Address to the Country.

The Democratic Senators and Representatives in Congress at a caucus held on Thursday night of last week agreed upon an address, which was signed and issued as follows:

To our fellow-citizens of the United States, friends of constitutional, economical and honest government:

The undersigned beg leave to call your attention to the peculiar importance of the elections which take place this year, and respectfully to submit some suggestions for your consideration. By the State Legislatures to be elected nearly one-third of the United States Senate will be chosen. Nearly all the members of the next House of Representatives are to be elected next fall. Upon the coming elections, then, depends the question whether the democratic and conservative element in the Senate shall be increased, and whether that element shall have a majority in the House of Representatives; and, as a consequence, whether we shall have constitutional, economical and honest government, or a continuance of revolutionary, extravagant and wasteful partisan rule; whether we shall have general, uniform, just and constitutional legislation, with reasonable taxation and frugal expenditure, or unconstitutional, partial, unjust, class legislation, with oppressive and unequal taxation and wasteful expenditure.

That we have strong reasons to hope for a favorable result is plainly apparent. The elections already held clearly show that the tide of reform has set in with a power that cannot be resisted if no blunders be committed by the friends of reform. If they do their duty and act wisely, if they throw off all apathy and act with vigor and steadfastness, there is every reason to hope that their efforts will be rewarded by success. Let there be no dissensions about minor matters, no time lost in the discussion of dead issues, no manifestation of narrow or proscriptive feeling, no sacrifice of the cause to gratify personal ambition or resentment, and let the best men be chosen for candidates, and we may hope to see our country redeemed from misrule. And, in this connection, we beg leave to say a word to our fellow-citizens of the Southern States. Do not risk the loss of Senators or Representatives by electing men who cannot take the test-oath, or who are under the disability imposed by the fourteenth amendment.

Whatever may be said as to the validity of that amendment or of the test-oath act, you may rest assured that Senators elected by the votes of members of Legislatures who are held by the radicals to be thus disqualified will not be permitted to take their seats, and that members of the House of Representatives thus disqualified will also be excluded. It is the plainest dictate of practical wisdom not to incur any such risks. We hope soon to see the day when all disabilities will be removed; but, in the meantime, do not, we entreat you, lose the opportunity to strengthen the democratic and conservative force in Congress, and the possibility, nay probability, of obtaining a majority in the next House of Representatives, by putting it in the power of our adversaries to overthrow or disregard your elections.

DARING ROBBERY—An Insurance Office Robbed During Business Hours—Large Loss of Bonds.—The office of the Maryland Fire Insurance Company, on the corner of Second street and Post office avenue, was robbed about half-past ten o'clock Tuesday morning of some $50,000 in negotiable bonds, besides other bonds and certified securities. It appears that shortly before the hour named one of the clerks brought into the office of the company from the Safe Deposit Company's vault, on South street, a tin box, containing about $175,000 in bonds, securities and other valuables, and placed it on the desk behind the railing. Soon afterwards two genteelly dressed men entered the office and made inquiries in reference to effecting insurance, and whilst the attention of the clerks was thus withdrawn from the box, it is supposed that either one of the two men or a confederate carried it off with its contents. The robbery was only discovered after the departure of the men, who, it is stated, all passed through the Exchange or postoffice building into Exchange Place or Lombard street. It is also stated that the clerk had removed some papers from the box before the men came in, and that it had been securely locked and placed by the clerk in charge of it in the rear of the counter, near the middle of the room, with his coat thrown over it; that he then left the room a few minutes, and upon his return discovered that it had disappeared. The valuables had not been in the building more than fifteen or twenty minutes when they were taken. There is no clue as yet to the perpetrator of the robbery.—Balt. Sun.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S SUMMER RECREATION.—After the adjournment of Congress, now fixed for July 15th, the President will spend the summer away from Washington. During the latter portion of July, all of August and a portion of September the Executive Mansion will be abandoned for the more healthful and agreeable breezes of the sea. One secretary and a portion of the ushers and mansion police will remain in the building as a guard. The President will take with him all his family servants and the steward of the mansion, also his horses. Most of his time will be passed at Long Branch, though several excurtions are talked of during the season of recreation. The President will adopt the same rule in regard to public business as he did last year, visiting the capital when the exigencies of public business require, or at least every twe weeks, in order to keep himself advised of the public matters.

AN EARTHQUAKE IN NEW YORK.—The supply of sensations in New York is evidently not yet given out. The World states positively, with copious scientific commentary, that the city was visited by a small earthquake on Saturday afternoon. The event was not generally known, but there were many people on the east side who felt the shake and ran into the street in alarm. Shortly afterwards the thermometer rose four degrees. The World describes the shock as lasting about a second and a half, and coming with an unusual noise, "like a smothered explosion in mud" and "a tremor in the ground" under foot, and thinks it is probable that this "was but the outskirts of a more tremendous one of which we are yet to hear."

ANOTHER SENSATION FROM COL. JAQUES—Pretended Secret History of the War.—Col. James F. Jaques, who lately put in a claim before Congress for important service rendered during the rebellion as a spy for President Lincoln, in his testimony before the committee that was appointed to examine and report upon the claim makes some startling statements in regard to the alleged secret history of the late war. The Phila. Press says:

"He testifies to having had knowledge of a plot invented by a former Vice-President of the United States, who afterwards became Secretary of War of the Confederady, [Gen. Breckinridge,] to burn Northern cities and the shipping owned by the United States. To carry out this plan, chemical compounds of an inflammable nature were ordered by the leading rebels. Col. Jaques bases his claim upon the failure of these chemicals to ignite, which he alleges was owing to his having prevailed upon the chemist who was employed to manufacture them to include in their composition a substance which would destroy their inflammable character. After patiently hearing the evidence, much of which was devoted to proving the entire reliability of Colonel Jaques as a man of honor, the Senate committee reported favorably upon the claim."

The New York Tribune mentions that Col. Jaques also introduces some other statements gravely affecting the characters of other prominent public men. The Tribune says: "The most serious averment is that ex-President Buchanan was in earnest sympathy with the rebel leaders, was in their confidence, and was active in their counsels as to the movements on the border. There are also some statements concerning Gov. Seymour and sundry other gentlemen.—Most of the important things, however, in this alleged evidence are not new, and it is not clear that the new things are true. When the report of this committee comes before us in proper form, it may seem to deserve consideration. Now we can only protest against blackening, on insufficient or uncertain testimony, the character of a dead man, who was once well enough esteemed to be made our President. Let us have all the facts."

THE "HEATED TERM."—Accounts reach us from all sections of the country of the excessive heat of the weather, the thermometer ranging from 90 to 96 in the shade, according to locality. The New York Tribune of Wednesday says:

The long list of sunstrokes and other sufferings from the heat on Tuesday testify to the extraordinary intensity of the present "heated term." The air of the unshaded streets was seething hot, almost like the breath of a furnace. The streets were, however, hardly less thronged than usual. The most notable crowds were to be found at those places where thermometers were hung up for public view, and around the soda-water stands. There has lately been published an interesting account of various hot summers during several centuries past, and it begins to be a serious question whether the present summer will not be such an one as will be worthy of including in the catalogue referred to. The weatherwise predict earthquakes—it is not manifest whether as a cause or as the effect of the heat—and state that the weather we now endure is the hottest in thirty years at this season. Sanitary rules need to be strictly observed in such a season. A sad incident reported in connection with the subject of the heat was the result of the very foolish wager of two young men who were discussing the question of the injurious effects of ice-water. One of them said: "You say ice-water is injurious; come, I will wager that I drink six tumblers in five minutes." The wager was accepted. He drank the six glasses of ice-water within the specified time, and almost immediately fell dead. Immoderate indulgence in cooling drinks cannot be too carefully guarded against. A little attention paid to sanitary rules may be the means of saving many a life, or at least many persons from uncomfortable summer complaints, and the attending discomforts of doctors' bills.

NEW ORLEANS revels in the enjoyment of rosy-cheeked peaches, black grapes, sunny pears, liquid watermelons, black cherries, red plums, soft figs, early apples and perfumed canteleupes, for they are plentiful.

The Living Machine.

Injure the main spring of a watch and every portion of the works become disordered. The human stomach is to the human system what that elastic piece of metal is to a chronometer. It influences the action of the other organs, and controls to a certain extent, the whole living machine. The comparison may be carried further: for as the weakness or other imperfections of the main spring is indicated on the face of the time-piece, so also is the weakness or other disorder of the stomach betrayed by the face of the invalid; the complexion is sallow or faded, the eyes are deficient in lustre and intelligence and there is a worn, anxious expression in the whole countenance which tell as plainly as written written words could do, that the great nourishing organ whose office it is minister to the wants of the body, and to sustain and renew all its parts, is not performing its duty. It requires renovating and regulating, and to accomplish this end Hostetter's Stomach Bitters may be truly said to be the one thing needful. The broken main spring of a watch may be replaced by a new one, but the stomach can only be repaired and strengthened, and this is one of the objects of the famous vegetable restorative which for eighteen years has been waging a successful contest with dyspepsia in all climates. As a specific for indigestion it stands alone. When the resources of the pharmacopœia have been exhausted, without at best, doing more than mitigating the complaint, a course of this wholesome and palatable, yet powerful stomarchic effects a perfect and permanent cure. In all cases of dyspepsia the liver is more or less disordered, and upon this important gland, as well as upon the stomach and bowels, the Bitters act with singular distinctness, regulating and reinvigorating every secretive and assimilating organ on which bodily and mental health depend.

No Medicine or Treatment can excel the Powerful Curative Power of

WHITE PULMONIC BALSAM.

It cures with a rapidity unequalled by any other remedy offered for Throat and Lung diseases. It is recommended by over 2,000 persons in Wilmington, and hundreds in Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities and communities throughout the country. Mr. Pennington, of Wilmington, Illinois, writes that there is not (with a few exceptions) a family in that city who will be without it if possible to procure it. Such is its popularity wherever it is known—and this popularity arises from the fact that it universally cures all who use it. There is no case of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Blood Spitting, Hoarseness, and even Pulmonary Consumption, where the system is not broken down with the wear of the disease, or pretended medicine, or inexperienced advice that this Balsam will not cure if carefully used, according to directions. We guarantee it all we represent it to be, and invite a trial from the afflicted everywhere. Price, 50 cents, medium size, and $1 for large size bottles. Prepared only by

PARTICULAR ATTENTION is invited to the following sections of the Public General Laws of Maryland, under the title "Crimes and Punishments:"

SEC. 159. If any person shall place anything, or cause anything to be placed, on any railroad in this State, calculated to obstruct, overthrow or direct from the track of such railroad any car, vehicle or carriage, travelling or passing on such railroad, or shall break or injure in any manner any railroad in this State, with the view or intent to obstruct or overthrow any car, vehicle or carriage, such person so offending shall be deemed guilty of felony, and upon conviction thereof, shall be sentenced to the penitentiary for not less than two years nor more than ten years.

SEC. 160. If the death of any person shall be occasioned by the overthrow or obstruction of any railroad car, vehicle or carriage, produced by the placing of any thing or obstruction on any railroad, or by breaking or injuring any railroad, or any bridge attached thereto, in violation of the preceding section, then the person so placing the thing, or obstructing, or breaking or injuring, shall be deemed guilty of murder.

The above law will be rigidly enforced so far as it relates to railroads under the control of the Kent County Railroad Company.

DR. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

Why is it that so many children die under the age of five years? That a large proportion of children die under that age, has long been a subject of remark, and without a satisfactory cause ascertained, it is certain.

Also, it is known that worms exist in the human system from its earliest infancy; therefore parents, especially mothers, who are more constantly with their children, cannot be too observing of the first symptoms of worms, for so surely as they exist, can they be removed from the most DELICATE INFANT by the timely use of

SAFELY AND CERTAINLY

DR. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE.

IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS—contains no Mercury, being a

Purely Vegetable Composition,

And may be administered with the UTMOST SAFETY TO CHILDREN OF ALL AGES.

Worm Confections, made more for the purpose of pleasing the palate than of overcoming the disease, have been manufactured all over the country, but their short lease of life is nearly exhausted, and D. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge continues to grow in favor daily.

CAUTION.

Should occasion require you to purchase D. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, be particularly careful to see that the initials are D. A. This is the article that has been so

FAVORABY KNOWN SINCE 1829.

And purchasers must insist on having it, if they do not wish to have an imitation forced upon them.
