ROCK HALL ITEMS

Secret benevolent fraternalism is the child of to-day. Upon its altars burn friendship's perpetual fires. The white wings of Christian charity shelter and defend, as the blessing of the widow and the fatherless rests upon it like a benediction. Not for a moment can it pause in its labors, whenever human misery mingles with human happiness it has its mission to fulfill. This fraternalism is not a reformatory. It is no place nor refuge for the time server or self seeker. One of its fundamental principles is to care for the widow and orphan in their time of need. And now, upon the threshhold of the most prosperous period of the year, the membership of the organizations here are not promising to marry the widows and adopt the children of their deceased brethren, but they are looking out for the winter's fuel supply for any who may be in need of the same.

There is a very perceptible decrease in the number of summer boarders in this section. The advent of September brings on work and business care hence the transient population of Rock Hall and vicinity are bidding adieu to country life and return to toil and business, and many are the regrets on all sides. The summer boarders who have been sojourning in these parts have been an intelligent and lovable people.

The oyster season opened on Monday with a brisk wind and threatening rain, as a consequence many failed to go to the bars. Those who ventured out made a fair catch. Oysters run small and are not in as good condition as hoped for, but it is thought they will be in good condition when the weather and water cools. The river oysters seem plentiful but small, this will cause another season of timidity on the part of the tongers, owing to the vigilence of the police. Prices on Monday were 30 cents per bushel. There were less than half a dozen buy boats in both river and Swan Point. Tuesday there was no sales anywhere.

Monday night's rain was a most welcome visitor to this section.

Mr. Fred Harding, of Baltimore, made a short visit to this place, his former residence on Saturday.

Miss Edith E. Ryan is enjoying a two weeks visit among friends in Quaker Neck.

Miss Daisy Elburn is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Henry Jones, of Quaker Neck.

Mr. B. F. Legg is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. L. A. Durding. Frank looks well for his time of life.

The Ladies' Store. Chestertown, Md.

JEFFERSON

OPPOSITE STAM'S HALL.

MANY THANKS

DEAR PATRONS:

The proprietor of "The Ladies' Store" desires to express gratefulness and extend many thanks for the liberal patronage accorded this establishment during the short hour service of the past two months.

We feel very grateful indeed toward the ladies of the Town Improvement Society, who responded so nobly to the call for short hour service and circulated petitions in our behalf and otherwise co-operated with us, thus enabling us to make it possible to close our doors at 7 p. m. and give our clerks the much needed rest during the summer evenings.

It has proven a great benefit and was greatly enjoyed by them and we feel that it in no wise inconvenienced the pubiic.

Again thanking the public we extend a most cordial welcome to call and examine our fall lines, which are complete, and are now on exhibition. We also have on the bargain counters many articles of summer goods at greatly reduced prices.

Summer Goods

We have a few White Suits and Shirt Waists left yet and they must go to make room for the fall ones that are coming in and they go, what is left of them, at unheard of prices. Come early and avoid the rush.

Fall Dress Goods

Our line is now complete in every detail, everything that the most precise lady can wish for—both in cloth and colorings. While black is stronger than usual this season, brown is good, blue is still in demand, fancy check are also very much in evidence and here can be had every shade in brown, and blue and in all prices to suit everybody's pocket book.

Summer Oxfords $2.48

We have just a few Summer Oxfords left in patent leather gun metal, kid and russet that must go as we have not shelf room. They are the $3.50 and $4.00 ones and they go at less than cost, only $2.48; all sizes and withs. —Main Isle.

Millinery Millinery

Our Millinery Department will be completed next week. Our trimmer is in New York and Philadelphia selecting the very latest and newest things to be had. While we did better last season than ever before we are going to double our business this season if a complete stock of goods was ever carried.
