Selected for the Kent News.

A farmer sold a flock of sheep for £128—he received one fifth as much for a lamb as he did for a wether, and four fifths as much for a ewe as he did for a wether—there were twice as many ewes as there were wethers, and as many lambs as ewes and wethers both. How many of each did he sell, and how much did he receive for each.

SELLER'S celebrated LIVER PILLS, for the cure of the Liver Complaint.

The proprietor of the above medicine, aware of the many instances in which the afflicted have been imposed upon by quack remedies, proclaimed to be remedies for every disease yet hopes that the Liver Pill will not be placed in that class until they are fairly tested.

It is expressly stated "that persons who use these Pills, and find, after following the given directions, that they have not been benefited, shall have their money returned."

This is done that the public may see it is not the purpose of the proprietor to speculate upon their credulity, but to give at least an equivalent for their money.

In addition to the qualities already mentioned, they are highly recommended as Antibilious and Purgative Pills,

Last Notice.

WE are sorry to be compelled to notify all persons against whom we hold executions, that in no case will indulgence be given beyond the first day of August next. We are in many cases ordered to advertise and sell; this we shall do after the 10th day of July next, unless indulgence be given in writing by the Plaintiffs to the Defendants.

We are under heavy bonds, and unless we act promptly and with decision, we shall subject ourselves to suits and costs, and be delinquent in our duty to the public. We wish it expressly understood that where property has been executed by us, there will be no further personal calls, but an advertisement, followed by taking the property in possession. We do hope that this notice may be attended to, as it will be very disagreeable for us to be compelled to sell our neighbours property.

He has already extended indulgence as long as he can, without violating his duty, and subjecting himself to responsibility and suit. Demands, pressing and urgent, have been made upon him to close the business in his hands by advertisement and sale, without respect to persons. These commands can no longer be resisted and he therefore notifies all persons interested, that from and after the first day of August next, he shall advertise and sell, in every case unsettled, without respect to persons, unless written indulgence from the Plaintiffs be handed to him before that day.

Defendants need not expect any further notice or call from the subscriber, but all unsettled claims will be advertised and prosecuted, as if a personal call had been made after the publication of this notice.
