CLOSING THE STORES.

The ladies of the town make the following explanation as to their action in aiding the daily closing of the stores. We have been requested by a number of prominent merchants to aid the movement for the early closing of the stores in Chestertown. We have used our best endeavors, thinking in the hot summer months it was for the interest of the community to endorse such a proposition. We have agreed to do our purchasing during the day prior to 7 o'clock in the evening so that the merchants and their clerks may have a respite during the heated terms. This agreement holds good throughout the month of August without regard to the number of stores which may or may not remain opened or closed during that month. We earnestly hope the citizens of the town generally will take an interest in the matter and unite with us in our effort.

The following petition has beeu circulated and largely signed during the week:

We the undersigned citizens of Chestertown and vicinity in order to encourage the proposed movement on the part of the merchants of the town to close their stores at 7 o'clock p. m., do hereby agree that until September 1st, 1907, we will refrain from doing any shopping or purchasing goods of any kind after 7 o'clock p. m. each day, except Saturday nights when the stores remain open.

We the undersigned also agree to wait upon the merchants with whom we deal requesting them to close at said hour.

GREATEST BRITISH LANDLORD.

The Duke of Northumberland is the largest landowner in Englond. His estates stretch almost from sea to sea, and he can ride 100 miles and not once leave his own domain.

In appearance he is tall and thin, with reddish hair and flowing whiskers. He is old-fashioned in manner and shows many of the attributes of a grand seigneur. And he has all the pride of the Percys and keeps up to the full their Olympian traditions. He was once heard to say: "You will have to go a long way back in our record to find a Percy who was either idle or a spendthrift."

In religion he is an Irvingite, like his father, and he has converted the duchess in his own belief.

Special Delivery Stamps Unnecessary.—A very important and beneficial law in relation to special delivery letters, enacted at the recent session of Congress, became operative last Monday, July 1st. Heretofore, in order to secure the privilege of special delivery, it was necessary to attach to the mail package a special delivery stamp. Frequently persons were put to trouble and delay by lack of possession of the special delivery stamp, even when they had plenty of stamps of the ordinary variety. Under the new law, special delivery stamps, although they may be used as heretofore, are no longer necessary. Ten cents' worth of the ordinary stamps, in addition to the regular postage, will do as well. All that is necessary to be done is to attach these additional regular stamps to the package and write under them the words "special delivery." Letters so treated will then be delivered at their destination by special delivery agent.

DOES BONAPARTE STAND FOR MIXED SCHOOLS.

Hon. Charles Bonaparte, Attorney-General of the United States, and unfortunately hailing from the State of Maryland, has written to Messrs. Murray and Ledbetter of Oklahoma, his objections to the Constitution recently passed by that Democratic Territory, now trying to be admitted into Statehood. One of the chief objections which Mr. Bonaparte urges against the Constitution, which has already been adopted, but which Roosevelt demands shall be changed, is that of Article XIII, Section 3, which requires the Legislature of Oklahoma to provide separate schools for the whites and blacks. "Charlie" thinks the negro good enough to attend schools with the whites, but the people of the Territory differ with him and will not agree that their children shall be compelled to sit in the schools with the negroes. The people of Oklahoma are right, and they should stick out for this provision if they have to remain as a territory for the next hundred years. This is the same kind of a mixture "Charlie" would like to see in Maryland, if he had the chance.

WOMEN WHO CHARM

Health Is the First Essential Toward Making a Woman Attractive.

MISS HULDA KUGHLER MISS ELIZABETH WYNN

There is a beauty and attractiveness in health which is far greater than mere regularity of feature.

A sickly, irritable, and complaining woman always carries a cloud of depression with her; she is not only unhappy herself but is a damper to all joy and happiness when with her family and friends.

It is the bright, healthy, vivacious woman who always charms and carries sunshine wherever she goes.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging and that everything tires her; if her feminine system fails to perform its allotted duties, there is nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing-down pains, and irregularities, causing constant misery and melancholia, she should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from native roots and herbs will dispel all these troubles. By correcting the cause of the trouble it cures where other treatment may have failed.

Miss Elizabeth Wynn, of No. 205 8th Avenue, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For months I suffered with dreadful headaches, pain in the back and severe hemorrhages. I was weak and out of sorts all the time. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me when all other medicine had failed. It seemed to be just what I needed and quickly restored my health."

Miss Hulda Kughler, of No. 25, West 15th Street, New York City, writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"For months I was ill with an internal trouble. I suffered terrible agony, was nervous, irritable, and sick all the time. I took different medicines without benefit. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and within six months I was completely restored to health and I want to recommend it to every suffering woman."

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular functions, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacements, inflammation or ulceration, that bearing-down feeling, dizziness, indigestion, or nervous prostration may be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,

Mrs. Pinkham's Invitation to Women.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that will help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.
