Correspondence of the Kent News.

LOWER DISTRICT KENT COUNTY, November 8th, 1869.

Dear News:—As the time of our reappearance seems to have perplexed some of your readers and baffled the speculations of certain astronomers, we have concluded to come out with our feeble light again: would have made our appearance earlier, but having little of importance to communicate, and seeing brighter lights, thought better to defer our coming until the present moment, fearing that you or your kind readers would exclaim, "Ne quid nimis." Notwithstanding our long delay the community has been well posted in the affairs of this section by a very intelligent and popular writer, who it appears started out a short time ago from Rees' Corner to attend an "oyster treat" at Grey's Inn Creek. While on his way to that celebrated resort, he appears to have fallen into a sort of political trance, and during the vision seems to have been sufficiently inspired to justify him in proclaiming to the world that our worthy and distinguished Senator will some day be made President of the United States.—Such an occurrence would indeed give us much pleasure. On awaking from this premeditated dream he found himself as far from "friends and home as when he slept," and giving a passing glance at "Comet" and other wandering stars, hastened on to Grey's Inn, where he arrived safely and in due time, much to his own satisfaction and that of his friends, who saw from afar his "coming shine."

Having spent several hours there and entered into the enjoyments of the occasion with his whole heart, we fully expected him to have closed his account of that entertainment in his usual 'Pomeroy' style—that it was "a big thing," but this remark he seems to have reserved for a more important occasion, and closes his description of that affair with his regular old-fashioned "Rock Hall lingo" that the "oyster treat was good" but the "oysters was better." Quite a valuable piece of information truly, and a very important discovery that an object is better than itself. Leaving this point and laying his course a little south of west, he is soon found mingling with the gallant and fair on the handsome estate of Geo. H. Willson, Esq.; and after enjoying the pleasant society and well known hospitality of that house, he appears to have gone off latterally like exploded gas or lost in his own fog. The curious may possibly gather farther information concerning him by referring to the 7th chapter of the book of Daniel, or Gibbons' Decline and Fall.

We have observed from one of your late issues that the old "Monarch of the Delaware forest" has changed his "base," and instead of coming down on the quiet inhabitants and "Piggenis" of Chestertown, he now tunes his harp in Pin-oak Swamp; and while others, though great, beneath their argument seems struggling, he from above descending stoops to touch the loftiest thought, and proudly stoops, as though it scarce deserves his verse.—That sound from the Corner and the feeble light of "Comet" appear to have aroused him, and knowing from the past that his roar is terrible, and that many have gone down before him to rise no more, while others have scarcely missed his paws, we nevertheless feel inclined to approach him on the present occasion, and weave into his shaggy main fantastic flowers. In making his late appearance among your correspondents, he seems in very cheerful mood, paying due respect to all. "Citizen" appearing to get the "lion's share," is chattered to in Latin—Greek—and warbled to in song, in which we admire his "rhyme rather more than his reason." For in all other ages of the world, "dirges," we believe, have been sung to herald the glory and renown of the departed. Simon would reverse the order of things in calling for his dirge now. He no doubt knew that his request was inconsistent, but likely thought that he would have a little amusement to himself in hearing "Citoyenne" sing a dirge to him while living. He may have possibly without our knowledge died. If so we say to the reader in sorrow and grief:

Go ask his tomb—say, what is grandeur?
Where's the laurels Cæzar won?
Where's the fame of Alexander
When the vital spark is gone?

Having no doubt wearied your readers with the notice taken of the distinguished individuals referred to, and suspecting that many will be out with glass in hand and curious eye, not like the shepherds on the plains of Babylon, to gaze on our glory and splendor, but to cast us down, and feeling our inability to cope with those writers, and contemplating little safety in flight, we have concluded in future to remain in the dark.

The "anon" spoken of in our last as having fallen short, has, we understand, been found, much to the gratification of that "mischievous little fellow" and all concerned.

Many changes are contemplated for the coming year, and many improvements have been made and others going forward,—showing that this remote region is still inclined to do its share both in the useful and ornamental. Among the handsome improvements just completed we may call attention to that of Mr. James H. Gale. Quite extensive additions have been made to the old family mansion, which through the judgment and good taste of its enterprising owner and the mechanical skill of Mr. Hersch and others, would now hardly be recognized by its old friends, and will compare favorably with the modern city cottage. There is also much good taste displayed in the improvements and fitting up within, and we have understood that the proprietor contemplates shortly the addition of other handsome and useful ornaments both to the old homestead and to its society.

Having trespassed upon you far beyond our intended limits, and fearing that it will not be in our power to appear to you again in the present age, we bid you all a long farewell. COMET.

N. B.—The Latin sentence introduced and the poetry we were able to manufacture, is respectfully dedicated to Simon Sharp, regretting that it was not in our power to give him a little Greek. The reader will no doubt remember that he is now non est. come at abus. Et stumpum, in swampum.

COAL! COAL!

The subscriber having bought out Mr. Wm. H Hamilton's Coal business, is prepared to supply Mr. Hamilton's customers and the public with all kinds of Coal at lowest cash prices.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL MOVING JOB.—The Washington papers think there is no doubt whatever that the national capital movement idea of the west is a systematic and well-digested jobbing scheme. The Chronicle takes the ground against the movement that the land bought, the houses built, and the money invested in Washington were all on condition of the implied promise of the government that the capital should forever remain where it now stands. That unquestionably was the understanding of the original contract by which Maryland and Virginia ceded the territory for the District of Columbia. Does any one suppose that these two States, strong in their belief of their supreme sovereignty, would have given up their soil for a ten, or twenty, or seventy years' lease of the public buildings?

THEY WON'T GO TO THE SOUTH.—The New York Journal of Commerce complains that radical Congressmen are perfectly willing to cross the continent, travel through New England, voyage to San Domingo, or go to the uttermost parts of the earth at public expense, but they will not visit the South, where they would see with their own eyes how little they know of the people and the public sentiment there. The Journal predicates its complaint upon the recent refusal of the sub-committee on elections to go to South Carolina and investigate certain elections.

PROFESSIONAL PREJUDICE.—Anything that will overcome the settled prejudices of a profession must certainly possess merit in itself. No profession entertains stronger prejudices than the medical, and yet physicians in Baltimore and everywhere, where "IRISIN" is known, are adopting the great popular specific into their practice and recommending it in their prescriptions. Could any medicine have a higher endorsement?

How Hostetter's Bitters Cure Dyspepsia.

THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL.

The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like semi-fluid, called CHYME. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of that organ, which churns, as it were, the dissolving aliment. The CHYME passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called Chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not sufficiently brisk, the first process of digestion will be but imperfectly performed. It is also clear that if the liver, which plays such an important part in changing the nourishing portion of the chyme into the material of the blood, is congested, or in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The result of the two failures is dyspepsia, complicated with biliousness.

The mode in which HOSTETTER'S BITTERS operate in such cases is this: they invigorate the cellular membrane of the stomach, which evolves the gastric juice, thereby insuring an ample sufficiency of the fluid to completely dissolve the food. They also act upon the nerves of the stomach, causing an acceleration of the mechanical movement necessary to reduce the food to a homogeneous mass. They also act specifically upon the liver, strengthening it, and so enabling it to produce an ample and regular supply of bile, for the purpose of converting the nutritious particles of the Chyme into Chyle, and promote the passage through the bowels of the useless debris.

In this way, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS cure dyspepsia and liver complaints. The explanation is plain, simple, philosophical, and true.

RING'S VEGETABLE AMBROSIA.

This favorite Hair Restorer has been before the public long enough to have been thoroughly tested and its increasing sale and popularity are the best evidences of its superior merit.

As a Restorer of Gray Hair it is original color it has no equal.

For curing Humors of the scalp and preventing itching it is wonderfully successful.

For preventing the Hair from falling off it is unfailing.

For restoring Hair to Bald Heads it succeeds beyond Competition, although not always successful. Where the glands or follicles are not destroyed new Hair is sure to grow after using it properly.

As a dressing nothing surpasses it. It imparts to dry, faded and wiry Hair that beautiful glossy appearance so much admired.

Containing no oil or grease it does not soil the finest linen.

It is compounded upon Scientific principles of the purest ingredients and is entirely harmless.

Being perfumed with the most fragrant Extracts its odor is delightful.

TESTIMONIALS almost without number can be given if necessary but the AMBROSIA is too well known to require it. Use it once and you will never be without it.

Manhood: How Lost, how Restored.

Just published, a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the Radical Cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately, and radically.

This Lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid, on receipt of six cents or two post stamps. Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

YOU ALL

HAVE HEARD OF

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1823.

THEY CURED YOUR

FATHERS AND MOTHERS,

And will cure you and your children. They are entirely different from the many preparations now in the country called Bitters or Tonics. They are no tavern preparation, or anything like one; but good, honest, reliable medicine. They are

The greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint.

DYSPEPSIA,
Nervous Debility,
JAUNDICE,
Diseases of the Kidneys,
ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN,

and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or

IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD.

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil and Great Depression of Spirits.

All these indicate disease of the Liver or Digestive Organs, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters

is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts. The Roots, Herbs, and Barks from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany. All the medicinal virtues are extracted from them by a scientific chemist. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is the only Bitters that can be used in cases where alcoholic stimulants are not advisable.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with PURE Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, these being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic in cases of Debility. They impart a tone and vigor to the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the food, enable the stomach to digest it, purify the blood, give a good, sound, healthy complexion, eradicate the yellow tinge from the eye, impart a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and nervous invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person.

Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Medicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

Blood Purifiers

ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organs in a sound, healthy condition, by the use of these remedies and no disease will ever assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest reputation go for anything you must try these preparations.
