ASTOUNDING DISCLOSURES!

Pomeroy's Attempt to Buy Out the Senate—The Old Man Completely Broken Down—The Speech Which Crushed him.

The telegraph has already informed us of the unanimous defeat of Senator Pomeroy as a candidate for re-election to the U. S. Senate for Kansas. It has also given us the information that this overwhelming defeat was accomplished through the exposure of an attempt of Pomeroy's to purchase legislators like sheep. The scene was one actually dramatic in its character. Everything had been apparently "set up" to secure Pomeroy's return, but when the two houses met in joint session, there was a dead hush, as Senator York, who had been depended on by the partisans of Pomeroy, arose and said:

Before I place in nomination the name of any man, I have a short explanation to make, as it concerns all here present, and is of great import to the State of Kansas, present and future. I desire the close attention of the members of the Convention to what I have to say. Two weeks ago yesterday I came to Topeka a sound and earnest anti-Pomeroy man. I thought that in his defeat laid the regeneration of the State and party, and I cheerfully and enthusiastically allied myself with the anti-Pomeroy element in the Legislature. Gross charges had been made against Senator Pomeroy, in connection with a certain well-known letter to W. W. Ross. These charges had assumed a serious form in a meeting of the anti-Pomeroy caucus, a few evenings ago, when a man by the name of Clark exhibited $2,000 in twenty $100 bills, declaring that he had received the same from Mr. Pomeroy for signing a confession to the effect that he had forged the letter and the signature thereto. I had no evidence as to the truth of these charges, but Mr. Pomeroy's name having been associated with so many rumors of a similar nature, made me give this report credence, though I had no desire to condemn Mr. Pomeroy without hearing. When I came here I had been waited upon at various times by friends of Mr. Pomeroy, who plied me with all gruments in favor of his pre-eminent friends for the position, and attestations of innocence of the charges brought against him. I was asked several times to have an interview with Mr. Pomeroy, and finally consented, if this interview could take place in the presence of a third party.—Mr. Pomeroy assented to the presence of one or any number of my friends. Accordingly, on Friday last I waited upon Mr. Pomeroy, and there, in the presence of Captain Peck and two others, we had a brief conversation. After a general talk about his prospects, and other matters relating to the campaign I put to him the question direct. "Did you or did you not write the letter signed with your name and directed to W. W. Ross and having reference to certain profits in Indian goods?" in reply he handed to me the affidavits of J. B. Stewart and one signed by several citizens of Lawrence, and asked me to read them and say whether I thought he was the author of the letter. I replied, "Mr. Pomeroy, you have not said whether or not you did write that Ross letter." He answered, "I did not write the letter." I then said to him, "Mr. Pomeroy, you are the most infamous scoundrel that ever walked the earth or the worst defamed man that ever stepped on Kansas soil." Here the interview ended, and, as I supposed, all relation between Mr. Pomeroy and myself; but a day or two afterward I was importuned to accord to Mr. Pomeroy a private interview. At this time it became apparent to several of the anti-Pomeroy members that illicit and criminal means were being employed to secure Mr. Pomeroy's re-election and it became us, as far as lay in our power, to circumvent the employment of them. I consulted with the tried and trusted friends of this movement, Messrs. Simpson, Wilson, Johnson and others, as to the course I should pursue and upon their advice I acted. I visited Mr. Pomeroy's rooms in the dark and secret recesses of the Tafft House on Monday night, and at that interview my vote was bargained for a consideration of $8,000, $2,000 of which were paid to me on that evening, $5,000 the next afternoon and a promise of the additional $1,000 when my vote had been cast in his favor. I now, in the presence of this honorable body, hand over the amount of $7,000 just as I received it, and ask that it be counted by the Secretary.

(The speaker advanced and placed upon the Chief Clerk's desk two parcels of money, one open and amounting to $2,000, and a brown paper parcel tied with twine, which, upon examination, was found to contain $5,000 in greenbacks of large denomination.) I ask, Mr. President, that money be used to defray the expenses of prosecuting the investigation of S. C. Pomeroy for bribery and corruption, as my limited influence extends in deed as well as in thought. I have an aged parent whose life has been spared to bless me with her love and her approval of the conduct of my life. I have a wife and little ones to whom I hope to bequeath a name which, however obscure, they may have no reason to blush to hear pronounced.—Yet this corrupt old man comes to me and makes a bargain for my soul, and makes a proposition to me which, if accepted in the faith and spirit in which it is offered, will make my children go through life with hung heads and burning cheeks at every mention of the name of him who begot them.

Earth has no infamy more damnable than corruption; no criminal more to be execrated than he who corrupts the representatives of the people in furtherance of his private interests. I demand, Mr. President and gentlemen, that the actions of S. C. Pomeroy in this contest be thoroughly examined, and that the corruption money that lies upon that table be the instrument of retribution in prosecuting that investigation. I further demand that this body give to-day such an expression of their sentiments in this matter that the regeneracy of our young Commonwealth may be proclaimed throughout the land, and that Kansas may stand erect add free among the States of the Union—pure among the purest, and honored throughout the world. The statements I have made are but partial and incomplete. The hour or two that I passed in the den of infamy, in the Tafft House, let in upon my mind such a flood of enlightenment as to the detestable practices of the Kansas politician, that I have no words in which to express the knowledge I gained of the depth of degradation a pure Republican government has reached. The disclosures then made to me implicate the most prominent and respectable men in Kansas. I learned from Mr. Pomeroy's lips that his spies and emissaries were working in our caucuses to sell us out. These disclosures I will not now make; they are sufficient to satisfy me that the most conscienceless, infamous betrayer of the solemn trust reposed in him by the will of the people, is S. C. Pomeroy. I have been actuated by no malice, personal and vindictive, in my action today. I have not made the fight on Mr. Pomeroy in Mr. Ingall's interest, in Mr. Lowe's or Mr. Harvey's interest, but in behalf of the betrayed and long-suffering people of this Commonwealth, and in furtherance of the solemn oath I took when I entered these halls as a representative of the people. As to the truth of what I have stated in the presence of this august and honorable body of representatives of the sovereign people, and before the Almighty Ruler of the Universe, I solemnly declare and affirm that every word I have spoken is God's truth, and nothing but the truth.

IMPROVEMENT OF ELK RIVER, MD.—The Secretary of War has sumitted to Congress a report of the officers of the engineer department on the subject of the improvement of Elk river, Maryland, petitioned by the citizens of Cecil county. The improvement proposed is a channel seventy-five feet wide at bottom and seven feet deep at low water, from Elkton to Cedar Point, and a similar channel fifty feet wide from Cedar Point to Partridge's wharf, at a cost of about $28,000. The town of Elkton is situated in Cecil county, about one mile above the confluence of Big and Little Elk creeks, which form the Elk river. Tidewater in Big Elk creek extends to Elkton; both of these creeks furnish fine water power, the fall being considerable. The report shows that Elkton contains manufacturing establishments of various kinds, rolling mills, paper mills, &c., and that the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad is the only means of transportation, because both of the creeks are obstructed by bars. Heavy and bulky articles suffer from the high rate of freight necessarily charged by the railroad. The population of Elkton is 2,000, with a number of stores and a trade of $500,000 annually. Navigation has heretofore been open to Elkton, but the obstruction was formed by the sinking of two barges loaded with granite, upon which a bar has formed. The large trade of the surrounding country would be greatly benefitted by the improvement.

THE ANNUAL SESSION OF THE GRAND LODGE OF MARYLAND, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, which commenced in Baltimore on Tuesday, January 28th, was closed at 1.15 o'clock on Friday morning, January 31st. The new constitution for the Grand Lodge, as also one for the government of subordinate lodges, was adopted. The first named constitution requires to be approved by the committee of the Supreme Lodge on laws and supervision before it goes into effect; the other, for the subordinate lodges, becomes operative immediately.

By a provision of the constitution, the election for grand officers will take place in the subordinate lodges on the last meeting night of each lodge in the month of December of the present year, but if no election then is had, the duty of electing such officers devolves on the Grand Lodge, at the convention to be held on the fourth Tuesday of January, 1874.—The per capita tax every six months was fixed at 20 cents for each member. The new constitution does away with semi-annual sessions, and by a vote of the Grand Lodge previous to adjournment, the next convention will be held in Baltimore city on the fourth Tuesday of January, 1874.

A DOLEFUL SOUND FROM THE TOMBS.—The murderers awaiting trial in the Tombs prison, New York, are said to be struck with consternation at the refusal of Gov. Dix, of that State, to commute the sentence of death of John Gaffney for the murder, in Buffalo, of Patrick Fahey, to imprisonment for life. A large number of citizens of Buffalo made the application for a commutation of the sentence, animated by sympathy for the young family of the condemned. Governor Dix says that he had the benefit of able counsel and was found guilty by a jury, after a careful deliberation on the testimony, and that the Court of Appeals, upon a review of the record of his trial, found no error of law in the proceedings or the verdict, but while he expresses sympathy for his family, adds: "I cannot forget that our sympathy is equally due to the friends of the victim, who was hurried without a moment's warning into eternity, and to the orderly members of society whose lives are in daily peril from the alarming prevalence of murder. I am willing to have it understood that circumstances of a very extraordinary nature will be needed to induce me to interpose for the purpose of annulling the deliberate and well considered determinations of courts and juries."

THE PENSION ROLLS.—The New York Tribune, commenting on the action of the House on Thursday in restoring the names of Southern pensioners of the war of 1812, says:

"The House was manly and generous, yesterday, in restoring to their place on the pension rolls the Southern survivors of the war of 1812. That they should have been stricken off that brief role in a moment of patriotic passion was natural enough, even though it may not have been certain that they voluntarily sympathized with that rebellion; but it is too late now to discuss what peculiar views these aged veterans of another war had in 1862. Nobody will taunt Messrs. Butler, Bingham and Willard with having courage to say now for Southern men good words they would not have dared to say during the late campaign. We are heartily glad that these gentlemen can honestly declare there is no longer any use in polishing up the memories of the rebellion in order to keep them bright."

THE DEATH OF COMMODORE M. F. MAURY.—Matthew Fontaine Maury, LL. D., died at Lexington, Virginia, on Saturday, the 31st of January, in the 67th year of his age. At the time of his death he was professor of physics in the Virginia Military Institute. It is not extravagant to say that in the death of Commodore Maury science has lost one of its most mature and creative minds. Devoted to the investigation of physical science from early manhood, he has given to it the assiduous labor of a strong intellect, and he has added, perhaps, more to the progress of its development than any of his cotemporaries. As an astronomer and hydrographer, his works are of the best authority.

GOV. DIX'S APPOINTMENTS.—There is a good deal of dissatisfaction in New York with Gov. Dix's appointments for that city. Even the Times condemns his nominations for harbor masters. The State Senate has rejected three of the Governor's nominations for port wardens and six of those for harbor masters, among the latter the solitary nomination that was made in compliance with the wishes of the New York shipping interest.

The Only Remedy.

Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be speedily abated, as a single bottle of the fragrant Sozodont will unmistakably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. THE

Howe Machine COMPANY

Are now able from their increased facilities for manufacture to offer their

IMPROVED SEWING MACHINES,

ON THE MOST ADVANTAGEOUS TERMS.

They are now manufacturing

SIX HUNDRED DAILY.

During the past six years they have manufactured and sold which attests the great popularity of this unequalled machine. Until the year 1865

400,000

ELIAS HOWE, Jr.,

THE ORIGINAL INVENTOR OF

SEWING MACHINES,

Did not compete with Companies who were paying him royalty for the use of his patents. At that time he commenced manufacturing and put the genius which invented the Sewing Machine, the experience learned from the failures of other manufacturers, and the experience of a long life as a practical mechanic into the

HOWE MACHINE.

It is a noticeable fact that the

Howe Machine Co. HAS FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND

of their Machines in use, although having existed but SIX YEARS, while the Company which claims to have the most in use, has only about twice that number, though having existed for TWENTY YEARS.

A. M. GUDGEN,

CHESTERTOWN,

Will sell on credit or lease on Monthly Payments, and offers such easy terms that every one can afford to have a

HOWE SEWING MACHINE.

He will spare neither pains nor expense to give his customers complete satisfaction.

He sells at New York prices and does not charge Fifteen Dollars in advance as some rival agents are doing.

JUST PUBLISHED A NEW EDITION OF
Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay

on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhœa, or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, Consumption, Epilepsy and Fits, Induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.

Price, in a sealed envelope, only 6 cts.

The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

THIS LECTURE should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land.

Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.

Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 50 cents.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is widely known as one of the most effectual remedies ever discovered for cleansing the system and purifying the blood. It has stood the test of years, with a constantly growing reputation, based on its intrinsic virtues, and sustained by its remarkable cures. So mild as to be safe and beneficial to children, and yet so searching as to effectually purge out the great corruptions of the blood, such as the scrofulous and syphilitic contamination. Impurities, of diseases that have lurked in the system for years, soon yield to this powerful antidote and disappear. Hence its wonderful cures, many of which are publicly known, of Scrofula, and all scrofulous diseases, Ulcers, Eruptions, and eruptive disorders of the skin, Tumors, Blotches, Boils, Pimples, Pustules, Sores, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, and internal Ulcerations of the Uterus, Stomach, and Liver. It also cures other complaints, to which it would not seem especially adapted, such as Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Fits, Neuralgia, Heart Disease, Female Weakness, Debility, and Leucorrhœa, when they are manifestations of the scrofulous poisons.

It is an excellent restorer of health and strength in the spring. By renewing the appetite and vigor of the digestive
