AN ADDRESS

BY THE U. S. CENTENNIAL COMMISSION.

To the People of the United States:—The Congress of the United States has enacted that the completion of the One Hundredth Year of American Independence shall be celebrated by an International Exhibition of the Arts, Manufactures and Products of the soil and mine, to be held at Philadelphia, in 1876, and has appointed a Commission, consisting of representatives from each State and Territory, to conduct the celebration.

Originating under the auspices of the National Legislature, controlled by a National Commission, and designed as it is to "Commemorate the first Century of our existence, by an Exhibition of the Natural resources of the country and their development, and of our progress in those Arts which benefit mankind, in comparison with those of older Nations," it is the people at large that the Commission look for the aid which is necessary to make the Centennial Celebration the grandest anniversary the world has ever seen.

That the completion of the first century of our existence should be marked by some imposing demonstration is, we believe, the patriotic wish of the people of the whole country. The Congress of the United States has wisely decided that the Birth-day of the Great Republic can be most fittingly celebrated by the universal collection and display of all the trophies of its progress. It is designed to bring together, within a building covering fifty acres, not only the varied productions of our mines and of the soil, but types of all the intellectual triumphs of our citizens, specimens of everything that America can furnish, whether from the brains or the hands of her children, and thus make evident to the world the advancement of which a self-government people is capable.

In this "Celebration" all nations will be invited to participate; its character being International. Europe will display her arts and manufactures, India her curious fabrics, while newly opened China and Japan will lay bare the treasures which for centuries their ingenious people have been perfecting. Each land will compete in generous rivalry for the palm of superior excellence.

To this grand gathering every zone will contribute its fruits and cereals. No mineral shall be wanting; for what the East lacks the West will supply. Under one roof will the South display in rich luxuriance her growing cotton, and the North in miniature, the ceaseless machinery of her mills converting that cotton into cloth. Each section of the globe will send its best offerings to this exhibition, and each State of the Union, as a member of one united body politic, will show to her sister States and to the world, how much she can add to the greatness of the nation of which she is a harmonious part.

To make the Centennial Celebration such a success as the patriotism and the pride of every American demands, will require the co-operation of the people of the whole country. The United States Centennial Commission has received no government aid, such as England extended to her World's Fair, and France to her Universal Exposition, yet the labor and responsibility imposed upon the Commission is as great as in either of those undertakings. It is estimated that ten millions of dollars will be required, and this sum Congress has provided shall be raised by stock subscriptions, and that the people shall have the opportunity of subscribing in proportion to the population of their respective States and Territories

The Commission looks to the unfailing patriotism of the people of every section, to see that each contributes its share to the expenses, and receives its share of the benefits of an enteprise in which all are so deeply interested. It would further earnestly urge the formation in each State and Territory of a centennial organization, which shall in time see that county associations are formed, so that when the nations are gathered together in 1876, each Commonwealth can view with pride the contributions she has made to the national glory.

Confidently relying on the zeal and patriotism ever displayed by our people in every national undertaking, we pledge and prophesy that the Centennial Celebration will worthily show how greatness, wealth and intelligence can be fostered by such institutions as those which have for one hundred years blessed the people of the United States.

JOS. R. HAWLEY, President.
LEWIS WALN SMITH, Temp'y Sec'y.

DEATH OF GEN. GEO. G. MEADE.—Maj. Gen. George Gordon Meade, one of the most distinguished Union officers of the late war, died in Philadelphia last week, of pneumonia. Gen. Meade was born in Cadiz, Spain, of American parentage, in 1816. He received the appointment of a cadet at West Point from Pennsylvania, and graduated in the class of 1835. He entered the regular army as second lieutenant of the third artillery, and served in the Florida war of 1835-36. He was made brigadier general in August, 1862, and participated in the battles of Mechanicsville and Gaines's Mill, in the latter of which he was wounded. He was again wounded at Antietam. Shortly after his recovery he superseded General Butterfield in command of the fifth army corps. He was made commander of the Army of the Potomac June 28, 1863, and commanded at the great and decisive battle of Gettysburg, on July 1 and 3, 1863. In the Richmond campaign he fought several successful battles, and in August, 1864, was made major general in the regular army, and assigned to the command of the military department of the Atlantic.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR HORSES.—A new engine for propelling street cars is described as being on the principle of the English compound-engine in use on ocean steamers. It has two cylinders, and drives the car by direct crank connection, without any intermediate mechanism. It is so compactly made as to occupy no more room than an ordinary base-burning parlor stove of the larger size, and does not intrude upon one foot of passenger room. By an arrangement of the several parts, economy of fuel is accomplished; the smoke is consumed, and noise and soot are avoided. The power employed is that of five horses, and the cars, which are of the usual dimensions, can be controlled, as to stoppage and propulsion, quite as handily as though drawn by horses. The power can be increased at pleasure up to the capacity of a twenty-five horse power engine, thus enabling it to ascend grades of four hundred feet to the mile. The engineer can "slow up," in the space of thirty-two feet, when the cars are going at the rate of twelve miles an hour. The engine is placed upon the rear platform, so that the windows can be left open in pleasant weather without the annoyance of smoke or cinders, as there is none of either, while any dust that might be raised is left behind, thus conferring a vast amount of pleasure and comfort upon the passenger. The tests made thus far have been most satisfactory.

SUPERSTITIOUS.—In Indianapolis, a few days ago, the heart of a mad dog which had bitten a child was taken out and boiled, and the broth given to the child as a preventive of hydrophobia.

THE GREAT FIRE IN BOSTON.

The Burnt District Under Guard—Pillagers and Incendiaries Summarily Treated—The Loss of Life—People Out of Work—A Sad Scene.

Boston, November 12.—The city has been perfectly quiet all day. The burnt district is under guard of the military, who are very strict in preventing persons from passing the lines within their patrol. One man who attempted to enter a store on Winter street, and who refused to leave after being ordered away, and started to run when about to be arrested, was shot by the guard. Three men were discovered in an attempt to break into a room in the Parker House, but escaped. Six men were arrested in the northern part of the city, caught in the act of firing buildings by kindling bonfires in the rear part. It is rumored that a drunken wretch late in the evening, who attempted to set fire to the gas house near Charlestown bridge, was seized by an infuriated crowd and unceremoniously hung to a lamp post. Several New York detectives have arrived in Boston to aid the authorities here in arresting New York thieves.

Lines of hose are stretched all over the ruins, and engines stationed at almost every hydrant ready to be worked if occasion should require. An immense pile of coal at a wharf, about 500 tons, is still on fire.

The city authorities have granted to the dry goods merchants the privilege of using the Common as a repository for such of their property as is saved, and to erect shanties and other structures for temporary use.

A detachment of the First and Second Regiments are quartered in the Old South Church. This building has not been thus used since British officers quartered there during the revolution, one hundred and fifty years ago.

A TERRIBLE SCENE

took place on Tuesday at the furnishing store of Hickman, on Washington street, where the walls had been wrapt in a deadly embrace by the flames, and had become weak and tottering through the intense heat. At length they fell, and three men were buried up to the shoulders among the heavy fragments of brick and stone. The terrible physical agony of their cries of anguish which they suffered filled the frightened crowd with horror, but at first no one advanced to their succor. After a few moments two or three men crossed the street to where a portion of the wall was still overhanging the spot where the poor victims were begging and shrieking for help, and tried by the utmost exertion of main strength to pull and wrench them out of the horrible vise, but these efforts only made greater their sufferings, and the bricks and debries were still falling at every moment. The men relinquished the perilous and fruitless risk and retreated from the dangerous spot, and shortly afterwards, in frightful paroxysms of pain and with cries that will ring in the ears of many of the spectators to their dying day, the crushed masses of humanity gave up the breath of life, and were a moment afterwards buried by another crashing fall of the wall.

It is known that thirty lives have been lost. In points where persons are known to have been buried, the ruins are being cooled with water, preparatory to digging out the corpses of the victims.

MEN AND WOMEN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.

The Boston Herald says that among the sad sights witnessed, were those of young, plainly clad girls standing upon streets adjacent to the burning acres, with piteous exclamations and bitter tears at seeing the places where, a few hours before, they were earning by hard work their daily bread, razed to the ground.

It is estimated that nearly ten thousand of these unfortunate girls are thus thrown out of employment.

LOOKING CHEERFULLY AHEAD.

There is no feeling of despondency in Boston, but a disposition is everywhere manifested by business men to meet their reverses manfully, and conquer them.

ENORMOUS SNOW-PLOW—The Largest Machine of the Kind in the World.—The Omaha Bee says: The Union Pacific Railroad is having built, at its shops in this city, a snow plow, which, when finished, will be the largest and most powerful in the world. It is rapidly approaching completion, and in a few days will be ready for business. The trucks on which it is built are very heavy and strong, and were cast especially for this plow. The platform on the trucks is 22 feet long, and 10 feet 6 inches wide, and is composed of solid oak timbers, 8 by 16 inches. These timbers are held together by ten iron bolts, 1¼ inches in diameter, which run crosswise. This solid bed is fastened to the transom beams by forty bolts, twenty over each truck. The inclined slide, placed on the platform, is 22 feet long, and slopes at an angle of 30 degrees, and is held firmly to the bed by 40 bolts of an inch in diameter, and is supported from behind by inclined posts 6 feet long, 8 inches wide and 16 inches thick. The entire length, from the rear of the platform to the end of the slide, is 32 feet. The slide is to be ironed, and an immense plow, of the ordinary shape, 18 feet long, 11 feet wide and 5 feet high and covered with iron 3-16 of an inch thick, is to be securely fastened upon it. On the point of this plow there is to be an iron plate, steel pointed, 11 feet long and 4 feet wide. This plate, of course, runs across the track, and only one inch above it.

The rear of the platform will be boxed in, making a room 12 feet long, 11 feet wide and 10 feet high, for the purpose of keeping the snow out. It will be furnished with a door so that if necessary it can be loaded with iron.

The monster will weigh 50 tons, and will be operated by three of the heaviest engines on the read. The cost will be over $5,000. There will be but very few snow drifts that this plow won't clean out; but if it ever jumps the tracks it will be a pretty hard job to get it on again.

The Warning Has Been Heeded.

Since the exposure of the attempts made by certain unscrupulous local dealers, to palm off their coarse astringents, made from cheap and impure materials, in the place of the great national tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, public opinion has set strongly against these empiries and their preparations. Their occupation is gone, or soon will be. When the light is let into deception it soon wilts down. Persons who trifle with their own health, by using unknown preparations, with no guarantee to sustain them, when an established specific, proven by twenty years experience to be exactly what it is claimed to be, is within their reach, are sure to repent their temerity. Many have done so in this instance, but it is hoped that the truth plainly spoken has arrested the evil. In the meantime the demand for the leading protective and restorative medicine of America was never so great as it has been this season. From the fever and ague districts of the west, south west, and south, it is literally overwhelming, and it may be said of the advices from all parts of the country of the cures it is effecting in dyspepsia, billious complaints, and chronic constipation, that "their name is legion." Everywhere the sick and feeble seem to have realized the importance of "holding fast that which is good," and of avoiding what is spurious and dangerous.

The numerous "Bitters," under various names, which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, should be avoided, for their own sakes, by the sick and the public at large. Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only, and never sold in bulk.

Sozodont.

An article that is at once a teeth preserver and breath purifier, and yet so pleasant and convenient to use, its exceeding popularity does not surprise any one. Time has fully established the fact that the Sozodont possesses these excellent qualities in an eminent degree. It has legitimately acquired the right to a position upon every toilet table.

They are now manufacturing

During the past six years they have manufactured and sold

ELIAS HOWE, Jr.,

THE ORIGINAL INVENTOR OF

SEWING MACHINES,

At that time he commenced manufacturing and put the genius which invented the Sewing Machine, the experience learned from the failures of other manufacturers, and the experience of a long life as a practical mechanic into the

It is a noticeable fact that the Howe Machine Co.

HAS

FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND

The Great Fertilizer.

WHANN'S

RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE.

FARMERS who are about purchasing Fertilizers for seeding their WHEAT should by all means use WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE, which, for the past ten years, has met with unexampled success on this important crop.

Wheat grown with Whann's Phosphate has a large well filled head, stiff straw, and is far less liable to smut and rust than when grown with stable or other manures.

Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate

is a COMPLETE MANURE, containing all the elements needed by growing plants. It is rich in SOLUBLE PHOSPHATES and AMMONIA, and while it possesses the prompt and active properties of Peruvian Guano, it has the more durable qualities of Pure Dissolved Bones from which it is made.

FARMERS

Who have not yet used WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE, would do well to try it on this year's crop.—That it has no superior in the market is attested by thousands who have used it.

Pamphlets giving full directions, with testimonials, mailed free on application.

To Wheat Growers!

"EXCELSIOR."

1872. 1872.

Composed of 800 lbs. of No. 1 Peruvian Guano, and 1200 pounds of Soluble Phosphate of Lime, (bones dissolved in sulphuric acid,) Potash and Soda, Forming the most concentrated, universal and durable fertilizer ever offered to the farmers—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever durable fertilizing properties of Bones,—in fine dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling, and can be applied in any quantity, however small, per acre; and it is the opinion of many close calculating farmers, after THIRTEEN years experience in testing it side by side with other popular fertilizers, that an application of 100 pounds of Excelsior is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fertilizer or guano offered for sale, therefore is fully 100 to 200 per cent. cheaper.

☞ Look out for imitations and counterfeits. The popularity of Excelsior has induced unscrupulous parties in this and other cities to copy our trade mark, and resort to other dishonorable means to sell their worthless compounds.

☞ Farmers should see that every Bag is branded as above, with ANALYSIS and OUR NAME in RED LETTERS. All others are counterfeits.
