moses, and asked if it was not he that freed the negroes in Tennessee. Freedom was only liberty to work; it was not to build up a miserable lazaroni to be supported by the government. Let me tell you, colored men—and I have never deceived white men or black men—that these men who talk about your old masters have only delivered you up to new masters: you are slaves to the league. Let me say to you, as I said to my old servant, as I told him when I came back, "Sam, the only difference between us is that I freed you four years ago, and I was only emancipated on the 4th of March. So you see I am addressing you as a freedman." [Laughter.]

The time is full of alarming portents, the country is in danger, and let me lift my warning voice. Look at the taxes of the State and federal courts. The federal government collects one hundred and fifty millions, three times as much as was necessary a few years ago for the whole expenses of the government to pay the bondholder. You black men might as well know this, that, while they have been enfranchising you and disfranchising white men, they have been making you slaves. Yes, you are all slaves together to the bondholder, who never shed a drop of blood. I would to God that the government had not the credit to borrow a dollar to carry on war. If the people had beforehand to pay the cost of the war we should never have had one. Thank God! my march has not been through Golgatha—my honors have not been gained by blood. The widows and the one-armed soldiers cannot attribute their wrongs to me. I stand here vindicating the constitution as it was handed down to me; and here, in the last hours of life, I call upon you to cling to the constitution of the country as a mariner clings to his compass.

Mr. Johnson spoke about two hours, and was listened to with the greatest attention, and on his retiring from the stand was heartily applauded. At the close he was at once surrounded by old friends, and several hours passed in interchanging reminiscences. In conversation he spoke of President Grant, whom he characterized as a bundle of prejudices, and alluded to the cabinet as a gift enterprise cabinet.

GIFT ENTERPRISES—Circular of Warning from the Mayor of New York.—New York, March 30.—Mayor Hall of this city, has issued the following circular of warning against gift enterprise swindles originating in this city:

To the Press of the United States:—I beg to caution strangers against New York circulars and prospectuses of tickets shares and chances in co-operative unions or gift enterprises or dollar stores, or in any other possible scheme whereby property or the value promised is greater than the price asked to be paid. Every such advertised scheme is necessarily a swindle and false pretense. There do not and cannot possibly exist any such schemes in this city. Country newspapers which advertise them simply aid the swindle. If all the newspapers in the Union would now make a point of publishing and reiterating this information they would charitably, and I think effectively counteract the swindling intentions of those who use the mails for false pretenses, and will also save the unwary hundreds of thousands of dollars.

A. OAKEY HALL,
Mayor of the City of New York.

MAPES' NITROGENIZED
SUPER-PHOSPHATE,

BONES AND BIRD GUANO, dissolved in sulphuric acid, and fermented with Fish Guano (containing 12 per cent. of Ammonia), all being reduced by fermentation and sulphuric acid to a FINE POWDER.

Contains no insoluble mineral Phosphates, but is all available to the crop.

In every instance reported, Mapes' Super-Phosphate has produced as early, vigorous growth, and more permanent effects, than Peruvian Guano. Like Barn Yard Manure, when used on seeded down land, produces after the grain luxuriant crops of grass.

THE MARYLAND
Fertilizing and Manufacturing Co.,
Incorporated January, 1867.

DIRECTORS:

LAWRENCE SANGSTON, RICHARD J. BAKER,
ROBERT TURNER, WILLIAM TREGO.
WILLIAM TREGO, Manufact'g Chemist.
LAWRENCE SANGSTON, Pres't.

This Company, incorporated by the Legislature of Maryland for the Manufacture and Sale of Fertilizers, are now prepared to furnish the agricultural community with their products.

Deriving their supply of material from the richest of the recently discovered deposits of Bone Phosphates in South Carolina, they have established, and will inflexibly maintain, a higher standard of Fertilizing value than any similar productions hitherto in the market.

While the material they use contains 60 per cent. of Bone Phosphate of Lime, it is guaranteed to contain a larger percentage of Soluble Phosphate than any heretofore used.

Fine Ground Bone Phosphates,
Price $30 per Ton in Bags.

Containing by the average of the Analysis of Professors Piggot, Leibig and Popleln, 60.20 per cent. of Bone Phosphate of Lime.

The unusual per centage of Soluble Phosphate will make this form very desirable to Farmers who prefer to use it in its natural state, or to manipulate for themselves.

ALKALINE SUPER PHOSPHATE
Price $50 per Ton in Bags.

This Preparation has special reference to the growth and development of the Seed or Grain, and is intended for the soils that produce large crops of Straw, and small crops of Grain.

Ammoniated Super Phosphate,
Price $55 per Ton in Bags.

Adapted to Lands that require a full development of the crop, both Straw and Grain.

The superiority of the South Carolina Phosphate is fully demonstrated by the fact that most of the leading Manufacturers of Artificial Fertilizers are now using, or making arrangements to use it, as the Phosphatic base of their Preparations, and large quantities are being shipped to Europe.

The various preparations of the Maryland Fertilizing and Manufacturing Company are made under the personal supervision of a Manufacturing Chemist of thirty Years' experience, and are confidently recommended to the Agricultural Community.

No. 95 South Street, Baltimore,

☞ And by Dealers in general throughout the Country. ☜

THE SOMBRERO GUANO, of which MORO PHILIPS' PHOSPHATE is, and always has been manufactured, (and of which he has sole control for the United States,) contains fifty per cent. more Bone Phosphate than Raw Bone, therefore it is more durable. A large per cent. is Soluble, and will immediately yield its nourishment.

The Ammonia it contains is pure and ready to yield its value—not animal matter, capable of yielding its ammonia after decomposition in the soil.

Nothing is spared in its manufacture to render it the most valuable Super-Phosphate and Crop Producer in the market.

Eight years' experience has proved to the farmer that it is durable and can always be relied on as uniform in quality; and the numerous unsolicited testimonials continually received of its use in competition with other Fertilizers, attests that it has not been excelled.

Messrs. O. P. Merryman & Co.,

Gentlemen:—The Raw Bone Phosphate I bought of you last Spring, I applied to Corn by the side of Peruvian Guano in equal quantities, and if there was a difference at all it was in favor of the Phosphate. My Corn crop was excellent. I applied it also upon Oats and Potatoes with the most satisfactory results. I prefer it decidedly to Peruvian Guano from the fact, that whilst the Guano spends itself upon the growing Crop, the effects of the Phosphate can be strongly seen in the crops following. Some that I applied to Potatoes by the side of Fish Manure, made a splendid yield, the Fish turning out an abundant crop of vines, the Phosphate the Potatoes. I have used it this fall upon my Wheat, and at this time it looks as well as I could desire.

Messrs. O. P. Merryman & Co.,

Gentlemen:—I applied the Raw Bone Phosphate purchased of you last Spring on my Corn side by side with one of the most popular and expensive Fertilizers in the Market, and I could see no difference; yours was fully equal to it. I also applied it to Turnips with perfect success. It gave such entire satisfaction that I used nothing else upon my Wheat this Fall. I sowed the most of it the latter part of September, and at this time it bids fair to make as good crop as I ever produced by the use of Peruvian or any of the expensive Guanos. I have every confidence in it. It is only to be tried to be appreciated. Yours, Respectfully,

JOHN E. WILLIS.

Anne Arundel Co., Md., Nov. 10th, '68.

Messrs. O. P. Merryman & Co.,

Gentlemen:—In answer to your enquiry as to what I think of your Raw Bone Phosphate purchased in July last, allow me to say—I gave it a fair trial on Cabbage by the side of three other Fertilizers of acknowledged merit and found it equal if not better than the other, and at less cost. I am so well satisfied with it, I intend to use it the coming Spring.

Yours, truly, REZIN HAMMOND.

WM. KNABE & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF
GRAND, SQUARE AND UPRIGHT
PIANO-FORTES.

WAREROOMS—350 West Balt. St., near Eutaw,
BALTIMORE, MD.

THESE instruments have been before the public for nearly thirty years, and upon their excellence alone attained an unpurchased pre-eminence which pronounces them unequaled.

Their TONE combines great power, sweetness and fine singing quality, as well as great purity of intonation, and evenness throughout the entire scale.

Their TOUCH is pliant and elastic, and entirely free from the stiffness found in so many Pianos. In WORKMANSHIP they are unexcelled, using none but the very best seasoned material, the large capital employed in our business enabling us to keep continually an immense stock of lumber, etc., on hand.

All our Square Pianos have our new Improved Overstrung scale and the Agraffe Treble.

We would call special attention to our late improvements in Grand Pianos and Square Grands, patented August 16, 1866, which bring the Piano nearer perfection than has yet been attained.

Every Piano ful'y warranted for Five Years.

Sole wholesale Agency for Cathart & Needham's Celebrated PARLOR ORGANS AND CHURCH HARMONIUMS.
