FIRES IN KENT.

Whiteley's Stables, Graham & Bro.'s Machinery, Smith's Stables burned in Chestertown—Burn's Stables Burned Near Galena, Etc.

About 6.30 P. M. Friday the alarm of fire was sounded in Chestertown and before the firemen or scarcely anyone could reach the scene Wm. Whiteley's stables at the depot were in a blaze. The first arrivals endeavored to save the thirteen horses but only succeeded in getting five of them. Messrs. Thomas B. Elliott, Jack Johnson and a host of others had a thrilling experience with the animals, one horse reaching the door and dying in sight of the scores of people who arrived after the alarm was sounded. A cow housed in the stable when released acted just the opposite of the horses in that she bolted out as fast as she possibly could. Eight horses were burned to death including one owned by a gentleman from Federalsburg and the other to Dr. J. W. Chambers, of Baltimore. Besides the horses Mr. Whiteley lost ten or more vehicles, all his blankets, hay, etc., a total loss of $2500 on which there was an insurance of $480 in J. G. Beck's agency. The Whiteley stables were owned by Mr. M. A. Toulson, valued at $1500, who had an insurance of $575 in H. L. Boyd's agency.

Adjoining immediately to Whiteley's stables was the stable and carriage house belonging to C. S. Smith occupied by Mr. F. Mehl as a stable and H. R. Graham & Bro. as a storage house for implements. The latter lost about $1500 fully covered by insurance. Mr. Smith's loss is valued at $500 on which there was $150 insurance in Kent Mutual.

Chief Cannan wisely directed the efforts of the Volunteer Fire Company to saving the Deford shops and frame dwelling adjacent and by hard work confined the flames to the stables. The "boys" did fine work and proved their worth as well as meriting the support the townspeople are giving them. President France was on the scene and assisted in encouraging the "boys." It looked like an awful fire but the good work and a kind Providence the blaze was confined to a small area.

The fire originated in the loft of the stables and is supposed to have started from smoking by employes or men handling straw or hay. Two boys were in the office and did not know of the fire until notified by outsiders. Smokers cannot be too careful.

Fire near Galena.

The big stable on the Rasin or Old Field Point farm near Galena was burned Monday night about ten o'clock with three horses and a calf. The insurance amounted to $1500. It is reported that Mr. Burns had considerable grain in this barn making a total loss of $3,500.

Fire Near Kennedyville.

The fodder ricks and 12 tons of hay on the farm tenanted by Mr. Wm. M. Hurlock, near Kennedyville, were burned Saturday night.

Fire at Rock Hall.

Two dwellings and a store were destroyed at Gratitude, near Rock Hall, about 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. The fire originated in the summer kitchen of Mr. Marion Downey's house in which there had not been a fire for several weeks. No one was home excepting the son, aged about 18. He was in the store attending to business when the fire was discovered by passers-by and before help arrived the dwelling and store were burned entailing a loss of $3,000 on which Mr. Boyd's agency had $450 insurance on store goods and $200 on furniture while Mr. Beck's agency carried $800 on building.

Mr. Benj. Kramer's dwelling adjoining Mr. Downey's also took fire and was destroyed. Mr. Kramer had retired and was so excited that he came out the house partially dressed. The handsome piano and some furniture were saved. Messrs. Satterfield & Durding, agents, carried an insurance of $1000 on house and $1500 on stock belonging to Mr. Kramer.

By good work the home of Mrs. Maslin was saved. Everybody worked like Trojans and saved considerable property.

Confessed Guilt.—As a result of the efforts of Col. Thomas J. Ewell, State Fire Marshal, and Dectective John Kratz, both of Baltimore, Benjamin F. Hurlock, a young white man, was incarcerated in Centreville jail early Wednesday morning, and several hours later confessed to having burned the two buildings in Church Hill, October 31, in which a creamery, the property of the Smyrna Creamery Company, and a dwelling belonging to Miss Kate Riggin, were destroyed, a full account of which was noted in the NEWS last week. They discovered that Mr. Hurlock, who was a resident of Blackston's Cross Roads, Delaware, had been employed in conducting the creamery, had had the creamery insured, making the policy payable to himself in case of fire. They then interviewed Miss Riggin, whose property adjoined the creamery previous to the fire, and she said Hurlock had repeatedly asked her to have her property insured, as the creamery might burn down at any time.

Accidents.—"Bear" Dent, a colored man working for Mr. Chas. W. Copper, the butcher, had his hand caught in a sausage grinder this week and two fingers cut off. Dr. H. G. Simpers rendered surgical aid.

ROCK HALL NOTES.

The Atlantic Conference of the 7th Day Adventists denomination was held here last week beginning on Wednesday and ending on Sunday. About 55 delegates from various parts of Maryland and Delaware with the President of the General Conference and a goodly number of Elders were in attendance. Besides routine business interesting religious services were held daily, the chapel being packed from chancel to doors and many were compelled to turn away because of inability to find even standing room. A baptismal service was held Sunday afternoon on the shore of Swan Creek. A number of persons including one colored woman braved the chilly waters and crisp wind, so reported.

Revival meetings continue through this week at the M. E. Church and are productive of good to the membership. Rev. Mr. Frymire, of Pine Neck, has assisted Rev. Mr. Richardson to some extent this week.

The oyster industry continues very dull with both catchers and buyers. It is reported that the packing house here will be compelled to close down because of the gloomy outlook. Our oystermen ought to give Downey a square deal, he is a substantial benefactor to this place, and it will be decidedly unfortunate to the people if he is forced to close.

Mr. P. R. Beck, the veteran boot and shoe maker, is feeling the infirmites of age bearing heavily upon him. He is 86 years of age and goes to the city this week in hopes of recuperation.

Mr. Hardesty continues unimproved.

Messrs. James Harrison and G. A. Downey are both on the sick list.

Mrs. Howard Taylor and interesting little son, of Havre de Grace, are visiting at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Taylor.

Whooping cough is prevalent among children in this section.

Mr. George A. Scoone, formerly of this town, but now of Baltimore, was here this week on a sad mission—the burial of his daughter, Ruth, who died in the city on Sunday.
