"UP THE HUDSON."

Messrs. Editors:—Pursuing our voyage up the river, we now enter Haverstraw bay, the second of the great extensions of the Hudson and the commencement of the magnificent scenery of the Highlands.—On our right the village of Peekskill ascends from the shore to the lofty hill summit; on our left rises the rugged front of Dundenberg Mountain, at whose base the little hamlet and landing of Caldwell are nestled; while before us a grand panorama is exhibited, of beautiful river, with its wooded banks and mountain shores rising hundreds of feet on either side till lost in the grand mountain group of the Highlands. The landscape which these noble heights and their picturesque and changeful forms present is of unrivalled magnificence and beauty, whether viewed from their rugged summits or from the river gorges. Of these scenes Theodore Fay thus writes:

"By wooded bluff we steal, by leaning lawn,
By palace, village, cot, a sweet surprise
At every turn the vision breaks upon,
Till to our wondering and uplifted eyes
The Highland rocks and hills in solemn grandeur rise,
Nor clouds in Heaven, nor billows in the deep,
More graceful shapes did ever heave or roll;
Nor came such pictures to a painter's sleep,
Nor beamed such vision on a poet's soul!
The pent up flood, impatient of control,
In ages past here broke its granite bound,
Then to the sea in broad meanders stole
White ponderous ruin strewed the broken ground,
And these gigantic hills forever closed around."

The next point of interest is West Point, which, as well on account of its famous military school and historical associations, as for its varied and unique scenic attractions, is one of the most charming places on the Hudson. The buildings are large and commodious; many revolutionary relics are to be seen in and around the academy buildings. Kosciusko's garden and monument are on the bank of the river, and no one passes thither through "flirtation walk" without noting the applicability of the name to the oft trodden path, as it winds through a perfect forest of beautiful trees and shrubbery. The visitor will delight his eye at all points, whether he gaze upon the superb panorama of the river as he sits upon the piazza of the hotel upon the plateau, or as he looks upon the scene from the yet loftier eminence above, crowned by the ruins of ancient fortresses; or strolls amidst the interlacing walks, with new vistas of beauty and fresh memories of a gallant gone-by at every turn and step. Returning to the river we find the Parrott gun foundery about a mile above West Point, and as we continue our voyage, Cro'nest casts its broad shadow upon us. This is one of the highest of the Highland group, and is the scene of Drake's celebrated poem, "The Culprit Fay." Morris thus sings of the beauties of these bold cliffs:

"Where Hudson's waves o'er silvery sands
Wind through the hills afar,
And Cro'nest like a Monarch stands,
Crowned with a single star."

Idlewild, the romantic home of Willis, occupies a lofty plateau a few miles above. Newburg, with a population of 15,000, is one of the largest and most delightful towns on the river. Poughkeepsie, on the right bank, is a manufacturing town, and the home of Morse, of telegraph fame.

The next mountain peaks we notice on our left are the Kaatskill which lie some ten miles west of the river. These peaks lend to the landscape of that part of the Hudson from which they are visible, its greatest charm. The journey thither is made by coaches and usually occupies three hours. Sleepy Hollow, the site of Rip Van Winkle's famous nap, is passed on the way. The Mountain House is spacious and comfortable, and affords good accommodations to the visitor. It stands upon the table rock, a few yards from the sheer verge—an elevation of eighteen hundred feet above the apparent plain; and twenty-seven hundred above the level of the river. There is a narrow strip of green just in front, under the long and capacious piazza, beautifully ornamented with young fir and cedar trees, and a variety of shrubs. Then comes a strip of bare rock, overlooking the awful abyss. A sea of woods is at your feet, but so far below, that the large hills seem but slight heavings of the green billowy mass; before you lies a vast landscape stretching far as the eye can take in the picture; a map of earth, with its fields, its meadows, its forests, and its villages and cities scattered in the distance; it streams and lakes diminished, like the dwellings of man into insignificance. Through the midst winds the sweeping river, the mighty Hudson, lessoned to a rill; or it might be likened to a riband laid over a ground of green. Still further are the swelling uplands, and then far along the horizon mountains piled upon mountains, melting into the distance, rising range above range till the last and loftiest fades into the blue of the sky. Over this magnificent panorama the morning sun pours a misty radiance, half veiling, yet adding to its beauty, and tinting the Hudson with gold. Here and there the bright river is clotted with sails, and now and then a steamboat can be seen winding its apparently slow way along. The clouds that fling their fitful shadows over the country below, are on a level with you, even the birds seldom soar higher than your feet, and the resting place of the songster, whose flight can no longer be traced from the plain, is still far below.

QUILL.

DECEASED.—Dr. John H. Bayne, the eminent horticulturist, of Prince George's county, Md., died on the 18th instant.—H. J. Eckart, Esq., ex-member of the Maryland Legislature from Carroll county, died a few days ago.

FOR CONGRESS.—Hon. Daniel Clarke, of Prince George's county, Md., is named for the democratic conservative nomination for Congress in the fifth district.

THE LATEST FASHIONABLE BEVERAGE.—A furnishing store in this city advertises a new style of cravat as "the latest fashion for the throat." This may be the latest style for the outside of that organ, but a fashion for the inside has just come up which is twice as popular. Somebody has found out that Schiedam Schnapps improve soda water, and everybody acquiesces in the arrangement. Although somewhat conservative by nature, we are not opposed to progress, and conceiving it our solemn duty, as a public journalist, to ascertain whether Schapps Soda Water was a proper thing to be recommended to our subscribers, we tried it. The result may be stated in a few words. The mixture is good to take; and if our stomach is like stomachs in general it is congenial to that part of the human organization. Finally, and to conclude, "it touches the right spot."

A HEART-RENDING CALAMITY IN ROANE COUNTY, W. VA.—A gentleman just from Roane county gives the following particulars of a most heart-rending calamity which happened last week on Spring Creek in that county, and by which one family were bereft of four children in less than an hour.

A lady, whose name our informant had forgotten, residing upon the above named creek, had gone down to it in the morning for the purpose of doing "the week's washing," taking with her the youngest child, an infant about a year old, leaving her other three at the house. While engaged at her work she heard suppressed screams at the house; taking up her little child from the soiled clothes upon which it was sitting, she placed it in an empty tub to keep it from falling into the creek during her absence, and hastened to the house, where she met her eldest child with its head frightfully disfigured and swollen. She hastily learned from this one that the three children had crawled under the house in search of eggs; that while under something hurt them, and that the other two were still under the house. The mother upon looking under the house found them dead, with several moccasin snakes (a very poisonous and deadly species) crawling round their bodies. The neighbors were alarmed and by their assisstance the snakes were killed, and the unfortunate children taken out, their bodies presenting a frightful and sickening appearance. By this time the elder one was a corpse.—The mother in her despair and agony had forgotten until now her little one at the creek, and upon going down to the creek for it, it was only to find it also a corpse in the creek. It is supposed the little child climbed up in the tub and was holding on to the lower edge of it when the tub upset, rolling the child into the water below and drowning it. It is said the mother's grief was so great that at last accounts she was a raving maniac.—Point Pleasant Journal.

THE REGISTRATION DIFFICULTIES—The Acting Attorney General's Instructions.—Washington, Aug. 30.—The announcement that the Acting Attorney General had instructed the United States District Attorney of Western Virginia to dismiss all prosecutions under the third section of the act of July last in reference to the right of citizens of the United States to vote in the several States when the offense is not the distinction made in the second section of the act is of greater importance than at first supposed. A case is pending at Martinsburg, Berkeley county, and to-day Judge Bond telegraphed the department of justice for a copy of the instructions sent, as he had granted a writ of habeas corpus under the act, on the ground that the petitioner had been refused registration for other reasons than "race, color or previous condition of servitude." There is no doubt that parties feeling aggrieved will endeavor to prosecute the obstinate registrars.

What does Reason Say?

The little mongoose when bitten by a deadly serpent resorts to a certain plant, eats of it, and escapes the effect of the poison. That is instinct. Human beings on the other hand, must depend on reason and experience in selecting the means of protecting health and life against unwholesome influences. Now, what does reason say on this vital subject? Does it not tell us that to invigorate and purify the system is the best way to protect it against the invisible poison which generates disease? Surely it does. The next question is, what guide shall we follow in choosing a medicinal safeguard? Reason replies let your monitor be experience. Well, the experience of eighteen years comprised in one unbroken series of satisfactory testimonials assures us that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters possess strengthening, regulating and antiseptic properties which are not combined in the same happy proportions in any other preparation extant. This therefore is the antidote to which reason bids us resort when our health is imperilled either by the malaria, which produces epidemic disorders, or by any other cause, whether inherent and constitutional or connected with our habits, occupations and pursuits.

The venom of a noxious reptile is scarcely more subtle and dangerous than that which lurks in foul air and impure water. To escape the fevers, bilious disorders, disturbances of the bowels, and other serious maladies produced by these insalubrious elements, it is absolutely necessary that the stomach and all the secretive organs should be, so to speak, in a robust condition. Upon the amount of resistance which the vital system can oppose to the deleterious influences that assail it, the safety of the health depends, and it is because the GREAT VEGETABLE INVIGORANT imparts energy and regularity to the most important functions of the body, that it can be recommended and guaranteed as an invaluable preventive medicine.

Manhood: How Lost, How Restored.

Just published a new edition of DR. CULVERWELL'S CELEBRATED ESSAY on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cents.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstates from a thirty year's successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of intenal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself, cheaply, privately, and radically.

This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

POUDRETTE.
Twenty Years Success.
The Cheapest and Best Fertilizer extant.
$22 PER TON; 40 CTS. PER BUSH.

Especially prepared for Wheat, Rye, Turnips and Grass. It has no equal for all kinds of Grain and Vegetables, substantiated by references unsurpassed for reliability. Is a NATURAL MANURE free from adulteration. Every ton is taken from the privy well under our own supervision, it being an important branch of our business, having for twenty years sold it on its own merits and the demand constantly increasing we have extended our facilities for procuring night soil thus to accommodate new customers, while retaining our old patrons with the best fertilizer at a fraction of the extravagant prices of the many manufactured compositions called fertilizers. It is safe to predict at no far distant day experience will prove there are but two fertilizers besides good farm yard manure, "Poudrette and Guano, the only natural manures in the market." The farmer can illy afford to squander his money on the many manufactured compositions emblazoned through the columns of the rural press as fertilizers. The POUDRETTE is free from odor and agreeable to handle or apply. Our factories are open for the inspection of all interested in the use of Poudrette Price $22 per ton.

COUGHS, SORE THROAT, ETC.

No Medicine or Treatment can excel the Powerful Curative Power of

DR. SIMMS'
WHITE PULMONIC BALSAM.

It cures with a rapidity unequalled by any other remedy offered for Throat and Lung diseases. It is recommended by over 2,000 persons in Wilmington, and hundreds in Philadelphia, Baltimore and other cities and communities throughout the country. Mr. Pennington, of Wilmington, Illinois, writes that there is not (with a few exceptions) a family in that city who will be without it if possible to procure it. Such is its popularity wherever it is known—and this popularity arises from the fact that it universally cures all who use it. There is no case of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, Blood Spitting, Hoarseness, and even Pulmonary Consumption, where the system is not broken down with the wear of the disease, or pretended medicine, or inexperienced advice, that this Balsam will not cure if carefully used, according to directions. We guarantee it all we represent it to be, and invite a trial from the afflicted everywhere. Price, 50 cents, medium size, and $1 for large size bottles. Prepared only by

The limited time from Worton to Townsend will allow but little time (if any) at any station for loading after the train arrives, and therefore shippers and others interested are earnestly requested to have all peaches loaded and cars fastened up ready, so as not to delay the train over its card time.

RETURNING will leave Townsend at 5, P. M., and arrive at Kennedyville at about 6.10, P. M., stopping at all intermediate stations for passengers.

The BAGGAGE CAR will be run with this train, in which persons can take passage. By this arrangement persons can come from all points on the Delaware R. R. and branches south of Townsend, through to Kennedyville the same day.
