AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

The Good Time Coming.

Mr. Harris, in his "Walks and Talks on the Farm," in the March number of the "AGRICULTURIST," makes the following comforting prediction of farmers:

We are going to have better times for farmers in the near future. And now is the time to prepare for them. Get the land ready. Make it clean, and get it into clover and grass. It will then be gaining in fertility, and when the good time comes—as come they certainly will—this land can be plowed with a reasonable prospect of producing a good crop. But if you continue to plow as many acres, and undertake to work it with less labor, the chances are that you will get meager crops, and the land will become more and more weedy, and when the good time comes for corn to bring a dollar a bushel where it now sells for 20 cents, and pork and beef bring 10 cents per pound, live weight, where they now bring 3 cents, you will have little to sell. It will rain porridge, but your dish will not be ready to catch it. History, experience, observation and common sense all demonstrate that good times never come to poor farmers. If you cannot do anything else toward improving your farm the coming season, let me urge you at any rate to make an earnest effort to kill the weeds. This alone would add millions to the wealth of the country.

TRANSPLANTING IN THE NIGHT.—A gentleman, says the Western Ruralist, anxious to ascertain the effect of transplanting at night, instead of by day, made an experiment with the following results:

He transplanted ten cherry trees while in bloom, commencing at four o'clock in the afternoon, planting one each hour until one o'clock in the morning. Those transplanted during the daylight shed their blossoms, producing little or no fruit, while those planted in the dark maintained their condition fully. He did the same with ten dwarf trees, after the fruit was one-third grown. Those transplanted during the day shed their fruit; those transplanted during the night perfected their crop, and showed no injury from having been removed. With each of these trees he removed some earth with the roots. The incident is fully vouched for; and if a few more similar experiments produce a like result, it will be a strong argument to horticulturists, etc., to do such work at night.

POTASH IN DIFFERENT KINDS OF ASHES.—A correspondent of the Country Gentleman gives the following table, showing the amount of potash contained in 1,000 pounds of ashes, made from burning different kinds of wood:

Pine	¼	pounds.
Poplar	¾	"
Beech	1½	"
Maple	4	"
Wheat Straw	4	"
Corn Stalks	17	"
Oak Leaves	24	"
Stems of Potatoes	55	"
Worm Wood	73	"
Sunflower Stalks	19	"
Oak	24	"
Beech Bark	6	"

The remaining portion of the ash, consisting of carbonate and phosphate of lime, iron manganeso, alumina and silica, is an excellent fertilizer.

CULTURE OF CRANBERRIES.—Where do all the cranberries come from, is a question often asked; and, on investigation, we are fairly astonished to witness the remarkable amount of business now transacted in this small fruit. To those having low lands, useless for any other purpose, the cranberry, once planted, often yields the possessor a greater profit than any similar area of other crops on the same farm.

The consumption of this fruit is extending rapidly into all parts of the world; is becoming more a household necessity. New Jersey raises the largest bulk of cranberries in the country, employing about six thousand acres for the purpose, the value of the crop raised on which last year was $600,000. The whole cranberry crop of the country is estimated at about $1,500,000. Massachusetts raises not less than ten thousand barrels a year.—Within the past five years Wisconsin has made rapid progress in the culture of the cranberry, and the crop in that State last year is estimated at $300,000. The average price per barrel of this fruit is ten dollars, Cape Cod cranberries commanding the highest price. The fruit raised on the Cape is the best of its kind in the world. It is exported largely to England and finds its way to the Queen's dinner-table.

THE IMPORTANCE OF ASSORTING FRUIT. A correspondent in the Journal of the Farm, writing on this subject, very truthfully says:

"A walk through our markets will convince any one that our fruit growers are sadly negligent of their interests in the matter of properly assorting their products before sending them to market. A dealer informed us that he once had a consignment of twenty-five boxes of peaches, on which the consignor had placed a certain price. After trying hard to make a sale without success, he picked out ten baskets of the very best and had no difficulty in selling them for very nearly as much as the consignor demanded for the whole number."

MAKING MEN FISH.—A French inventor has patented an apparatus for swimmers. For the hands he has a large membranous fin, which is held in its place by loops passing over the fingers and a strap around the waist. The surface presented to the water by these fins is so large as to add greatly to the effectiveness of the strokes of the arm, but not so large as to exhaust the muscular power. Their effect is to reduce very much the effort required to swim without them. But the greatest ingenuity is displayed in the form and fitness of the fins for the legs, which are attached to the ankles, and so formed that they act upon the water, both in the movement of bringing the legs together and throwing them back. They act so finely in "treading water," as swimmers call it, that one can really walk, if not on the water, at least in it. The difference between swimming with this apparatus and without it, is very much like the difference between rowing a boat with the blade of the oar. The old swimmer has no trouble in using the fins at first, and is surprised to find with what ease he can swim without exhaustion. He easily swims twice as fast with the apparatus as without it, and he can sustain himself for hours on the water, or swim miles with it.

A YOUNG man in Franklin, Ohio, calculates that during a period of five years, he walked 13,253 miles in visiting his sweetheart.

MISCELLANEOUS.

New Political Definitions.

Height of impudence—Hiding one's speculations behind a wife's petticoats—Henry Wilson.

Forgetful indignation—Sending back a dividend and forgetting to explain the matter.—James A. Garfield.

Honest legislators—Taking stock when only worth $94 per share, and sending it back when worth $257, with dividends.

Congressional morality—Denying a fact on the stump and owning up to it when cornered with the evidence.—Henry Dawes.

Influence—Interviewing Geo. F. Train and Oakes Ames in relation to taking Credit Mobilier stock, and thinking they would pour money into his lap without anything expected in return.—James A. Garfield.

National Banker—A man who loans money to and receives money from Congressmen without security, only for form's sake.—Oakes Ames.

A good Father in-law—One who allows his son-in-law to make a good thing in stocks when he is one of the Directors.—James Brooks.

Moral Cowards—Taking stock and dividends, and when investigation is talked of, send both back.—Bingham and others.

Benevolence—Buying stock of Ames and when inestigation is talked of, and Ames is getting into hot water, surrendering $500.—Schuyler Colfax.

Rather Mixed—Applying $10,000 towards an election for Senator, all in a legitimate way.

Mature Reflection—Congressmen revise their own sworn testimony before a secret investigation when the oath of secresy is removed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

MINING IN MEXICO.—Mining in Mexico seems to have been improving for the last three or four years. The annual coinage is now about $22,000,000, and the production is probably about the same, for the smuggling of silver bars has been very slight lately. The yield of the country just before the revolt against Spain had risen to $25,000,000, and was still, as it had been for two centuries before, steadily increasing; but the civil war was followed immediately by a great decline, and the standard of 1808 has never since been reached. Sometimes the yield has not been more than $10,000,000, and the average for the last sixty-five years has probably not been over $16,000,000.

LEGISLATION AGAINST STRIKES.—Illinois has a new law which is intended to prevent strikes and oppressive combinations of capital or labor. It provides severe penalties for the common methods resorted to by employers and laborers, namely, threats, intimidation or forcible interference with the rights of employers and workmen to make such contracts as they see fit. The strikes in Chicago since the great fire there, and by which building was interrupted and much difficulty ensued, have led to the enactment of this law. It makes aggressive strikers guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine and imprisonment.

HOW IT GOT THERE.—There was great merit in the explanation of the gentlemanly person who was found going from a neighbor's henroost with a plump rooster in his hat. "Golly," said he, "that's queer—how d'you s'pose he got there? Must have crawled up my trowsers leg." It's a little remarkable though that this theory has not suggested itself to some of the gentlemen lately found with Credit Mobilier stock on their hands. It might have crawled up their trowsers legs—and no doubt did. That's easy now. Why not say so?—N. Y. Tribune.

TO FARMERS!

"EXCELSIOR."

1873 1873

Composed of 800 lbs. of No. 1 Peruvian Guano, and 1200 pounds of Soluble Phosphate of Lime, (bones dissolved in sulphuric acid,) Potash and Soda,

Forming the most concentrated, universal and durable fertilizer ever offered to the farmer—combining all the stimulating qualities of Peruvian Guano, and the ever durable fertilizing properties of Bones. Excelsior is in fine, dry powder, prepared expressly for drilling, and can be applied in any quantity, however small, per acre; and it is the opinion of many close calculating farmers, after FOURTEEN years experience in testing it side by side with other popular fertilizers, that an application of 100 pounds of Excelsior is equal to from 200 to 300 pounds of any other fertilizer or guano offered for sale, therefore is fully 100 to 200 per cent. cheaper.

☞ Look out for imitations and counterfeits. The popularity of Excelsior has induced unscrupulous parties in this and other cities to copy our trade mark, and resort to other dishonorable means to sell their worthless compounds.

☞ Farmers should see that every Bag is branded as above, with ANALYSIS and OUR NAME in RED LETTERS. All others are counterfeits.

WHEAT FLOUR of all Grades,

HORSE FEED, &c., &c.,

which he is determined to sell at reduced prices.

He only wants to make the regular toll, and will be compelled to sell for Cash only as his capital is small and he does not intend to keep books.

He will use all means to make the Mill a public convenience as well as a source of profit. A trial is all he asks.

Most respectfully,
SAMUEL A. ANTHONY.

THE EUREKA

FANNING MILL.

THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY!

Farmers Look to Your Interest!

THE attention of Farmers and Mechanics is particularly directed to the combined economy, utility and practicability of the Eureka Mill, and to the many other advantages it possesses over every other Fanning Mill which has been introduced to the public.

It is the fruit of long and patient investigation by the inventor, who has made it his constant study for over twenty years. He has secured several patents for Mills, and has always been rewarded with the best of success. But not feeling satisfied with his former attainments, he determined to reach the climax, and he now believes that his new invention will warrant him in exclaiming in the joy of his heart, like the philosopher, Phythagoras—EUREKA!—signifying in the Grecian language, "I have found it." This has given the name to this new Mill.

In this Mill are all the former improvements to which have been added several more, adding still greater advantages than were at first anticipated, or even thought possible by the inventor himself. It embraces the three great essentials necessary in every invention:

It combines ECONOMY, UTILITY and PRACTICABILITY!

THE "EUREKA" MILL

Is small and lighter, and is capable of doing more and better work in a given time than any other Mill ever invented.

IT IS THE ONLY MILL

that will successfully remove from wheat all such pests as Cockle, Garlic, Oats, Rye, &c.

Should an extra quality of grain for seed or grinding purposes be required, it can be so arranged as to catch in one box perfect grain, and in the other, grain fit for market or mill. Here is made a great saving usually lost sight of: for nearly one quarter of the grain cleaned in the common Mills is lost when sown, on account of shrunken kernels and inferior grain. The Eureka Mill saves all this, and gives seed every kernel of which will grow when put into the ground, and this saving will, in a short time, pay for the Mill.

HINES & BURCHINAL,

Chestertown, Maryland.

Owners of the Mill, are having them manufactured at the Sash Factory and Planing Mill of Noland & Co., Port Deposit, Md., which is a guarantee that they will be put up in the best manner. je17-tf.
