In the Circuit Court for Kent County In Equity. No. 1654.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain property in Kent County, in this State which was mortgaged by a certain Martha A. Price and others to Annie Hines and others, and by several successive assignments, said mortgage was assigned to Plaintiff, The Chestertown Bank of Maryland and others.

The Bill states than on or about the 7th day of March 1890, the said Martha A. Price and others conveyed certain real estate which is particularly described in said Bill unto the said Annie Hines and others by way of mortgage to secure the payment of the sum of $2500, which was then due and owing by the said Martha A. Price to said Annie Hines and others and for which the said Martha A. Price and others gave their promissory note payable one year after date with interest thereon.

That the whole of said sum of $2500, and interest thereon since the —— day of September 1907, still remains due and owing by the said Martha A. Price and others.

That the said Martha A. Price being so indebted unto the Plaintiff and unto diver's other persons, departed this life on or about the —— day of March 1907, leaving a last will and testament by which she devised said real estate to her children, Thomas L. Price, Mary A. Vansant, William H. Price, Olive F. Price and Nellie M. Price and the children of her deceased daughter A. Margaret Hart.

That letters of administration c. t. a. were duly granted unto the said Thomas L. Price, who has passed his first administration account that the personal estate is totally insufficient to pay the debts of the Plaintiff and the other creditors of said Martha A. Price.

That the said Thomas L. Price and Eva B. Price, his wife, reside in the City of Brooklyn, in the State of New York, that the said William H. Price, and Kate Price, his wife; Olive F. Price, Nellie M. Price, Charles R. Hart, husband, all of full age; and Lillian Hart, Lambert Hart and John Hart the infant children of A. Margaret Hart deceased, all reside in the city of Philadelphia, in the state of Pennsylvania, and are non-residents of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon this 21st day of March 1908, Ordered by the Circuit Court of Kent County in Equity and that the Plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in said Kent County, once in each of four successive weeks before the 27 day of April 1908, give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this Bill warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 14th day of May, next to show course if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

In The Circuit Court For Kent County In Equity. No. 1655.

THE object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain property in Kent county, in this State, which was devised by a certain David A. Price, late of said county, deceased, to his wife, Martha A. Price for life, and then to his children, and to divide the proceeds thereof amongst the parties entitled, according to their respective interests.

The bill states that the said David A. Price was in his lifetime seized and possessed of certain real estate situated in Kent county, Maryland, that being so seized the said David A. Price departed this life on or about the —— day of December, 1885, leaving a last will by which he devised said real estate to his wife, Martha A. Price for life, and then to his children and their children. That the children of said David A. Price at the time of his death were: Thomas L. Price, and Mary A. Vansant, the plaintiffs, and William H. Price, Olive F. Price, Nellie M. Price and A. Margaret Hart. The said A. Margaret Hart has since departed this life leaving the defendants, Charles R. Hart, her husband, and Lillian Hart, Lambert Hart and John Hart, all infants, her only children.

That the said Martha A. Price departed this life in the month of March, 1907.

That the said real estate is not susceptible of division amongst the parties entitled without loss and injury and by reason of the infancy of three of the devisees a sale could not be made without the aid of this Court.

That the said William H. Price and Kate Price his wife, Olive F. Price, Nellie M. Price Charles R. Hart, all of full age, and Lillian Hart, Lambert Hart and John Hart all infants under the age of twenty one years, reside in the city of Philadelphia, in the State of Pennsylvania, and are non-residents of the State of Maryland.

It is thereupon this 21st day of March, 1908, ordered by the Circuit Court for Kent county in Equity, that the plaintiffs by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Kent county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 27th day of April, 1908, give notice to the said absent defendants of the object and substance of this Bill warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 14th day of May next, to show cause if any they have why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

HIS FIRST THOUGHT.

President McKinley's Devotion to His Invalid Wife.

In the early days of the Spanish war Mr. McKinley and Mark Hanna were engaged in a close and serious evening conference in the president's room. The time ran along to the hour of 9. Suddenly those busy in the outer room saw President McKinley rise and leave the apartment, saying, "Wait a few moments, Mark." He was gone about twenty minutes. In the meantime Senator Hanna walked restlessly between the two rooms, speaking a word or two to the secretaries and showing plainly that he shared with the president a feeling of deep anxiety as to the outcome of the military proceedings. He remarked on the fact of great shortage of supplies and from his words and bearing revealed to the assembled few in that outer room that the president and his closest advisers were lying awake nights and working to make up for the deficiencies of the military situation.

When the president returned he and Senator Hanna resumed their anxious consultation. Then the president's secretary remarked to one who was near him:

"I suppose you wonder why President McKinley got up so suddenly and left without a word to any one. You saw how anxious he was about the military situation. Even that would not cause him to break away from what has come to be the custom of his early evening.

"About the same time every night, when he hears a signal from the other side, he knows that Mrs. McKinley is ready to retire and wishes to see him. No matter how busy he may be nor how deeply engaged in any subject, he invariably drops everything on the instant and goes to their own apartments. There he sits by the bedside and reads a chapter in the Bible to Mrs. McKinley. Then he waits a few moments until she is quiet, tiptoes back to the door, comes over here to the office and without a word takes up the thread of his work and keeps it up until toward midnight."—Chicago Tribune.

FLEET ANIMALS.

The Wonderful Speed Developed by the Greyhound.

Representations of the greyhound appear upon sculptures over 3,000 years old. There is no doubt that it is one of the very oldest fixed types of dog and the most universal in its distribution. India, Arabia, Persia, are among the countries that for ages past had the greyhound. Lately there was exhibited in England a greyhound from Afghanistan—a shaggy form suited to that mountain land. Of course these dogs are not all exactly greyhounds in the western sense, but they are essentially the same in type; they are "gazehounds," long legged, light built dogs, bred to run their game by sight and not by scent and to overtake it not by wearing it down, but by sheer speed and skill of running. How this type was evolved affords much interesting speculation.

"A greyhound is probably the fastest creature that moves upon the earth," says a breeder of those animals. "It is on record that a greyhound beat the famous race horse Flying Childers. An absolute trial between horse and greyhound is difficult to bring off, because, while the horse can be ridden at top speed, it is impossible to insure that the greyhound will run 'all he can.' But a dog that can start, say, fifty yards behind a hare and overtake it within another fifty, and this is about what a greyhound does, must surely be faster than anything else that lives or has his parallel only among the birds."

The same writer says of greyhound coursing: "One used to hear that it was a 'pothouse,' not a 'gentleman's' sport. But I have heard men who follow both declare that they prefer coursing to racing, and I can quite understand it. In coursing there is the absolute certainty that all is above suspicion of anything 'shady.' Every time a dog is run he is honestly run to win or divide the stakes. You cannot 'pull' a greyhound." — Chicago News.

The New Cook's Way.

A new cook was in the kitchen, and the mistress was trying to be pleased with the way she served dinner. The salad was especially unappetizing, with large, coarse green lettuce leaves instead of the crisp, white little hearts the family was accustomed to.

"What did you do to the lettuce?" mildly inquired the lady of the house after dinner.

"Sure, I washed it all good," replied the new cook.

"But the small white part?" persisted the mistress.

"Oh, the core, ye mean. I threw it away, of course."—New York Press.

Happy Tears.

A good cry is a solace to many women. It steadies the nerves and, added to a cup of tea and an interesting story, forms their idea of supreme happiness. Arising from the perusal of their books with red eyes, swelled features and a sopping pocket handkerchief, they feel their time has not been wasted.—Lady Violet Greville in London Chronicle.

A Little Ambiguous.

She—So sorry to hear of your motor accident! Enthusiastic Motorist—Oh, thanks! It's nothing. Expect to live through many more. She—Oh, but I trust not.—London Opinion.

A person is always startled when he hears himself seriously called old for the first time.—O. W. Holmes.

If You Have Waited for Extraordinary Bargains The Time Has Come

It is as easy to change custom as to control trade. With the passing of Christmas, wearing apparel seems to have lost its value. We know not why this should be, for winter weather has hardly begun, and the SUIT or COAT bought now may be worn for months to come, but after Christmas Bargains are expected, and to be equal to expectations we have reduced all

Our Winter Goods, Men's and Boys' Clothing, Ladies and Children's Coats, Ladies Skirts and all Winter Goods, Hats for Men and Boys, Dress Goods, Linens, Shoes for all, Hosiery, Underwear, Gloves, Handkerchiefs, Furniture, Carpets and Mattings.

We are sure prices can't be lower for GOODS of same quality.

Remember it is a little more quality for a little less money.

Wishing One and All a Happy New Year.
