WASHINGTON COLLEGE'S 127TH COMMENCEMENT

Maryland's pride, Washington College, held its 127th Commencement this week. The Adelphia Literary Society gave a delightful banquet at the Imperial Hotel Friday evening and on Saturday evening the Pieria Literary Society held its annual reception in Normal Hall.

Sunday morning the Baccalaureate sermon was preached in William Smith Hall by Rev. Hiram W. Kellogg, pastor of Grace M. E. Church, Wilmington. His theme was "Fitness"—all things are yours according to your fitness. It was a most ornate, thoughtful and practical discourse and enjoyed by a large audience. Special music was furnished by a picked choir under the leadership of Miss Chapel, Mr. James L. Bacchus, pianist. A quartette by Mrs. D. B. Ford, Miss Fannie Stuart, A. M. Culp and J. H. Shuster was well rendered.

At night Rev. Wm. Dunbar Gould, Jr., rector of St. Mark's P. E. Church, Baltimore, and a former graduate of Washington College, preached the sermon before the Christian Associations.

Monday's program included the Class Day exercises of the Normal graduates, as follows: Welcome, President; Ivy Planting, Class; Class History, Miss Collison; Class Prophecy, Miss Denny; Class Poem, Cooper; Presentation of Gifts, Miss De Gruchy; Class Song; Presentation of Picture, President. In the afternoon a game of baseball between the college club and Mt. St. Josephs club was played resulting in a victory for the home team by score of 7 to 4.

Dr. James W. Chapman, Jr, of Baltimore, was the speaker at the anniversary celebration of the Mt. Vernon Literary Society. His theme was "Lessons from the Life of George Washington" and for one hour the talented speaker presented some thoughts that were new and striking. He dwelt on a man's equipment for the duties of life and proved that it was equipment and not luck which brings success.

Tuesday morning the Declamation contest for the Simpers medal took place, the contestants and subjects of their orations being as follows:

"Crime Its Own Detective," William Frazier Russell, Jr., Chestertown, Md.

"Who's Afraid?" James Calder Turner, Jr., Monkton, Md.

"On the Proposed Acquisition of Cuba in 1859," John Hamilton Hessey, Worton, Md.

"The Whistling Regiment," Calvin Taylor Ryan, Bishopville, Md.

"Eulogy on John M. Pinckney," William Raymond Moody, Chestertown, Md.

"The Blind Communicant," Conlyn Eliason Noland, Tolchester, Md.

The prizes were awarded as follows: William Raymond Moody, first; William Frazier Russell, Jr., second. The judges were John D. Urie, Esq., Rev. L. E. Barrett, D. D., and Mr. A. S. Garrison.

The track meet arranged by M. J. Thompson was held Tuesday afternoon on Washington Field under favorable conditions, amid waving flags, streamers and much music. The athletes presented a varied and interesting program which delighted the holiday crowd.

The purpose of Mr. Thompson is to inaugurate a series of such meets at the college. Prominent officials from Baltimore and elsewhere were invited to participate. The prizes, gold, silver and bronze medals, were handsome and valuable.

The feature of the meet was the relay race for a silver loving cup. This event was won by Washington College. The meet was conducted on a high basis and its success is largely due to Mr. Thompson's efforts.
