Just take one good look at these pictures—and then a good look at your wife. The upper picture shows the simple bowl of the Dairy Tubular Separator—washed clean in one to three minutes. # FALL FASHIONS.

Fall And Winter Millinery — Large And Small Hats — Trimmings — Feathers — Flowers — Cheviots — Stripes and Checks—Jackets—The Directoire Skirt.

Shapes and trimmings in Fall and Winter millinery are varied enough to suit all tastes, and while large hats attract most attention just now, small and medium-sized hats are by no means overshadowed. The "turn-down" brim is seen in hats of many sizes, and these will be tilted back over the detestable Pompadour roll. It seems impossible to escape from manufactured plumage, and besides enormous wings the cockade effect in dropping cocktail feathers, appears on very expensive hats. Bengaline, Ottoman silk plain or miroir velvet, are the materials most in vogue for hats, and flowers of various kinds are used on or with any of these fabrics.

SATIN.

This is another fashionable millinery fabric and combines charmingly with flowers of all descriptions, and is laid in lovely folds or waves, or sometimes forms the sole trimming, of several shades however.

DRESS FABRICS.

For dressy wear broadcloths lead, and the display made by Lord & Taylor is simply fascinating. So many beautiful shades from which to choose, causes one to linger at the counters covered with these charming materials, before the final choice is made. Plain broadcloth, handsomely trimmed makes an elegant reception or evening suit, and striped or checked broadcloth is equally desirable for the unpretentious tailor suit. Cheviots also are in unusual variety and between diagonal, chevron, broken stripes or combinations of color in tiny herring bone stripes, selection becomes a puzzling matter. The Summer's bordered paterns in checks on stripes re-appear, and in the hands of a tasteful dressmaker, very effective results are attained.

The above design is issued by The McCall Company, New York, Publishers of McCall's Magazine. Patterns for it may be obtained at any McCall Pattern Agency.

FALL JACKETS.

Considerable variety and contrasts as well are apparent in new jackets, a large proportion being tight-fitting, others are double breasted, and a third style is quite long and almost tight, with the pockets at each side. The latest model is the "Empire coat," with of course the short-waisted effect, collarless, with full sleeves and open cuff. Their size renders them quite expensive, at the same time they cover and protect the entire costume. Made of silk or satin and trimmed around the neck with a fancy braid they are very attractive for evening wear. Black always predominates for coats, nevertheless blue in dark tones seems favored, and covert cloth in several shades will certainly be popular.

SKIRTS.

The walking skirt remains full around the bottom, but as tight as ever around the hips. Probably it will be a little longer than those of the now waning season. The Directoire skirt is a silly affair, only suitable for in-door or carriage use, and impossible to cut and make except by high class dressmakers. As it should commence under the best line and be fitted to the figure, it is a work of art. Only two seams are admissible, one at each side with a habit back, or one at the center back and another at the side, where it opens to show an underskirt.

VERONA CLARK.

THE NEWS calls special attention to the dates for registration this year. They are Tuesday, September 29th, and Tuesday, October 6th. Every voter should make sure that he is on the registration books, or, having moved from one district to another, care should be taken to secure the necessary transfer papers in order to be properly registered in the district where he now resides. This will be a Presidential election and it is thought that the vote will be larger than at any previous election.

A Magnificent Display of Trimmed Hats for Fall

We have opened the lids of the mysterious foreign hat-boxes that have been coming in for the past two weeks; we have brought down from our workrooms the copies, adaptations and creations that deft fingers have been fashioning—come view the combined collection!

Paris millinery here—H. K. & Co. millinery there—and even the expert milliners who have had an advance peep at the showing are puzzled to tell which is which!

The styles show, to some extent, the Directoire influence—yet there is no one type that dominates. There is such a variety of shapes, both large and small, moderate and extreme, that every woman can feel sure of getting something appropriate and still be in the fashion.

Some novelties for your special attention—including the "Lady with the Fan' Hat" a copy from the hat worn in this famous painting, and the "Veil Hat," which you must see in order to appreciate. A Directoire Hat—not a modified type, but a perfect reproduction of the original model—also awaits your inspection.

Untrimmed hats, plumes, feather pieces, ribbons and everything else that goes into the the making of millinery—take for granted that the greatest and best showing is here.

The New Suit Section Invites Your Inspection

A PALATABLE LAXATIVE.

You can overcome your stomach and bowel troubles without drugs by eating 2 or 3 Heintz Health Biscuits each day for a short time.

Thousands, who have suffered from chronic cases of constipation and indigestion, owe their health to these wonderful biscuits. They are composed of selected cereals, oats, barley, wheat and rye, ground into meal, leaving all nutritive elements for building up of muscle bone, teeth and nerves, at the same time possessing laxative qualities.

A gentlemen, 70 years of age, says, "For a number of years, I was troubled with indigestion and constipation. My appetite was gone and I could hardly keep anything on my stomach. My doctors recommended your biscuits with the result that today I am enjoying my second youth. My friends are surprised at the change in my appearance."

They cost by 10c a package at your grocer. If he does not keep them, have him order them for you.
