GIVE THE PULLETS ALL THE AT-TENTION THAT IS POSSIBLE AND ALL THE FEED THEY CAN CONSUME

There are a great many pullets that are old enough and that are big and healthy enough to lay, but there are, at the same time, very few that are laying. This is applicable more to the larger breeds than the leghorn types, many of which are and have been laying irregularly for several months. At the Queen Anne Poultry Farm and at the Bramble Poultry Farm the Aprilhatched pullets have been laying for some time. But what of the heavier breeds, like the Rocks, Reds, etc. At Chestertown, the latter place named above our Barred Rock pullets have just commenced to lay, they being about eight months old. It will be about two months beperhaps a little better, although one developed by any means. But this time to catch up with all the peowas an exceptional case and what ple you have been meaning to the average heavy hen, the country who won't be expecting a greetover, will lay in about ten months or ing card from you. Make up a little more, and all this talk about your list to-day. Scatter sunullets laying in five and six months shine with Christmas Cards. instances like above recorded or disrepresentation.

The pullets that are laying now, or real geese that lay the golden eggsthe exceptionally backward, slow-tolay, and then only spasmodically, are but dross, the floating, drifting wasters

Have a deep litter of straw now and sending it in to us. in the poultry house and throw the grain in this litter. All the birds will soon get the habit of scratching for the grain-especially after hunger drives the lazy ones to it. There are a lot of pullets just like human beings that D' would never do a stroke of work unless necessity makes them. Necessity does, of course, make the human kind seek Chestertown Junk Dealers + an occupation, and so it behooves us to make our fowls seek a regular occupation and not stand around in idleness between the mears. We want the birds on the go as near all the time as possible. If hens are on unrestricted range a great part of them will rustle about and get some of their food-necessity has made them do it. But if confined to limited yard room they will have to be made to exercise. The morning feed should be a

Rev. G. W. Bounds gave a very in-Church Tuesday evening, title, "The Old Maid's Prayer or Wanted a Man." Subject was "An Ideal Man." Most of our farmers are butchering their hogs, but there are quite a lot of corn fields unhusked.

List Your Repair Needs

It would be hard to find a farmer who at some time or another had not lost valuable time waiting for necesgetting too lean. If you give them all sary repair parts. Take this territory they want they will grow and produce and total up the time lost in this way sufficiently to more than pay for the and it will astonish you. And all because repairs are not odered as early s they should be.

There is no better time than right the reader must bear in mind that the on the farm—to go over your machbirds should be made to work for it ines carefully, make a list of repairs and not allowed to stand back of the you are likely to need and send it to buildings out of the wind and only us.
