A TERRIBLE HURRICANE.—If the accounts of local papers are not grossly exaggerated the recent hurricane at Palazzola, Sicily, was one of the most terrible on record. In five minutes' time the town was absolutely laid in ruins, and a fearful loss of life incurred. The Syracuse Gazette declares that not a single house remains uninjured, and says: "The streets are a mass of fragments and rubbish. The incidents of the disaster are so strange as to be almost incredible.—There was a store with twenty-five hectolitres of wheat, of which not a trace is anywhere to be seen. The books of the Excise and of the Land Registry offices have vanished, and only their torn leaves have been found here and there at great distances. In one house all the copper kitchen utensils were blown through the roof; in another benches and heavy chests flew through the windows. The iron bars of one balcony are to be seen curled up one way, those of another twisted up another way. There is the pillar of a palace which has been moved forward one foot without breaking, and stands up isolated all in one piece. There is the wall of another palace which has fallen back more than three feet without a crack.—Here is the beam of one house which has thrust himself into another house. There is half a bedstead, the other half of which lies no one knows where. All the tiles of one building are huddled together in one spot on the roof, crushed and broken up small, as if they had been pounded.—The rafters of another building are all bare; the tiles have flown, no one can see where. It is all a muddle—an immense muddle. In a stable, on the bare ground, men are laying the bodies one by one as they are being dug out. Most of them are in their night-dresses, having been crushed as they were quietly sleeping. Their features and forms are so disfigured that one cannot look at them without shuddering. Their nostrils, ears, and mouths are stopped up with earth. The white dust has everywhere pierced through the skin. Here is the body of a man holding close to his heart a child, probably his own child; the skulls of both are shattered. There are two young men in each other's arms, probably brothers.—The chests and backs of both are crushed. Near them is another youth, covered with blood. He was a clerk in a Government office. He has his eye-glass still stuck in his right eye. He was probably reading or writing when he was struck.—There are some mauled past recognition. Others seem unhurt, and look as if they were sleeping." The dead alone number thirty-two in all, and many besides were seriously injured.

THE ARREST OF JAY GOULD.—Jay Gould, the deposed President of the Erie Railroad Company, was arrested in New York on Friday of last week, upon a warrant sworn to by P. H. Watson, president of the Erie directory, and H. N. Smith, one of the directors of the Tenth National Bank of New York, upon a charge of embezzling $8,726,551 belonging to the Erie Company. The arrest is attributed by the friends of Gould to the "cornering" of the common stock of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad Company, which, it asserted, grew out of stock operations, and the severance of old and the formation of new speculative ties by men notorious in the annals of Wall street, who, having preyed upon the unfortunate "outsider" in Wall street for so long a time, have exhausted their resources, and, having no other game have fallen upon one another, and to whom Smith, the late partner of Gould, is said to be opposed. The offenses charged date from August, 1868, to the 22d of November, 1872, during which time Smith, one of the affiants, was a partner of Jay Gould, and the information upon which the warrant was obtained is said to have been derived from the books of that concern. On the other hand, it is asserted by President Watson that his information was not completed concerning Jay Gould's transactions until Thursday night, the day previous to the arrest, and that, therefore, the theory adopted by Gould's friends is not correct. S. L. M. Barlow, one of the Erie directors, also states that valuable information which they had just been able to obtain from the books of Smith, Gould, Martin & Co., led to the arrest at this time; that information showed that Gould has personally robbed the Erie road of $10,000,000. Mr. Barlow added that Gould was concerned with August Schell, Horace F. Clarke and others, in a gigantic stock speculation, in which $100,000,000 is staked, Gould's interest being $15,000,000. Another Erie director said this was but the first installment of revelations to be made. Gould gave bail for $1,000,000, Augustus Schell and Horace F. Clarke entering for $500,000 each, and he was then released by the Sheriff.

THE TRIBUNE'S "CONCLUSIONS."—The general result of our late Presidential election indicates that

First. That objections to Gen. Grant's rule originally urged by Senator's Sumner, Schurz, Trumbull, &c., were forcible and well grounded. Many of the most respectable of the journals which, on either side of the Atlantic, vigorously urged the President's re-election, now insist that the abuses thus proclaimed must be acknowledged and corrected; some of them demand, in addition to the reforms specifically promised at Philadelphia, others still more radical and thorough.

Second. But, where thousands admitted that the criticisms aforesaid were just, far fewer were ready to accept the only alternative presented. They say they would have supported Adams, or Davis, or Trumbull, but not Greeley.—Hence the vote is quite light, even in States and districts where the contest was spirited.

Third. The great mass of our people feel no sympathy for those they still regard as rebels. On the contrary, they hold that these have been treated more leniently than they deserve. The majority will tolerate, not approve, the gift of office to a Longstreet, an Akerman, a Settle, who has been baptized into the Republican church; but they are not willing that any others shall hold office where they can prevent it.

Fourth. Whichever party carries in October two of the three central States, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Indiana, is morally certain to choose the President in November. There has been no exception to this rule, save in 1824, when Jackson carried Pennsylvania and Indiana, and had a plurality of the electors chosen, but Adams was elected by the House.

Fifth. These two States having gone for Grant in October, not only was the contest virtually given up in the North, but thousands of the so-called rebels went over to Grant, believing this their shortest way to perfect Reconstruction—that is, to secure for themselves a practical equality of rights with other citizens.—Thus General Kershaw, of South Carolina, at one time urged his fellow-rebels to run no ticket against Grant, as this would enable them to appeal with effect for Federal sympathy as against their rascally State rulers.

NEARLY all the mules at Delaware City used in towing on the canal (75 in number) have got the epizootic.

HOW THE ELECTORAL VOTE IS CAST.—The Presidential electors chosen on Tuesday the 5th, are required by law to meet on the first Wednesday in December, at such place as the Legislature of each State has directed, which is generally the capital of the State, and there give their votes. They are required to make and sign and seal up three seperate certificates of their votes, and to certify on the cover or envelope containing each of said certificates, that a list of the votes for President and Vice-President is contained therein. Each of these packets is also to contain a certified list of the electors of the State. One of the packages so sealed and certified is to be sent by the hand of one of the electors to the President of the Senate of the United States; one of them is to be forthwith deposited in the postoffice, also directed to the President of the Senate; and the third is to be delivered to the United States Judge for the district in which the electors have assembled to cast their votes. The first mentioned of these packages is required to be delivered to the President of the Senate before the first Wednesday of the succeeding January. The law further provides that Congress shall be in session on the second Wednesday in February succeeding every meeting of the Presidential electors, when the said packages containing the votes shall be opened, the votes counted, and the person who shall fill the offices of President and Vice-President shall be ascertained and declared, agreeably to the Constitution.

GRAND LODGE OF GOOD TEMPLARS.—The fifth annual session of the Grand Lodge of Good Templars of the State of Maryland met in Port Deposit, at 10½ o'clock, A. M., on the 20th. instant, Rev. T. L. Poulson, G. W. C. T. of the State, presided. There was a large representation from the several subordinate lodges, and it was a session of intense interest. The question of the defalcation of the late secretary, Robert F. Ross, excited a great deal of feeling and discussion, which resulted in resolutions of unqualified denunciation, and in a declaration of his entire unworthiness of confidence.

St. Michael's, Talbot county, was selected as the next place of annual meeting, and the fourth Wednesday of October, 1873, fixed as the time for the same.

The following named persons were elected to fill the several offices of the Grand Lodge for the ensuing year, viz: G. W. C. T., Alfred D. Evans, of Baltimore; G. W. Councillor, Rev. T. E. Martindale, of Port Deposit; G. W. V. T., Miss Roberta H. Stevenson, of Port Deposit; G. W. Secretary, Miss E. M. Steele, of Hagerstown; G. W. Treasurer, Samuel L. King, of Hagertown; G. W. Chaplain, Rev. Wm. M. Ferguson, Unionville, Frederick county; G. W. Marshal, A. G. Mathiot, of Baltimore.

A BROTHER OF DR. LIVINGSTONE VISITS STANLEY.—Mr. John Livingstone, brother of the African explorer, arrived in New York on Sunday from Canada, on a visit to Mr. Stanley. The meeting was mutually highly agreeable. Mr. Stanley at once stated to Mr. Livingstone that he strikingly resembled his brother, which Mr. Livingstone said was very true. The conversation naturally turned on Dr. Livingstone, whom Stanley described as hale and robust. The "Amoozin" negro boy, who was Dr. Livingstone's waiter, was informed of the relationship, and commenced to imitate peculiarities of Dr Livingstone, convincing Mr. Livingstone that he was familiar with the manners of his brother.

DAMAGE TO THE SUGAR CROP.—The New Orleans Picayune of the 19th says:

"It is now beyond doubt that the late cold spell hos done immense damage to the sugar cane. As far down as the parish of St. Charles, we are reliably informed that there was ice on Friday and Saturday night a quarter of an inch thick.—Even in the parish of Plaquemines the weather was so cold that the top of the cane is certainly killed. In the upper parishes the damage must have beee very great."

SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS.—Theodore Tilton, in his "Personal Retrospect of the Campaign," pays this tribute to Southern democrats: "Many of the extremest democrats, whom I had traditionally disliked since 1856, emerged upon me like shining stars through the darkness with which I had ignorantly clouded their names."—Many other Northern men would "come to" on the subject of Southerners generally if they were not ignorant for want of contact with their countrymen of that section.

GEN. GRANT'S NEXT BATTLE.—The Boston Transcript says: "It is becoming probable that the President will have to fight Congressmen holding on to their patronage (?) to enforce civil service reform Let him go into the battle fearlessly; hosts of the people will back him." And it may be added that the battle will test his fighting qualities better than any other contest he ever went into.

The Warning Has Been Heeded.

Since the exposure of the attempts made by certain unscrupulous local dealers, to palm off their coarse astringents, made from cheap and impure materials, in the place of the great national tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, public opinion has set strongly against these empirics and their preparations. Their occupation is gone, or soon will be. When the light is let into deception it soon wilts down. Persons who trifle with their own health, by using unknown preparations, with no guarantee to sustain them, when an established specific, proven by twenty years experience to be exactly what it is claimed to be, is within their reach, are sure to repent their temerity. Many have done so in this instance, but it is hoped that the truth plainly spoken has arrested the evil. In the meantime the demand for the leading protective and restorative medicine of America was never so great as it has been this season. From the fever and ague districts of the west, south west, and south, it is literally overwhelming, and it may be said of the advices from all parts of the country of the cures it is effecting in dyspepsia, billious complaints, and chronic constipation, that "their name is legion." Everywhere the sick and feeble seem to have realized the importance of "holding fast that which is good," and of avoiding what is spurious and dangerous.

The numerous "Bitters," under various names, which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitute for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, should be avoided, for their own sakes, by the sick and the public at large. Hostetter's Bitters are procurable in bottles only, and never sold in bulk.

The Great Fertilizer.

WHANN'S

RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE.

FARMERS who are about purchasing Fertilizers for seeding their WHEAT should by all means use WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE, which, for the past ten years, has met with unexampled success on this important crop.

Wheat grown with Whann's Phosphate has a large well filled head, stiff straw, and is far less liable to smut and rust than when grown with stable or other manures.

Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate

is a COMPLETE MANURE, containing all the elements needed by growing plants. It is rich in SOLUBLE PHOSPHATES and AMMONIA, and while it possesses the prompt and active properties of Peruvian Guano, it has the more durable qualities of Pure Dissolved Bones from which it is made.

FARMERS

Who have not yet used WHANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE, would do well to try it on this year's crop.—That it has no superior in the market is attested by thousands who have used it.

Pamphlets giving full directions, with testimonials, mailed free on application.
