FARMERS' DEPARTMENT

"He who by the plow would thrive, Himself must either hold or drive."

QUANTITY OF CLOVER SEED TO THE ACRE.—Not less than a peck of clover seed should be used if the clover is to be seeded alone, and indeed if orchard grass is also to be seeded in the same ground, a peck of clover seed will not be found too much. The quantity of orchard grass usually seeded to the acre is a bushel.—On good soil it is too little, as it is apt to grow in bunches, instead of forming a close mat, as it ought to do as the clover dies out. At least half a bushel extra could be used to advantage, and it is best to moisten the seed before proadcasting it, but the seeding should then be done in damp weather.

PREPARATIONS FOR CORN.—As soon as the oats are in, prepare at once for corn, by hauling out the manure from the barnyard, spreading, and following at once with the plough. The practice of dropping manure into heaps, and leaving it there to be leached by rains, or dried by wind and sun, is a vicious one. The best mode, even if the hauling has to be delayed in consequence, is to haul out and spread just as fast as the plough can cover, and no faster. But this implies the use of extra teams, and these are not always to be had, in view of the ploughing to be done.

AS TO SOIL.—Corn succeeds best of all on rich alluvials, next on sandy loams and loams of good quality; worst of all on clays, unless these have been broken down by fall ploughing, and have become disintegrated by winter frost. Good meadow land, with a due proportion of sand in the texture of the soil, manured heavily, deeply ploughed early in the season, and well harrowed lengthwise of the furrows, will in favorable seasons bring a heavy crop of cron.

KILLING CROWS.—Hundreds of crows, says the Cumberland News, are being killed in the woods near Martinsburg, by boys with clubs. Some singular disease seems to afflict the crow family, and hundreds of them are to be found flapping and hopping about on the ground nearly blind.

PREPARING SEED CORN.—An Illinois correspondent says: Soak doubtful seed corn in chloride of lime and it will come. If you soak seed corn in tar water in which a little copperas has been dissolved, the gophers and crows will give it a wide berth.

PLASTERING CLOVER FIELDS.—Fields that are already set in clover, should have a bushel of plaster to each acre now scattered over them.

USEFUL RECIPES.

COLLAR GALLS OR BRUISES.—In the first place, the collar should be kept thoroughly oiled where it comes in contact with the neck. The swelling should be thoroughly washed with warm water, and then bathed with a lotion composed of one drachm of tincture of arnica in half a pint of warm water, used every day.—If the shoulder is badly bruised, it will be well to rest the animal from work in harness, and apply a wash every day till cured, composed of sal. ammoniac, one ounce; vinegar, four ounces; spirits of wine, two ounces; tincture of arnica, two drachms; water, one half pint, mixed well. Perhaps you might dispense with the collar, and use a breast strap instead, if the horse must work.

HOG CHOLERA.—Dissolve thoroughly one pound of copperas in three gallons of warm water, and apply the wash about milk warm to the affected animal, by dipping into the solution or rubbing upon it until the skin is thoroughly wet. Whenever the skin of the hog begins to look rough and scaly or of a dark red color, apply the wash immediately. Don't wait until the more alarming symptoms (vomiting and purging) set it. Apply the wash every day until the scales are removed.—A correspondent states that this remedy has been tried repeatedly, and without a single failure when the directions were properly followed. At any rate it is worthy of a trial.

SOWS EATING PIGS.—Young sows will sometimes eat their offspring, from costiveness, which may be prevented by feeding some laxative food, and rubbing the backs of the pigs with an infusion of aloes; or raw salt pork, given to the mother, will prevent her from eating her pigs.—It has been given to them with success after they had eaten one or two pigs.

COLD IN THE BREAST.—Many of our best teamsters protect the breast of their horses by a piece of cloth about two feet square, hanging down from the lower end of the collar. This is an excellent practice in cold weather, as the most important part of the animal is constantly sheltered from the cold wind, especially when traveling towards a strong current. The forward end of horse blankets should be made as closely around the breast of the horse as our garments fit our bodies.

WENS ON CATTLE.—Mix equal quantities of spirits of turpentine and sulphuric acid, stirring slowly in a tumbler—afterwards bottle the mixture. Rub grease round the base of the wen and then apply the medicine to the wen with a feather once or twice a day; it will gradually eat them off.

REMEDY FOR SCOURS IN CATTLE.—Take soft soap, molasses and sweet milk; give dose according to age.

A CROWING DOG.—A natural curiosity exists in Decatur, Illinois, in the shape of a dog that never barked in his life, but instead of indulging in the vocal exercise common to the canine family, each morning imitates the crowing of a rooster.—His owner accounts for this strange peculiarity by stating that the dog was born and bred in the country, and from his earliest puphood was separated from all other curs, enjoying only the companionship of barnyard fowls. Hearing no other sounds so frequently as the crowing of the cocks, and doubtless never knowing that his species enjoyed the sole ownership of another and different sort of music, he began to imitate the matitutinal exercises of his feathered companions, in which he has at last acquired a proficiency which surprises and charms every one who has had the felicity of listening to his performance.

OH, IT WAS A TERRIBLE RUNAWAY!—You see, an umbrella was carrying a man, and it frightened the buggy and it started to run off with the horses, and they ran over on the lamp-post and knocked the sidewalk down, and upset a little baby who was carrying his mother in her arms, and struck some apples, and knocked all the apple-women out of the peanut stand, and then they went down the lightning like a streak of the street, and knocked a couple of milk and four cans of men out of a milk wagon, and knocked three spokes out of one of the horse's right legs, and took the side off the wheel, and I fell out and ran a mud-puddle into my head, clear up to my shoulders, and the mud got full of my mouth, and ears, and eyes, and I'll never get over it, and it's awful!

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE subscriber most respectfully informs the public that he has made arrangements with Dr. Thos. H. Whaland to carry on his near Chestertown, for the present year.

His long experience in the business and his reputation as a Miller warrants him in the belief that he can give universal satisfaction.—As soon as practicable he intends to keep on hand a good supply of

CORN MEAL,

WHEAT FLOUR of all Grades,

HORSE FEED, &c., &c.,

which he is determined to sell at reduced prices.
He only wants to make the regular toll, and will be compelled to sell for Cash only as his capital is small and he does not intend to keep books.
He will use all means to make the Mill a public convenience as well as a source of profit. A trial is all he asks.
Most respectfully,
SAMUEL A. ANTHONY.

THE BICKFORD

IMPROVED

Family Knitting Machines.

PERFECTION in work and simplicity of construction, has been attained in this Machine. It knits both circular and flat web with perfect selvage edge, making a perfect hand stitch. It narrows and widens, knitting heels and toes of stockings to perfection, with ribbed or plain stitch, and is a Crocheting as well as Knitting Machine.
It makes all the intricate fancy stitches of the Crocheting needle better than hand work. It is so simple that a child can operate it, and the rapidity of its work is truly wonderful—20,000 stitches per minute.
This Machine has carried the First Prize at the Maryland State Fair, Maryland Institute and Virginia State Fair, this Fall, and was the principal Machine at all of them. They are more valuable in the family than the Sewing Machine. Price $25 and $35. Send for circulars. Agents wanted in every part of Maryland. Liberal terms.

Clear and Harmless as Water!

NATTANS' CRYSTAL DISCOVERY

FOR THE HAIR!

A PERFECTLY clear preparation in one bottle, as easily applied as water, for restoring to gray hair its natural color and youthful appearance, to eradicate and prevent dandruff, to promote the growth of the hair and stop its falling. It is perfectly harmless and entirely free from any poisonous substance and will therefore take the place of all the dirty and unpleasant preparations now in use. In everything in which the articles now in use are objectionable, CRYSTAL DISCOVERY is perfect. It is warranted to contain neither Sugar of Lead, Sulphur, Litharage, or Nitrate of Silver. Bear this in mind when you want anything for your hair.
Clear and clean as water, it does not soil the scalp or clothes, is agreeably perfumed, and makes one of the best dressings for the hair in use. It restores the color of the hair more perfect and uniformly than any other preparation, and always does so in from 3 to 10 days. Virtually feeding the roots of the hair with all the nourishing qualities necessary to its growth and healthy condition, it restores the decayed and induces a new growth of the hair more positively than anything else. The application of this wonderful discovery also produces a pleasant and cooling effect on the scalp and gives the hair a glossy appearance.
We call especial attention to the fact that a limited number of trial bottles will be given away gratuitously to those desiring to try it. You will notice that in pursuing this course our aim is to convince by the actual merits of the article. ARTHUR NATTANS, Inventor and Proprietor, Washington, D. C., to whom all orders must be addressed.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 5, 1870.
Mr. Arthur Nattans:
Dear Sir—I do not hesitate to say that your Crystal Discovery deserves to supercede all other preparations claiming to restore the growth and color of the hair. I have used it a week now, and my hair has already returned to its natural color, and has ceased falling almost entirely. I cheerfully recommend it.
Respectfully,
MRS. ANNIE MORRAIN.
