MANUFACTURER OF

Standard Bone Fertilizers

TRADE MARK

Mr. Hubbard is President of our Company. The employees are practically the same. But with our new stockholders and directors and additional facilities we are better equipped than ever before to sell you fertilizers for whatever crop you may require this Spring and if you are not already a patron of ours let us send you a ton of Evidence or a carload if you need it.

Many of our customers have been dealing with us for over 30 years. Others have come to us later but that matters not, be you an old customer or a new one, we want to sell you this time. Please call on or correspond with us before placing your order.

Picknell 35381

Record 2:15¼

Made in Third Heat of Winning Race

Bred by C. W. Williams, Galesburg, Ill. Foaled 1901. A model in every way. His size, 15.2 hands, weight close to 1050 pounds, and color, mahogany bay, are ideal. His disposition and manners are perfect. His breeding, the highest of fashion—a son of the greatest sire of his age, living or dead, Allerton 2:09¼, world's champion trotting stallion to high wheels, from one of the greatest producing daughters of Baron Wilkes 2:18, the famous Futurity sire. A race horse himself, never having worn hobbles nor other false rigging; started green in the late summer of 1906 in six races, winning two of them, and was well up into the money the other four, he has, (though prominent horsemen have pronounced him capable of a record of 2:05 or better), been retired to the stud, sound, clean, superbly handsome, with vigor and vitality unimpaired, saving for his offspring what a mere racing-machine wears out on the track.

PICKNELL will make the season of 1909 at my stable, Kent and Calvert Streets, Chestertown, Kent Co., Md., at $15.00 the season, or $25.00 to insure approved mares.

Will not be responsible for accident or escapes, but best care taken of mares sent to me. For extended pedigree that will interest any horseman or for fuller particulars call on or address

DON'T VIOLATE THE LAW.

Now that the Democratic candidates under the Crawford county system are actively engaged in canvassing the county it might be well to call their attention to the provisions of the Corrupt Practices Act. As the primaries are now legalized the provisions of the Corrupt Practices Act will apply with the same force and scope as they do at general elections.

It is not presumed that any of the candidates have or will violate the law, but some of them might unwittingly do so in a minor way. For instance they might in the course of their canvass carry with them cigars and offer them to the voters to propitiate them. And while the tender of a cigar would simply be intended as any evidence of good fellowship and not in any sense as a bribe, it might readily be construed under the Act as an attempt to influence the voter. The Act goes on to say that any candidate in person or by representative, who gives any meat, drink, entertainment or provisions to any voter for the purpose of influencing him is liable to a fine of not less than three hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or be imprisoned for one year or both, and further that such persons cannot hold public office or accept public employment for a period of four years.

The voters must also remember that they are liable to the same punishment for accepting any gift of whatever character tendered for political purposes. The scope of the Act is most sweeping and candidates and voters alike will do well to observe its provisions strictly as the States Attorney is obliged to prosecute rigidly any violations of the law which may be called to his attention.

The Republicans, it is understood, intend to adhere to the old convention system of nominating their candidates. That however will make no difference so far as the Corrupt Practices Act is concerned, as it will apply with equal force to the election of delegates to a convention.

A close contest was waged last Saturday between Townsend and Golt's team the score resulting in 6 to 5 in favor of Golts. H. and R. Moffett was battery for winners.

PUBLIC OFFICE A PUBLIC TRUST

We republish this article so as to correct any false impression which may possibly have been made by the figures used, which figures have been heartily and willingly corrected so as to meet the objections of our efficient cashier friends. The figures play but little part in the article as the principle at issue is that of retainina good and capable men in public office as well as in private positions. It is not necessary to confine our example to the banks, but we might take our worthy school examiner. Is there any citizen who would favor his removal simply to make a place for another? Not one, except the fellow who has a grievance or who wants it himself. So with the efficient teachers and other officials. Public office is a public trust and the sooner all the people regard it the better service will be rendered.

The corrected editorial follows:

"A public office is a public trust," and the people should demand of the occupant as high a standard of efficiency as would be demanded of one holding a drivate position. In the selection of a public official, competency and experience are the main essentials, and when an office-holder has acquired the fullest experience, as far as it is possible to do so, the public should demand his retention in office. The salary provided for the incumbent is intended as compensation for the service rendered and not merely a gratuity to be paid out of the people's money, to anyone who might seek the place.

In the banking institutions of Chestertown we have capable, efficient and experienced officers. In two of these institutions the chief officers have served their respective banks for 15 or 18 years each, and we are creditably informed have gradually had salaries raised from $500 to about $2,000 and $2,500 and the annual salary multiplied by the years of service that each has reeeived from these banks would amount to about $15,000 to $30,000.

In all private business or enterprises we should, and do require the highest efficiency of the one we may select to perform the service, then why should the public require less of one to be selected to occupy a public office, than private business men require of their employees. If the service rendered is the most efficient then the private business interest is content, and there is no disposition ever to make a change.

In Mr. James T. Dixon, the present incumbent of the Clerk's office, the people of Kent county have a public officer of the highest efficiency—even his political opponents readily admit this. We are told by persons upon whose judgment we can rely and whose knowledge authorizes them to speak, that no more efficient Clerk is in office in any county in this State. The only objection we have been able to learn to retaining Mr. Dixon in his present place is because he has occupied the position long enough, and from one source we are told of the aggregate amount he has received in salaries while holding public office. Have you ever heard the same objection raised or advanced as a reason for the discharge of an officer of trust in any private institution?

Has long service or this large aggregate of salaries ever been advanced as a reason for the discharge or removal of either of these cashiers? Why are they retained for so long a time—the answer does not require a moment's hesitancy—because of their efficiency and experience; and the stockholder or patron of either of these banks that would make demand on the directors to discharge one of these capable and efficient officers would be deemed a fit subject for examination for some mental trouble.

If private interest retain efficient men in place for twenty and forty years at salaries when aggregated look like fortunes, then why should the public require less of their officials or be disposed to displace an experienced and efficient officer for one who at best must be experimented with before we can find whether he will prove capable and efficient. Private interests will never do this.

The importance of the office of Clerk of Circuit Court where the title to every dollar's worth of the people's property is kept, is second only to that of the Judge of our Courts. An honest, fearless and capable judge is never removed by the people, and should not be. An experienced, faithful and capable Clerk should never be removed without a better cause than has been assigned by the opponents of Mr. Dixon and we think the voters will so vote.

A tried and true servant should never be discharged for an untried one. Mr. Dixon has not only been courteous and obliging to everyone, but his kind acts to the needy of this community are certainly worthy of commendation. Dixon is an all-round good man and deserves the vote of every citizen.

AN APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC.

Bethel African Methodist Episcopal Church, situate at the corner of Calvert and Kent Sts., was established in 1878 and has seventy-five active members, who are preparing to demolish their present church building, preparatory to the assembling of the next annual Conference, which convenes here early next year. The pastor and Trustees appeal to the citizens of Chestertown and vicinity to aid them by contributing any sum in cash or materiol, which will assist them in rebuilding their house of worship. The undersigned persons are authorized to solicit contributions from the public:

P. Elizabeth Demby,	L. H. Chambers,
Mitchell Bell,	Maggie Graves,
Augusta Redden,	Mamie Bell,
Freeman Diggs,	John H. Barnes.

MOTHERS WHO HAVE DAUGHTERS

Find Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Winchester, Ind. — "Four doctors told me that they could never make me regular, and that I would eventually have dropsy. I would bloat, and suffer from bearing-down pains, cramps and chills, and I could not sleep nights. My mother wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking one and one-half bottles of the Compound, I am all right again, and I recommend it to every suffering woman." — Mrs. May Deal, Winchester, Ind.

Hundreds of such letters from girls and mothers expressing their gratitude for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished for them have been received by The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, Lynn, Mass.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, headache, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Thousands have been restored to health by its use.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

MEN PAST FIFTY IN DANGER.

Men past middle life have found comfort and relief in Foley's Kidney Remedy, especially for enlarged prostrate gland, which is very common among elderly men. L. E. Morris, Dexter, Ky., writes: "Up to a year ago my father suffered from kidney and bladder trouble and several physicians pronounced it enlargement of the prostate gland and advised an operation. On account of his age we were afraid he could not stand it and I recommended Foley's Kidney Remedy, and the first bottle relieved him, and after taking the second bottle he was no longer troubled with this complaint."
